Senate To Vote On British Loan This Afternoon

Agreement Comes after Stormy Debate; Amendments Are Rejected

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The Senate agreed tonight after a stormy debate to vote at 3 p. m. (EST) tomorrow on final passage of the $3,750,000,000 British loan bill.

The unanimous agreement came after Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) previously had failed to obtain such a pact and had urged senators to remain in session in an attempt to pass the measure tonight.

Sen. Morse (R-Ore), who blocked the first attempts, later withdrew his objection and the hour was fixed.

With the administration in complete control, the Senate voted down one opposition amendment to the loan bill after another until it ran into a snag at 6 p. m. (EST).

Sen. Langer (R-ND) took the floor then and held it for nearly four hours. When he had subsided, Barkley tried to get an agreement for the vote tomorrow.

Morse objected at that time, but later withdrew his protest after Barkley indicated the Senate might spend the rest of the night on the bill.

Before the Senate quit at 10:45 p. m., Barkley promised Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) that when the loan bill is disposed of, he will move to bring up immediate labor control legislation now pending on the calendar.

When Morse and Sen. Revercomb (R-WVa) said they want the Senate to meet Saturday in order to speed consideration of such a measure Barkley told them he would know by noon tomorrow whether such a course is practical.

Langer ranged far and wide in his speech, covering such varied subjects as foreign policy, surplus property disposal and the climate in California.

Of these, only California got a good word. He said the Golden State beat most any place he ever saw except North Dakota and maybe Idaho.

Langer held an audience in the galleries—they were half-filled in the early evening hours, but most of the senators left. A count at 8:30 p. m., showed only seven on the floor.

From 1939 census records, Langer read the assessed property value of each state with a few appropriate comments. His purpose was to show the British loan is larger than the value of "every piece of land, every cow, every horse, every sheep (bang on the desk) in (take your pick) state."

William Cabell Bruce Dies at Baltimore Home

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP) —William Cabell Bruce, a Pulitzer prize-winning biographer, staunch advocate of repeal and Democratic United States senator from Maryland from 1923 to 1929, died at his Baltimore home today at the age of 86.

He had been in failing health for many months and his death was not unexpected.

About ten years ago, Bruce retired from the public affairs in which he had played a prominent role for nearly forty years.

An attorney, he chose public life rather than private practice because, he said, it gave him more time for his library and his literary work. He made an extensive study of Benjamin Franklin and won the Pulitzer prize in 1919 for a book on Franklin, published the year before.

Westinghouse Strike Ends; Workers Get 18-Cent Boost

Union Conference Board, Local Memberships Must Approve Terms

PITTSBURGH, May 9. (AP)—The 115-day-old Westinghouse Electric Corporation strike ended today with company officials and leaders of 75,000 striking production workers agreeing on wage increases of eighteen cents an hour.

Settlement terms must yet be approved by the CIO-United Electrical Workers Union Westinghouse conference board — which represents union locals in all twenty-three struck plants—and by local union memberships.

After weeks and months of grimly-contested negotiations, the end came suddenly about 3:15 p. m. when company and union negotiators issued a joint statement which said: "The company will make an increase of eighteen cents an hour in the wages and salaries paid to employes represented by the union, with the following variations:

"1—The company, in accordance with its original proposal, will establish a fund consisting of one per cent per employe. This fund is to be used towards narrowing differentials between men's and women's wage and salary rates.

"2—In the place of the fluctuating day workers' bonus, day workers will receive a guaranteed fixed amount of the bonus, to be included in their base rates. This fixed amount will represent between forty-two and seventy-five per cent of the bonus which was paid in December, 1945."

"3—Changes in the incentive system of the lamp division were agreed to which will provide equitable standards for lamp division workers and at the same time enable the company to apply the general wage increase to employes of the lamp division.

"4—A number of procedures and adjustments have been worked out to insure the efficient operation of the incentive system in line with peacetime conditions and to safeguard standards of the incentive workers,."

BALTIMORE, May 9. (AP) — A union official said today that a strike of 1,500 Westinghouse Electric Corporation employes in Baltimore would continue until the tentative Pittsburgh agreement is ratified.

Jack Myers, international representative, said members of Local 130, United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO), would meet at 4 p. m. Sunday to consider ratification.

Meanwhile, Myers said, pickets would be maintained at six Westinghouse plants here.

PAC Will Oppose 10 Senators, Many Members of House

By NORMAN WALKER

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 9—(AP)—Members of the CIO-Political Action Committee today named ten senators and more than a score of members of the national House of Representatives they said they would try to defeat in the 1946 elections.

Among members of Congress designated for CIO-PAC opposition were Sens. Kenneth S. McKellar (D-Tenn), the Senate's presiding officer, and Burton Wheeler (D-Mont), and Reps. Joseph Martin (R-Mass), the House minority leader, and Fred A. Hartley (R-NJ), a ranking GOP member of the House Labor committee.

The names were relayed to reporters by Thomas Burfs, Akron, O., CIO-PAC assistant chairman, during a political discussion at the biennial convention of the CIO-Amalgamated Clothing Workers, headed by Sidney Hillman, chairman of CIO-PAC.

At the same time Hyman Blumberg, New York state secretary of the American Labor party and vice president of Hillman's clothing workers union, called for defeat of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for re-election.

"Dewey's record is the record of the Republican party nationally," Blumberg said. "It is a record of failure, of double talk, and of a surrender to the pressures of big business."

The convention also heard CIO President Phillip Murray assail AFL Leaders William Green and John L. Lewis and pledge a CIO victory in the rival unions' organizing drives in the south.

Besides McKellar and Wheeler, Burns singled out these senators for CIO-PAC opposition against their re-election:

Bilbo (D-Miss), Byrd (D-Va), Carville (D-Nev), Radcliffe (D-Md), Gerry (R-RI), Shipstead (R-Minn), Smith (R-NJ) and Langer (R-ND).

At the same time Burns said CIO-PAC would support for re-election Sens. Kilgore (D-W Va), Guffey

Fiery Cross of Ku Klux Klan Burns Again at Secret Order's Birthplace

By HENRY LESESNE

ATLANTA, May 9 (AP)—The fiery cross of the Ku Klux Klan burned again tonight on nearby historic Stone mountain and leaders of the order proclaimed the rebirth of the "invisible empire" which rose to prominence in the 1920s.

A thousand or more white robed and hooded Klansmen, assembled from Georgia and surrounding states, initiated several hundred new members in an hour-long ceremony at the birthplace of the secret order.

While a huge flaming cross burned on the side of Stone mountain, largest exposed piece of granite in the world, the ceremony was illuminated by four smaller crasses ignited within the circle formed by the white-robed figures.

A thousand or more spectators scattered at the rock-strewn foot of the mountain watched the initiation ceremony while boogie-woogie music blared from nearby juke taverns.

Dr. Samuel Green, leader of the Klan in Georgia, says that the Klan has a membership of more than 20,000 in Georgia alone, and that the Klan no longer is active on a national basis but functions under state setups.

Uniformed policemen directed hundreds of automobiles which jammed the site of the demonstration. The Klansmen, their robes wrapped in paper, put them on over their clothes and proceeded to the ceremonial ground.

Many of the automobiles bore Tennessee, Alabama and South Carolina license plates. More than a dozen big buses brought groups from Eastern Tennessee.

Winston Churchill Urges United States of Furope

THE HAGUE, May 9 (AP)—Winston Churchill urged today formation of "The United States of Europe, both of the East and the West," and declared this would unify the continent and bring "prosperity, justice and peace."

In a half-hour speech before the Netherlands Parliament which ended in a tumultuous ovation, the former wartime British prime minister said:

"I see no reason why under the guardianship of a world organization there should not arise the United States of Europe, both of the East and West, which will unify this continent in a manner never known since the Roman empire.

"It will give you prosperity, justice and peace."

Senate Approves Stop-Gap Draft Law Extension

Resolution To Continue Act 45 Days beyond May 15 Is Passed

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP) — A stop-gap resolution to continue the draft forty-five days beyond May 15 was dashed off with a pencil by Sen. Johnson (D-Colo) today and passed unanimously by the Senate in five minutes.

House leaders immediately made plans to pass it quickly in that chamber and speed it to the president for his signature. It would continue the draft, just as it is, until July 1 pending congressional action on a longer extension.

Paradoxically, the hurried action puts the armed services in better shape than they might have been if considered legislation were adopted, for draft boards now will continue their present induction practices until July 1 at least.

House Orders "Holiday"

The House, in voting a nine-month extension, had ordered inductions suspended for a five-month "holiday" to give the recruiting program a trial. The Senate Military committee, proposing a full year's extension, recommended that inductions be restricted to numbers not supplied by volunteers.

An angry Senate argument over what Congress should do about John L. Lewis and the paralyzing coal strike resulted in the speedy draft act extension.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky), was pleading with senators to complete passage of the British loan and then take up draft extension legislation before turning to any labor disputes measures

Barkley remined senators who were pressing for labor legislation that presidential powers to seize the coal mines would expire with the draft act. He noted that ,the Smith-Connally Labor act containing the seizure powers is an amendment to the selective Service act and would expire with the latter May 15

Johnson Secures Floor

Johnson got the floor with difficulty to suggest that Barkley offer a simple extension of the present draft until July 1. He said by that time Congress would be able to decide upon a longer range draft policy.

Barkley tried half a dozen times to get unanimous Senate agreement to wind up the British loan measure and then take up draft extension. Each time senators objected.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) broke in to suggest that Barkley try instead to get a stop-gap draft extension through immediately.

Many senators were trying to speak but Barkley moved to put aside the British loan and take up draft extension.

'Without objection it is agreed," said Sen. Hoey (D-NC) who was presiding, almost before any senator could speak.

King of Italy Sails into Exile After Abdicating in Favor of Son

NAPLES, May 9 (AP) — Vittorio Emanuele III, tired little king of Italy, formally abdicated in favor of his son Umberto the throne he has held for almost forty-six years and sailed tonight with his queen, Elena, into voluntary exile.

Once idolized by his people, the 76-year-old monarch was blamed with the downfaall of Mussolini for sharing responsibility for Italy's woes, and many Italians long have demanded his abdication.

He had succeeded to the throne July 29, 1900, when his father, Umberto I, was assassinated near Milan.

Crown Prince Umberto, who was appointed lieutenant-general of the realm by his father nearly two years ago, was expected to assume the title of King Umberto II.

The abdication act was signed at 3:15 p. m., and four hours later the king and queen boarded the cruiser Duke of Abruzzi. It sailed shortly after 8 p. m., escorted by two destroyers. In Rome, a minister of the royal house said the king's destination was Egypt.

Italy will vote June 2 to decide whether it wants a monarchy or republic.

It was reported that Allied authorities had been advised of the king's "irrevocable" decision to surrender the throne.

In Rome, Rear Adm. Ellery Stone, head of the Allied commission in Italy, confirmed that the Italian government had kept the Allies informed of all developments in connection with the abdication, but added he regarded it as "entirely an Italian matter" and that any formal announcement must come from Italian sources.

In yielding his throne, King Vittorio Emanuele paid the final bitter price for surrendering twenty-four years earlier to Mussolini and fascism.

It was the aged monarch's last desperate effort to salvage the House of Savoy for his own Umberto. For two years, he had been a king in name only, after surrendering his royal prerogatives to Umberto as lieutenant general of the realm when the Allies captured Rome.

His last days of power had been marked by a veritable game of hide and seek with the Germans. In collaboration with old Marshal Badoglio, he had given over Italy to the Allies, only to see the Germans turn his kingdom into one of Europe's worst battlegrounds.

When he finally found asylum with the Allies he had fought, he started denouncing Mussolini and Hitler and trying to repair some of this action in Italy. But was too late.

Molotov Opposes Byrnes's Peace Parley Proposal

By JOSEPH DYNAN

PARIS, May 9. (AP)—James F. Byrnes, United States secretary of state, and Russia's foreign minister, V. M. Molotov, battled verbally for two hours today on an American proposal to call a twenty-one nation peace conference June 15. Without agreement, the foreign ministers conference finally adjourned until tomorrow.

Against vigorous American opposition, Molotov sought to require a four-power accord on all treaties as a preliminary to opening a peace conference, American sources said.

Molotov presented the Russian position in the form of an amendment to Byrnes's original plan. The Russian proposed that the ministers of the United States, Britain, Russia and France meet again June 5 and pass treaty drafts on to the full twenty-one nation conference "when they have agreed on the treaty drafts."

The American secretary of state countered with a proposal to amend the Russian amendment, inserting the words, "as far as possible," after the word "agreed." He argued that otherwise the ministers by their disagreements would be preventing the governments of the world from going ahead on treaty making.

At this point Molotov, British sources said, accused the United States of backtracking on the Moscow agreement of three foreign ministers last December. He said, according to these sources, that the United States, Britain and Russia had decided then that the ministers would have to draft and agree on the treaties before submitting them to a general peace parley. Byrnes's proposal, he contended, "emasculated" the Moscow accord and was unacceptable to the Soviet Union.

House Supports Housing Subsidy Program, 187-158

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Reversing its position, the House today approved $400,000,000 in housing subsidies, giving President Truman a victory in his program for construction of 2,700,000 houses by private enterprise in two years.

The vote was 187 to 158.

Wilson W. Wyatt, housing administrator, immediately declared:

"This throws the veterans' housing program into high gear."

Chairman Spence (D-Ky), of the House Banking committee, said this means the housing bill will be on Mr. Truman's desk "in a day or two." Today's action broke a month's old stalemate on housing legislation.

The House a month ago rejected 161 to 92 a proposal for $600,000,000 in housing subsidies, but some southern Democrats who teamed with Republicans in the earlier vote sided today with the administration.

In today's roll call vote, 155 Democrats were joined by thirty Republicans and two minor party members in support of the subsidy program — described by Mr. Truman as the "very heart" of the housing program. Coposing were twenty-five Democrats and 133 Republicans.

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP) — Here's the way in which representatives from four states voted today when the house agreed to a $400,000,000 subsidy allocation for the emergency housing program:

Democrats for — Bailey, Hedrick, Lee, Neely and Randolph, of West Virginia; Bland, Flannagan, Gary and Robertson, of Virginia; Cooper, Davis, Earthman, Gore, Kefauver and Priest, of Tennessee; D'Alesandro, Fallon and Sasscer, of Maryland.

Democrats against — Burch and Smith, of Virginia; Murray, of Tennessee.

Republicans against — Beall, of Maryland; Ellis, of West Virginia; Jennings, of Tennessee.

Philadelphians Benefit As Co-op Sells Butter To Break Black Market

PHILADELPHIA, May 9 (AP)—Butter came back to Philadelphia by the tons today and 15,000 men, women and children stormed historic Reeding Terminal market to get their share—one pound per person at fifty-five cents ceiling price.

One woman fainted as happy throngs—laughing and joking—lined up four abreast for five blocks through central city streets. It was a five-hour job of waiting. Many looked near collapse upon finishing the grind. Nearly 100 police kept order.

There were 12,000 pounds of hard-to-get butter on sale, offered by the New Jersey Federated Egg Producers Co-operative with the announcement "we're out to break the black market."

But only about 4,000 pounds were disposed of during the day. The market promised, however, that disappointed customers would get another chance tomorrow, even though they may be limited to a half pound.

Contractor Would Draft Lewis into Militia

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—The man who last Monday called John L. Lewis out of bed to ask him when the coal strike would be settled now wants Lewis drafted into the Virginia state militia.

In a telegram to Gov. William M. Tuck, Herbert V. Hudgins, Arlington, Va., contractor, suggested that Lewis, United Mine Workers chief, be inducted as a first sergeant to settle the coal strike at least in Virginia.

Rail Freight Embargo Takes Effect; Truman May "Become Militant"

Strike Has Made Million Idle; Congress Prepares To Take Hand

ILLUMINATING GAS WILL BE RATIONED

Parcel Post Shipments Weighing More than 11 Pounds Are Banned

WASHINGTON, May 10 (Friday) (AP)—A nationwide railroad freight embargo went into effect early today, rationing was ordered for illuminating gas, and Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small called for government seizure of the coal mines lest all industry soon "grind to a rude stop."

With the soft coal strike in its fortieth day today and 1,000,000 workers officially counted idle, President Truman was represented as preparing "militant" action and Congress got ready to take a hand.

The Senate stayed in session until 10:45 p. m. to bring the British loan bill to the stage where it will be disposed of today and strike control legislation taken up immediately. Half a dozen labor measures are ready and their sponsors clamored for action on them.

In the House, similarly, Rep. Pace (D-Ga) yesterday called upon the leaders to put aside "this very minute" every bill on the calendar so that the chamber might devote its "full time and effort, day and night, to consideration and enactment of such measures as may be necessary to protect the American people."

Passenger Mileage Is Cut

The rail freight embargo, which took effect at 12:01 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time), applies to everything except food, fuel, perishable items and certain "essential" goods. A twenty-five per cent reduction in passenger mileage by coal-burning trains also took effect.

The Post Office department at the same time banned parcel post shipments weighing more than eleven pounds to prevent the diversion of freight to the mails.

In still another federal order, the rules requiring radio stations to operate a certain number of hours a day to keep their licenses were suspended in order to save electric power.

The illuminating gas rationing was ordered by the Civilian Production Administration. It is to be put into effect by utilities which handle manufactured or mixed (manufactured plus natural) gas when their coal stocks shrink to a three-week supply.

"Militant" action by President Truman was reported in the offing if other means fail to bring quick peace. After a conference with the chief executive, Mayor Edward J. Kelly, of Chicago, said Mr. Truman is working on a program and if it does not bring a settlement he is "going to become militant."

Declining to give any details of the Truman plans, Kelly said:

"The president said he had a program he hoped would work out in a comparatively short time."

Truman May Call Conference

Earlier in the day, Mr. Truman had told a news conference that the crisis was approaching the status of a strike against the government. He said he was considering, among other things, calling John L. Lewis and the operators to a White House conference.

Small told reporters he had suggested government seizure to reconversion Director John W. Snyder last Saturday.

Asked whether it has been rejected, Small replied:

"It has not been accepted nor rejected."

When a reporter asked Small if he favored seizure, the CPA chief said briskly:

"Yes. I have so recommended. We have reached a juncture where the mines should be seized. Then the government should appeal to miners to go back to work.

Coal Crisis Results In Many Rumors on How It Will Be Settled

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The coal crisis, like most other national emergencies, has touched off a batch of rumors on how it will be settled.

Among the rumors, all without confirmation, are:

The president and John L. Lewis, leader of the striking United Mine Workers, will effect a thirty-day truce.

Lewis has told a top government official the miners would not return to work even though the government seized the mines (it has been obvious from the start that the government doubted a seizure order would restore production. But it is considered altogether possible that in the mounting crisis Lewis may yet agree to some back-to-work proposal by Truman).

A UMW official predicted privately that "there might not be any issues in another week" (this official explained his remark was that the issues might not be the same, there might be none, or there might be new ones, take your pick).

Auto Production Will Be Virtually Halted Next Week

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT, May 9 (AP)—The effects of the coal strike reached deeper into the nation's automobile industry today to halt more assembly lines indefinitely.

Indications tonight were that the giant industry, which for ten months has sought vainly to return to normal output levels, might be prostrate by next weekend, idling up to 500,000 workers.

General Motors Corporation announced today it will start closing all its plants next Monday as a result of the freight embargo occasioned by the coal shortage; Chrysler Corporation posted notices that all passenger vehicle assemblies will be stopped on Monday; Briggs Manufacturing Company indicated the Chrysler curtailment will halt a substantial part of its operations.

The GM and Chrysler action followed closely announcement by the Ford Motor Company that it was starting to lay off 110,000 workers because of the parts and materials shortages indicated by the freight embargo.

The GM shutdown means idleness for 215,000 workers, many of whom have been back to work less than six weeks following the prolonged CIO-United Auto Workers strike. Closing of the Chrysler passenger car lines will send 10,000 home, and amout 5,000 Briggs workers will be idled as automotive bodies used by Chrysler divisions begin to back up.

Most other car and truck makers indicated they expected to continue operations through next week. None, however,, had an unlimited stockpile of parts and materials on hand.

Two Negroes Receive Six Years in Prison For Robbing Actress

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP)—Screen Actress Dorothy Lamour testified in criminal court today in the theft of a piece of her luggage containing $29,000 in valuables and then sat in the courtroom while the two accused negroes pleaded guilty and were sentenced to six years in the Maryland penitentiary.

Afterwards, Miss Lamour and her husband, William Ross Howard, III, of suburban Pikesville, went to police headquarters where they were given the stolen goods held by police since their recovery a few days after the theft April 25.

Official Report Charges Wholesale Thefts of Naval Property in Hawaii

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP) — An official navy report alleging wholesale thefts and mismanagement of naval property in the Fourteenth (Hawaiian) naval distric' was turned over today to the Senate War Investigating committee.

It charged that "a large amount of money and merchandise" had been stolen from the ships' store at the Pearl Harbor submarine base, that merchandise from the store was sold to Honolulu merchants, that goods for Honolulu merchants were brought from the mainland in navy ships, and that lumber enough to build a house for an officer was purloined from a salvage dump.

The allegations were made in a report by Rear Adm. Austin K. Doyle, deputy inspector general of the navy. Doyle was ordered into the case after Comdr. Laurence H. Blodgett was acquitted by a court-martial on a charge of diverting a large quantity of navy meat and butter to his private use.

High navy officers, ranging up to a vice admiral, were criticized for alleged negligence and inefficiency in Doyle's report.

They included Vice Adm. D. W. Bagley, Rear Adm. William R. Furlong, Rear Adm. E. W. Hanson, Rear Adm. R. W. Paine, Rear Adm. C. O. Kell, and Capt. John H. Kangeter.

The report said that Furlong was "negligent, careless, indifferent and inefficient." The allegation concerning the others fell within the same general categories.

Doyle told the committee there is a "possibility" that Blodgett may be tried again on different charges.

Westinghouse Strike Ends; Workers Get 18-Cent Boost

Union Conference Board, Local Memberships Must Approve Terms

PITTSBURGH, May 9. (AP)—The 115-day-old Westinghouse Electric Corporation strike ended today with company officials and leaders of 75,000 striking production workers agreeing on wage increases of eighteen cents an hour.

Settlement terms must yet be approved by the CIO-United Electrical Workers Union Westinghouse conference board — which represents union locals in all twenty-three struck plants—and by local union memberships.

By NORMAN WALKER

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 9—(AP)—Members of the CIO-Political Action Committee today named ten senators and more than a score of members of the national House of Representatives they said they would try to defeat in the 1946 elections.

Among members of Congress designated for CIO-PAC opposition were Sens. Kenneth S. McKellar (D-Tenn), the Senate's presiding officer, and Burton Wheeler (D-Mont), and Reps. Joseph Martin (R-Mass), the House minority leader, and Fred A. Hartley (R-NJ), a ranking GOP member of the House Labor committee.

The names were relayed to reporters by Thomas Burfs, Akron, O., CIO-PAC assistant chairman, during a political discussion at the biennial convention of the CIO-Amalgamated Clothing Workers, headed by Sidney Hillman, chairman of CIO-PAC.

At the same time Hyman Blumberg, New York state secretary of the American Labor party and vice president of Hillman's clothing workers union, called for defeat of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for re-election.

"Dewey's record is the record of the Republican party nationally," Blumberg said. "It is a record of failure, of double talk, and of a surrender to the pressures of big business."

The convention also heard CIO President Phillip Murray assail AFL Leaders William Green and John L. Lewis and pledge a CIO victory in the rival unions' organizing drives in the south.

Besides McKellar and Wheeler, Burns singled out these senators for CIO-PAC opposition against their re-election:

Bilbo (D-Miss), Byrd (D-Va), Carville (D-Nev), Radcliffe (D-Md), Gerry (R-RI), Shipstead (R-Minn), Smith (R-NJ) and Langer (R-ND).

At the same time Burns said CIO-PAC would support for re-election Sens. Kilgore (D-W Va), Guffey

Fiery Cross of Ku Klux Klan Burns Again at Secret Order's Birthplace

By HENRY LESESNE

ATLANTA, May 9 (AP)—The fiery cross of the Ku Klux Klan burned again tonight on nearby historic Stone mountain and leaders of the order proclaimed the rebirth of the "invisible empire" which rose to prominence in the 1920s.

A thousand or more white robed and hooded Klansmen, assembled from Georgia and surrounding states, initiated several hundred new members in an hour-long ceremony at the birthplace of the secret order.

While a huge flaming cross burned on the side of Stone mountain, largest exposed piece of granite in the world, the ceremony was illuminated by four smaller crasses ignited within the circle formed by the white-robed figures.

A thousand or more spectators scattered at the rock-strewn foot of the mountain watched the initiation ceremony while boogie-woogie music blared from nearby juke taverns.

Dr. Samuel Green, leader of the Klan in Georgia, says that the Klan has a membership of more than 20,000 in Georgia alone, and that the Klan no longer is active on a national basis but functions under state setups.

Uniformed policemen directed hundreds of automobiles which jammed the site of the demonstration. The Klansmen, their robes wrapped in paper, put them on over their clothes and proceeded to the ceremonial ground.

Many of the automobiles bore Tennessee, Alabama and South Carolina license plates. More than a dozen big buses brought groups from Eastern Tennessee.

Winston Churchill Urges United States of Europe

THE HAGUE, May 9 (AP)—Winston Churchill urged today formation of "The United States of Europe, both of the East and the West," and declared this would unify the continent and bring "prosperity, justice and peace."

In a half-hour speech before the Netherlands Parliament which ended in a tumultuous ovation, the former wartime British prime minister said:

"I see no reason why under the guardianship of a world organization there should not arise the United States of Europe, both of the East and West, which will unify this continent in a manner never known since the Roman empire.

"It will give you prosperity, justice and peace."

Senate Approves Stop-Gap Draft Law Extension

Resolution To Continue Act 45 Days beyond May 15 Is Passed

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP) — A stop-gap resolution to continue the draft forty-five days beyond May 15 was dashed off with a pencil by Sen. Johnson (D-Colo) today and passed unanimously by the Senate in five minutes.

House leaders immediately made plans to pass it quickly in that chamber and speed it to the president for his signature. It would continue the draft, just as it is, until July 1 pending congressional action on a longer extension.

Paradoxically, the hurried action puts the armed services in better shape than they might have been if considered legislation were adopted, for draft boards now will continue their present induction practices until July 1 at least.

House Orders "Holiday"

The House, in voting a nine-month extension, had ordered inductions suspended for a five-month "holiday" to give the recruiting program a trial. The Senate Military committee, proposing a full year's extension, recommended that inductions be restricted to numbers not supplied by volunteers.

An angry Senate argument over what Congress should do about John L. Lewis and the paralyzing coal strike resulted in the speedy draft act extension.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky), was pleading with senators to complete passage of the British loan and then take up draft extension legislation before turning to any labor disputes measures.

Barkley remined senators who were pressing for labor legislation that presidential powers to seize the coal mines would expire with the draft act. He noted that the Smith-Connally Labor act containing the seizure powers is an amendment to the selective Service act and would expire with the latter May 15.

Johnson Secures Floor

Johnson got the floor with difficulty to suggest that Barkley offer a simple extension of the present draft until July 1. He said by that time Congress would be able to decide upon a longer range draft policy.

Barkley tried half a dozen times to get unanimous Senate agreement to wind up the British loan measure and then take up draft extension. Each time senators objected.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) broke in to suggest that Barkley try instead to get a stop-gap draft extension through immediately.

Many senators were trying to speak but Barkley moved to put aside the British loan and take up draft extension.

"Without objection it is agreed," said Sen. Hoey (D-NC) who was presiding, almost before any senator could speak.

Dies at Wheeling

WHEELING, W. Va., May 9. (AP)—George W. Smith, 53, managing director of radio station WWVA, died today.

CHICKEN COOP WAS WOMAN'S HOME

MRS. MARY MARTIN, 72, sits huddled in a corner of a chicken coop at Passaic, N. J., which was her home before she was persuaded to move to a furnished room. When workmen tore down the house she had shared for forty-eight years with her husband, Michael, who died four years ago, she moved into the nearby chicken coop, which was the last link to the home she lost on taxes.

Molotov Opposes Byrnes's Peace Parley Proposal

By JOSEPH DYNAN

PARIS, May 9. (AP)—James F. Byrnes, United States secretary of state, and Russia's foreign minister, V. M. Molotov, battled verbally for two hours today on an American proposal to call a twenty-one nation peace conference June 15. Without agreement, the foreign ministers conference finally adjourned until tomorrow.

Against vigorous American opposition, Molotov sought to require a four-power accord on all treaties as a preliminary to opening a peace conference, American sources said.

Molotov presented the Russian position in the form of an amendment to Byrnes's original plan. The Russian proposed that the ministers of the United States, Britain, Russia and France meet again June 5 and pass treaty drafts on to the full twenty-one nation conference "when they have agreed on the treaty drafts."

The American secretary of state countered with a proposal to amend the Russian amendment, inserting the words, "as far as possible," after the word "agreed." He argued that otherwise the ministers by their disagreements would be preventing the governments of the world from going ahead on treaty making.

At this point Molotov, British sources said, accused the United States of backtracking on the Moscow agreement of three foreign ministers last December. He said, according to these sources, that the United States, Britain and Russia had decided then that the ministers would have to draft and agree on the treaties before submitting them to a general peace parley. Byrnes's proposal, he contended, "emasculated" the Moscow accord and was unacceptable to the Soviet Union.

House Supports Housing Subsidy Program, 187-158

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Reversing its position, the House today approved $400,000,000 in housing subsidies, giving President Truman a victory in his program for construction of 2,700,000 houses by private enterprise in two years.

The vote was 187 to 158.

Wilson W. Wyatt, housing administrator, immediately declared:

"This throws the veterans' housing program into high gear."

Chairman Spence (D-Ky), of the House Banking committee, said this means the housing bill will be on Mr. Truman's desk "in a day or two." Today's action broke a month's old stalemate on housing legislation.

The House a month ago rejected 161 to 92 a proposal for $600,000,000 in housing subsidies, but some southern Democrats who teamed with Republicans in the earlier vote sided today with the administration.

In today's roll call vote, 155 Democrats were joined by thirty Republicans and two minor party members in support of the subsidy program — described by Mr. Truman as the "very heart" of the housing program. Opposing were twenty-five Democrats and 133 Republicans.

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP) — Here's the way in which representatives from four states voted today when the house agreed to a $400,000,000 subsidy allocation for the emergency housing program:

Democrats for — Bailey, Hedrick, Lee, Neely and Randolph, of West Virginia; Bland, Flannagan, Gary and Robertson, of Virginia; Cooper, Davis, Earthman, Gore, Kefauver and Priest, of Tennessee; D'Alesandro, Fallon and Sasscer, of Maryland.

Republicans against — Beall, of Maryland; Ellis, of West Virginia; Jennings, of Tennessee.

King of Italy Sails into Exile After Abdicating in Favor of Son

NAPLES, May 9 (AP) — Vittorio Emanuele III, tired little king of Italy, formally abdicated in favor of his son Umberto the throne he has held for almost forty-six years and sailed tonight with his queen, Elena, into voluntary exile.

Once idolized by his people, the 76-year-old monarch was blamed with the downfaall of Mussolini for sharing responsibility for Italy's woes, and many Italians long have demanded his abdication.

He had succeeded to the throne July 29, 1900, when his father, Umberto I, was assassinated near Milan.

Crown Prince Umberto, who was appointed lieutenant-general of the realm by his father nearly two years ago, was expected to assume the title of King Umberto II.

The abdication act was signed at 3:15 p. m., and four hours later the king and queen boarded the cruiser Duke of Abruzzi. It sailed shortly after 8 p. m., escorted by two destroyers. In Rome, a minister of the royal house said the king's destination was Egypt.

Italy will vote June 2 to decide whether it wants a monarchy or republic.

It was reported that Allied authorities had been advised of the king's "irrevocable" decision to surrender the throne.

In Rome, Rear Adm. Ellery Stone, head of the Allied commission in Italy, confirmed that the Italian government had kept the Allies informed of all developments in connection with the abdication, but added he regarded it as "entirely an Italian matter" and that any formal announcement must come from Italian sources.

In yielding his throne, King Vittorio Emanuele paid the final bitter price for surrendering twenty-four years earlier to Mussolini and fascism.

It was the aged monarch's last desperate effort to salvage the House of Savoy for his own Umberto. For two years, he had been a king in name only, after surrendering his royal prerogatives to Umberto as lieutenant general of the realm when the Allies captured Rome.

His last days of power had been marked by a veritable game of hide and seek with the Germans. In collaboration with old Marshal Badoglio, he had given over Italy to the Allies, only to see the Germans turn his kingdom into one of Europe's worst battlegrounds.

When he finally found asylum with the Allies he had fought, he started denouncing Mussolini and Hitler and trying to repair some of this action in Italy. But was too late.

Philadelphians Benefit As Co-op Sells Butter To Break Black Market

PHILADELPHIA, May 9 (AP)—Butter came back to Philadelphia by the tons today and 15,000 men, women and children stormed historic Reeding Terminal market to get their share—one pound per person at fifty-five cents ceiling price.

One woman fainted as happy throngs—laughing and joking—lined up four abreast for five blocks through central city streets. It was a five-hour job of waiting. Many looked near collapse upon finishing the grind. Nearly 100 police kept order.

There were 12,000 pounds of hard-to-get butter on sale, offered by the New Jersey Federated Egg Producers Co-operative with the announcement "we're out to break the black market."

But only about 4,000 pounds were disposed of during the day. The market promised, however, that disappointed customers would get another chance tomorrow, even though they may be limited to a half pound.

Contractor Would Draft Lewis into Militia

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—The man who last Monday called John L. Lewis out of bed to ask him when the coal strike would be settled now wants Lewis drafted into the Virginia state militia.

In a telegram to Gov. William M. Tuck, Herbert V. Hudgins, Arlington, Va., contractor, suggested that Lewis, United Mine Workers chief, be inducted as a first sergeant to settle the coal strike at least in Virginia.

Rail Freight Embargo Takes Effect; Truman May "Become Militant"

Coal Crisis Results In Many Rumors on How It Will Be Settled

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The coal crisis, like most other national emergencies, has touched off a batch of rumors on how it will be settled.

Among the rumors, all without confirmation, are:

The president and John L. Lewis, leader of the striking United Mine Workers, will effect a thirty-day truce.

Lewis has told a top government official the miners would not return to work even though the government seized the mines (it has been obvious from the start that the government doubted a seizure order would restore production. But it is considered altogether possible that in the mounting crisis Lewis may yet agree to some back-to-work proposal by Truman).

A UMW official predicted privately that "there might not be any issues in another week" (this official explained his remark was that the issues might not be the same, there might be none, or there might be new ones, take your pick).

Strike Has Made Million Idle; Congress Prepares To Take Hand

ILLUMINATING GAS WILL BE RATIONED

Parcel Post Shipments Weighing More than 11 Pounds Are Banned

WASHINGTON, May 10 (Friday) (AP)—A nationwide railroad freight embargo went into effect early today, rationing was ordered for illuminating gas, and Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small called for government seizure of the coal mines lest all industry soon "grind to a rude stop."

With the soft coal strike in its fortieth day today and 1,000,000 workers officially counted idle, President Truman was represented as preparing "militant" action and Congress got ready to take a hand.

The Senate stayed in session until 10:45 p. m. to bring the British loan bill to the stage where it will be disposed of today and strike control legislation taken up immediately. Half a dozen labor measures are ready and their sponsors clamored for action on them.

In the House, similarly, Rep. Pace (D-Ga) yesterday called upon the leaders to put aside "this very minute" every bill on the calendar so that the chamber might devote its "full time and effort, day and night, to consideration and enactment of such measures as may be necessary to protect the American people."

Passenger Mileage Is Cut

The rail freight embargo, which took effect at 12:01 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time), applies to everything except food, fuel, perishable items and certain "essential" goods. A twenty-five per cent reduction in passenger mileage by coal-burning trains also took effect.

The Post Office department at the same time banned parcel post shipments weighing more than eleven pounds to prevent the diversion of freight to the mails.

In still another federal order, the rules requiring radio stations to operate a certain number of hours a day to keep their licenses were suspended in order to save electric power.

The illuminating gas rationing was ordered by the Civilian Production Administration. It is to be put into effect by utilities which handle manufactured or mixed (manufactured plus natural) gas when their coal stocks shrink to a three-week supply.

"Militant" action by President Truman was reported in the offing if other means fail to bring quick peace. After a conference with the chief executive, Mayor Edward J. Kelly, of Chicago, said Mr. Truman is working on a program and if it does not bring a settlement he is "going to become militant."

Declining to give any details of the Truman plans, Kelly said:

"The president said he had a program he hoped would work out in a comparatively short time."

Truman May Call Conference

Earlier in the day, Mr. Truman had told a news conference that the crisis was approaching the status of a strike against the government. He said he was considering, among other things, calling John L. Lewis and the operators to a White House conference.

Small told reporters he had suggested government seizure to reconversion Director John W. Snyder last Saturday.

Asked whether it has been rejected, Small replied:

"It has not been accepted nor rejected."

When a reporter asked Small if he favored seizure, the CPA chief said briskly:

"Yes. I have so recommended. We have reached a juncture where the mines should be seized. Then the government should appeal to miners to go back to work.

Auto Production Will Be Virtually Halted Next Week

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT, May 9 (AP)—The effects of the coal strike reached deeper into the nation's automobile industry today to halt more assembly lines indefinitely.

Indications tonight were that the giant industry, which for ten months has sought vainly to return to normal output levels, might be prostrate by next weekend, idling up to 500,000 workers.

General Motors Corporation announced today it will start closing all its plants next Monday as a result of the freight embargo occasioned by the coal shortage; Chrysler Corporation posted notices that all passenger vehicle assemblies will be stopped on Monday; Briggs Manufacturing Company indicated the Chrysler curtailment will halt a substantial part of its operations.

The GM and Chrysler action followed closely announcement by the Ford Motor Company that it was starting to lay off 110,000 workers because of the parts and materials shortages indicated by the freight embargo.

The GM shutdown means idleness for 215,000 workers, many of whom have been back to work less than six weeks following the prolonged CIO-United Auto Workers strike. Closing of the Chrysler passenger car lines will send 10,000 home, and amout 5,000 Briggs workers will be idled as automotive bodies used by Chrysler divisions begin to back up.

Most other car and truck makers indicated they expected to continue operations through next week. None, however, had an unlimited stockpile of parts and materials on hand.

Two Negroes Receive Six Years in Prison For Robbing Actress

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP)—Screen Actress Dorothy Lamour testified in criminal court today in the theft of a piece of her luggage containing $29,000 in valuables and then sat in the courtroom while the two accused negroes pleaded guilty and were sentenced to six years in the Maryland penitentiary.

Afterwards, Miss Lamour and her husband, William Ross Howard, III, of suburban Pikesville, went to police headquarters where they were given the stolen goods held by police since their recovery a few days after the theft April 25.

Official Report Charges Wholesale Thefts of Naval Property in Hawaii

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP) — An official navy report alleging wholesale thefts and mismanagement of naval property in the Fourteenth (Hawaiian) naval district was turned over today to the Senate War Investigating committee.

It charged that "a large amount of money and merchandise" had been stolen from the ships' store at the Pearl Harbor submarine base, that merchandise from the store was sold to Honolulu merchants, that goods for Honolulu merchants were brought from the mainland in navy ships, and that lumber enough to build a house for an officer was purloined from a salvage dump.

The allegations were made in a report by Rear Adm. Austin K. Doyle, deputy inspector general of the navy. Doyle was ordered into the case after Comdr. Laurence H. Blodgett was acquitted by a court-martial on a charge of diverting a large quantity of navy meat and butter to his private use.

High navy officers, ranging up to a vice admiral, were criticized for alleged negligence and inefficiency in Doyle's report.

They included Vice Adm. D. W. Bagley, Rear Adm. William R. Furlong, Rear Adm. F. W. Hanson, Rear Adm. R. W. Paine, Rear Adm. C. O. Kell, and Capt. John H. Kangeter.

The report said that Furlong was "negligent, careless, indifferent and inefficient." The allegation concerning the others fell within the same general categories.

Doyle told the committee there is a "possibility" that Blodgett may be tried again on different charges.

Veteran's Letter To Miss Fairfax Has Repercussions

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marirage

The letter that "Unhappy Veteran" wrote to this column a few weeks ago has certainly had repercussions. The girl he thought he was coming home to, you remember, appeared to be giving him the run-around when he got back from overseas, and I suggested that he forget about her and look around for some one more reliable.

Some readers disagreed with me violently. They thought the girl might have a lot on her side. One of these letters was printed in this column recently.

And now here's a letter from a girl who thinks she was the very one the veteran was talking about, and she thinks she does have a lot on her side and maybe she does.

Here's what she says:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I'm writing you this letter in answer to the enclosed (She enclosed clipping of the column containing the "Unhappy Veteran's" letter) from, I believe, my boy friend.

"Now this is my side of the story. I really do not know my own mind about him. He is a good, clean boy. He doesn't smoke or drink, but he has so many other faults that I have rather gotten to dislike him because of them.

"First of all, he is never on time with his dates. Even when Mother invites him to dinner he keeps us waiting.

"He is also extremely close about spending money on me. For instance, when we are on the way home from the theater and we pass an ice cream store, he says: 'You aren't hungry, are you?' Well, naturally I say no, to be polite.

"Also, his home life is very unpleasant. There is so much friction all the time. They all just seem to live for money alone and fight for it, as I have seen, and I am afraid if I ever married him he would become like his parents and want to quarrel with me a lot, and I couldn't stand that, as I come from a very quiet, reserved family. He seems different from the rest of his family in that he is rather quiet, but maybe that is only when he is around me. He is exceptionally serious and always thinking of the future, which is all right to a certain degree. But he never seems to want to do or go anywhere that I want to. He will do it, but very reluctantly, it seems to me, which makes me feel very uneasy.

"Please tell me what I can do to make him see the reasons why I do not care for him as much as he does for me. Or do you think I am wrong for feeling as I do about these things.

"MIXED-UP"

No, I don't think you're wrong in feeling as you do about these things. They're all pretty important when you're thinking about them as elements in the character of the man you might decide to marry.

But where I do think you are wrong is in not telling this boy as tactfully as possible about your feelings, and talking it all over with him. After all, you've got him pretty mixed-up, too, you know—that is, supposing this "Unhappy Veteran" really is your boy friend and not just another poor bewildered guy whose girl has got him guessing.

My advice to you is just what I say: to tell him frankly what the trouble has been and why you have seemed so elusive. It's hardly fair to keep on accepting his attentions yet holding him off at the same time. Of course if you really don't want him, that's another thing. Then I don't see any particular reason for doing more than just telling him that plainly and letting it go at that, without going into all these reasons. But if you have any idea at all that, with a few changes here and there, you might like him very much, I'd lose no more time getting things cleared up. If you really love him, you can make him understand without hurting him, and if he really loves you, he'll want to do his best to overcome these obstacles.

Veteran's Letter To Miss Fairfax Has Repercussions

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

The letter that "Unhappy Veteran" wrote to this column a few weeks ago has certainly had repercussions. The girl he thought he was coming home to, you remember, appeared to be giving him the run-around when he got back from overseas, and I suggested that he forget about her and look around for some one more reliable.

Some readers disagreed with me violently. They thought the girl might have a lot on her side. One of these letters was printed in this column recently.

And now here's a letter from a girl who thinks she was the very one the veteran was talking about, and she thinks she does have a lot on her side and maybe she does.

Here's what she says:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I'm writing you this letter in answer to the enclosed (She enclosed clipping of the column containing the "Unhappy Veteran's" letter) from, I believe, my boy friend.

"Now this is my side of the story. I really do not know my own mind about him. He is a good, clean boy. He doesn't smoke or drink, but he has so many other faults that I have rather gotten to dislike him because of them.

"First of all, he is never on time with his dates. Even when Mother invites him to dinner he keeps us waiting.

"He is also extremely close about spending money on me. For instance, when we are on the way home from the theater and we pass an ice cream store, he says: 'You aren't hungry, are you?' Well, naturally I say no, to be polite.

"Also, his home life is very unpleasant. There is so much friction all the time. They all just seem to live for money alone and fight for it, as I have seen, and I am afraid if I ever married him he would become like his parents and want to quarrel with me a lot, and I couldn't stand that, as I come from a very quiet, reserved family. He seems different from the rest of his family in that he is rather quiet, but maybe that is only when he is around me. He is exceptionally serious and always thinking of the future, which is all right to a certain degree. But he never seems to want to do or go anywhere that I want to. He will do it, but very reluctantly, it seems to me, which makes me feel very uneasy.

"Please tell me what I can do to make him see the reasons why I do not care for him as much as he does for me. Or do you think I am wrong for feeling as I do about these things.

"MIXED-UP"

No, I don't think you're wrong in feeling as you do about these things. They're all pretty important when you're thinking about them as elements in the character of the man you might decide to marry.

But where I do think you are wrong is in not telling this boy as tactfully as possible about your feelings, and talking it all over with him. After all, you've got him pretty mixed-up, too, you know—that is, supposing this "Unhappy Veteran" really is your boy friend and not just another poor bewildered guy whose girl has got him guessing.

My advice to you is just what I say: to tell him frankly what the trouble has been and why you have seemed so elusive. It's hardly fair to keep on accepting his attentions yet holding him off at the same time. Of course if you really don't want him, that's another thing. Then I don't see any particular reason for doing more than just telling him that plainly and letting it go at that, without going into all these reasons. But if you have any idea at all that, with a few changes here and there, you might like him very much, I'd lose no more time getting things cleared up. If you really love him, you can make him understand without hurting him, and if he really loves you, he'll want to do his best to overcome these obstacles.

SUTHO SUDS

THE NEW AMAZING SUDSY WASHING POWDER

Perfected during the war for vital war uses. Now you can use it in your home to work washing and cleaning miracles!

Sutho Suds, the new amazing washing powder contains NO soap, NO harsh alkalis, NO rough abrasives! It is NON-Alkaline, NON-Acid, NON-Irritating, NON-Sneezing! Sutho Suds works perfectly in hard, soft, warm or cool water!

Guaranteed better than: soap, soap flakes, soap powders and washing compounds for 50 different home uses.

For washing dishes, glassware, china, silverware, cooking utensils, aluminum, porcelain ware, kitchen fixtures, sinks, refrigerators, stoves, painted walls, woodwork, enameled surfaces, hardwood floors, linoleum, tile, bathroom fixtures, lamps, windows, mirrors, furniture, venetian blinds, chandeliers, metal, lighting fixtures, lamp shades, draperies, tapestries, upholstery, rugs, carpets, lace curtains.

For washing your dainty underthings, silks, rayons, nylons, hosiery, foundation garments, woolens, sweaters, scarfs, blankets, quilts, bedspreads.

For washing and deodorizing baby's diapers, baby's clothes, blankets and toys. After being washed in Sutho Suds, baby's diapers, clothing and blankets are soft, gentle to baby's tender skin. Because Sutho Suds contains NO soap, NO harsh alkalis, Sutho Suds is NON-irritating to baby's skin. Helps prevent diaper-rash. Recommended by doctors.

For your bubble bath and baby's bubble bath. Luxurious, soothing, wonderful! Makes skin soft, smooth, lovely! Leaves no ring in bathtub.

For your shampoo. So safe and gentle it causes NO eye-sting! Washes hair and scalp really clean! Rinses quickly and thoroughly leaving your hair naturally beautiful, soft and lovely.

Save time, effort and money! Quick, easy, economical to use! A tablespoon of Sutho Suds in warm water is plenty to wash the average family's dishes. A tablespoon of Sutho Suds in cool water is plenty to wash dainty underthings and hosiery. Put Sutho Suds in first. Run water full force.

GIVE YOUR HANDS A Beauty Treatment

You give your hands a beauty treatment every time you use SUTHO SUDS for washing dishes, silks, rayons, hosiery, woolens, woodwork, etc. SUTHO SUDS leave your hands soft, smooth and lovely.

Sutho Suds is SAFE for washing your finest silks, rayons and woolens. Sutho Suds cannot possibly harm the most delicate fabrics because Sutho Suds contains NO harsh alkalis, NO acids, NO rough abrasives, NO strong chemicals. You can even wash flimsy silk lamp shades in Sutho Suds with perfect safety. Sutho Suds is so safe and gentle that it is highly recommended for bathing BABIES. Used by leading hospitals.

Sutho Suds costs LESS than soap flakes and soap powders per washing. The concentrated contents of each package of Sutho Suds weighs 2 or 3 times as much as an equal size package of soap flakes . . . and you use much less Sutho Suds per washing.

No "Soapy-Film". Sutho Suds contains NO soap, makes NO soapy lather to cling to your dishes or clothes. Neither the "suds" from Sutho Suds nor the "suds" from soap powders and flakes have any real washing or cleaning value. The cleaner in the water does all the washing and cleaning. The clean, sparkling, sudsy bubbles from Sutho Suds gradually disappear during use, leaving "miracle" Sutho Water which washes and cleans much better than solutions of soap, soap flakes or soap powders with heavy, soapy, lathery, film-leaving suds.

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE. You don't risk a cent when you try SUTHO SUDS. If you are not entirely satisfied that SUTHO SUDS is better than soaps, better than soap flakes, better than soap powders, better than washing compounds for the 50 different home uses listed, just return your partly-used box of SUTHO SUDS to your grocer and the entire purchase price of your SUTHO SUDS will be promptly refunded in full.

Some Wise Words By a Labor Boss

DAVID BECK—who prefers to be known just as Dave Beck—head of the Teamsters' union and practically the whole AF of L in Seattle, recently made a speech at a meeting of the Western Conference of Teamsters, of which he is chairman. He thought so much of it that he has had attractive copies printed and distributed about the country.

Some statements in that speech are worth reading.

"We will not tolerate power-drunk leadership in our Teamster organization," says one.

"We can employ any number of men who know how to call strikes. That does not require either brains or ability.

"We can find plenty of men who are able to throw their members out of work, who would refuse to recognize any argument except their own economic strength, who would crucify both industry and labor, including their own members, to win a selfish victory, regardless of cost.

"We do not want, nor will we tolerate, that kind of leadership.

"We consider the strike to be a weapon of last resort."

And:

"We are . . . vitally interested in making certain that from the increasing productivity of labor, the performing of an honest day's work for an honest day's wage, and from the greatest use of the machine in both industry and agriculture, the consumer shall pay the lowest possible price when he buys the product of farm or factory.

"It is only through the perfection of this process that consumer, industry and labor can receive the full benefits of free enterprise and of our American competitive system."

Mr. Beck went on to warn against too much government in business. He warned the members of his organization against unwise buying, which he said contributes to inflation.

And he added:

"Once you sign a contract, observe it to the letter, even though it prove to be a bad bargain."

Dave Beck is a big man in organized labor. Out in Seattle he was not only a powerful labor boss but also a political boss. His resources and influence were such that he was known popularly as the "dictator of Seattle." For years he intimidated the labor groups and the politicians of Seattle — until finally the people voted down his candidate for mayor.

Whatever he has done in the past, and whatever one may think of it, Dave Beck has the reputation in Seattle of living up to his dictum about keeping a contract, once signed, even if it proves a bad bargain. But his present words, as herein noted, indicates that he is a man who has learned something from his experience and has the foresight to apply it to the future.

However Beck arrived at his conclusions and whatever his purpose, these words are words of wisdom and statesmanship. They are words that state the case for genuine labor leadership in an impressive and appealing matter.

We need more enlightened labor leadership of this kind.

Some Things Pearson Has Overlooked

DREW PEARSON, in his Washington Merry-Go-Round, has been stressing the fact that some organizations have been spending considerable money in fighting the OPA. His statements were in the nature of a revelation to which someway there was attached a sense of opprobium.

But, this was not really a revelation. The spending of money by organizations has been freely and frankly admitted by them. Some three weeks ago, for example, Robert R. Wason, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told the Senate Banking committee that the association had lawfully spent $395,850 in one recent campaign against the OPA.

But, Mr. Pearson failed to note that, as Representative Bursell, of Illinois, has pointed out, the OPA has an army of government propagandists costing the taxpayers more than $13,000,000 a year to support such bureaucratic representations. The full force of this army was virtually turned loose to fight the opponents of OPA. It takes considerable money and effort to counter that.

It is only fair to note, also, that opponents of the OPA are not all seeking to destroy it by having price controls ended. Some of them do want that, to be sure, in the sincere belief that it would be the best thing for the country by permitting the system of free competition to operate immediately. But a number of them are seeking only a rule of reason in the operation of price controls whereby production can be stimulated instead of being impeded or stopped.

A Spinet Era Is Burgeoning

IT IS ESTIMATED that 11,000,000 persons in the United States, most of them children, are studying music. The Music Foundation of America says that 8,000,000 play the piano. These presumably play acceptably. How many additional persons merely commit assault and battery on the piano would make another sizable but now neglected statistic.

But these figures do not mean much to Junior, whose fond parents want him to have a musical education. The postwar shortages of pianos, along with all the other things they have the money to buy but can't is Papa's and Mama's worry. Backed-up orders are sufficient to absorb capacity production for the next five years, industry representatives estimate. Everybody seems to want spinets, they report, with only a few grands and practically no uprights in demand.

The American family will pay thirty to sixty per cent more than prewar prices for a new piano, according to a study by the family economics bureau of a large life insurance company. The study finds sixty per cent of the cost of a piano to be wages. Higher prices are expected to have little immediate effect on discouraging demand, and dealers estimate at least ten customers for every instrument to be available this year. Far from rendering the piano obsolete as a medium of musical expression in the home, the radio seems to have made it more popular than ever.

The Naval Academy Recommendations

THE BOARD OF VISITORS to the naval academy at Annapolis has submitted a report to President Truman in which it urges early settlement of the controversy over the proposed acquisition of the campus of St. John's college.

It is to be hoped that the president will take steps toward settling the controversy. It has drawn out entirely too long and should have been decided one way or another long since. Plans for the academy have been unduly deferred in consequence.

Judging from the expansion needs of the institution sensed by the board, the campus site is really needed. It recommends immediate enlargement of the grounds and buildings, and the construction of an airfield near the plant.

Several other recommendations were made by the board, which is composed of congressmen and other civilian appointees of the president, the vice president and the speaker of the House of Representatives, and which inspected the academy April 8 through April 11.

Included were the raising of midshipmen's pay from $65 to $85 a month, more careful examinations of prospective instructors for the academy staff with regard to scholastic background, a more elastic curriculum in order to bring out special skills and abilities shown by the midshipmen and appointment of board members for a full year with terms staggered.

These all seem to be quite in order and should be dully considered by the proper authorities. But, as stated, the controversy over the campus site ought by all means to be decided soon for the obvious reason given.

The Navy's Search For Its Missing

ONE of the navy's biggest jobs since the war ended—the search for its missing men—has been finished after months of painstaking work and millions of miles of travel by air, land and sea.

The size of the operation can be imagined from the laconic report of Adm. John H. Towers, Pacific commander in chief, that searches of all land masses, islands and atolls in the Pacific area, first by plane and then by shore parties, have been completed.

The total of the navy's missing stands at 1,666, of which 1,478 are navy personnel, 105 are marines and eighty-three are coast guardsmen. It may seem high, but in view of the thousands and thousands of navy men who operated in the Pacific and the tremendous distances involved, it represents an outstanding work.

Families and friends of the missing men may be sure that the navy left nothing to chance in its effort to find them or account for them. It is the navy's refusal to lose a man if he can possibly be saved that is one of the reasons for its high morale.

A short time back, through a typographical error, it was announced that ceilings had been removed on caskets when it should have been gaskets. So far, however, no effort on the part of the hoarders to take advantage of the slip has been reported.

If the meat shortage persists, there will be two chickens in every pot right up to the point of nausea.

Moscow, it seems, will co-operate with the UNO as long as it doesn't cramp the communist style.

Situation Today Is Basically Good, Babson Declares

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., May 9—Compared with any other land on earth, we, the people of North America, now are sitting on top of the world. Relative to any former period, we today have the greatest opportunity, both as to current conditions and future prospects. When you tune out the radio croaking, long enough to attend to solid facts and figures, you sense the speed of recent reconversion. The outlook is much brighter than some of the out-lookers.

Less Gripe and More Grip

During the recent big strikes there was an interval when a little grousing by me and others was, perhaps, excusable. It was a kind of low Monday morning, a natural let-down after the victories of 1945. That period of indulgence, however, has gone; and I recommend that the time has come for all of us to cut out the crabbing and resume business. Despite the actions of labor leaders here at home and of Russian leaders abroad, the situation, fundamentally, is cheerful. Today, the chief cause for complaint is the chronic complaining.

The time for growling and grumbling is when the goose hangs high, with everybody feeling smug, self-satisfied, and over-complacent. Then crepe-draping and fault-finding may do some good. Crabbing can help to restore balance. Today calls for pressure on the opposite side—for assurance, cheerfulness, good nature. The very disputes we deplore arise in part as a reaction of the widespread mood of dissatisfaction and lament. It is time to reverse these negative trends.

World Looks to United States

This need for a more constructive spirit is doubly true in view of the new role of the United States in world affairs. UN leadership will not be won by formal diplomacy, but by the daily attitude which our people demonstrate. What would our international status become if measured by today's chorus of self-condemnation? Our global standing will not be helped if the United States becomes known throughout the world as Uncle Squawk instead of Uncle Sam.

No Devastation Here

Particularly impressive are the reports of technical observers who have been surveying the economic ruins of Europe. One of these experts set down a cold-blooded appraisal of the wreckage. Then his feelings got the better of him and he summed up his engineering data: "Blessed is the land that has known no bombs, where everyone has plenty to eat and where people are not worn down by years of deprivation."

America took full share of combat, but we led the world in production. We have come to possess industrial facilities beyond anything heretofore imagined. Our research and technique in a few years scored advances that normally might have taken a quarter century. America has cause for great thankfulness. Yes, I am still bullish on the United States.

New Highs Ahead

After the V-days, Washington prophets forecast dire unemployment. They were wrong. Furthermore, instead of sagging, retail trade has soared, brisk even in strikebound areas. Over-riding the shortage of goods and stoppage of output, business vitality has defied the grief mongers. Ample buying power points to still further expansion.

Besides the stricken nations of the world, there are key groups of our own people right here at home who should let up their gloomy forebodings. A reconversion to confidence will aid wage workers to raise output and aid farmers to raise crops. A holiday on crabbing will put fresh heart into postwar plans of executives and returning veterans, extra pep into campaigns of salesmen.

Let's Blackout Those Blues

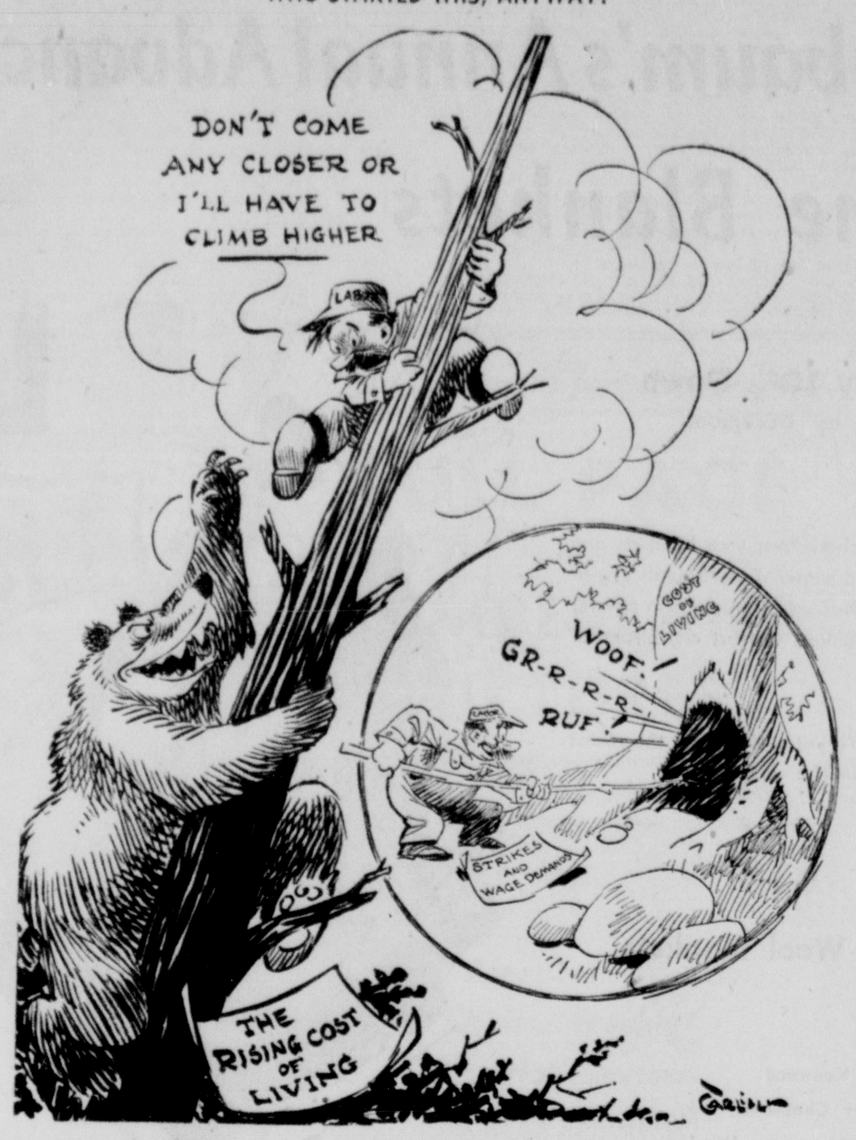

This country has been chosen as the site of the future UN world capital. In the light of this honor, it is particularly important that America should regain its ancestral fortitude. In some misguided moments, it may have appeared that America had switched its national emblem from the eagle to the crab. This dour mood must lift. Instead, we should make the most of the unprecedented opportunities. To capitalize to the full our abounding material and spiritual resources, we need the positive formula: Rather than crabbing about yesterday, let us count our manifold blessings for tomorrow.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Reaction against Lewis Diverts Public From Mine Accidents, a Just Grievance

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Tragedy of the coal strike situation is that public reaction against John L. Lewis has diverted attention away from one very just grievance on the part of the miners—mine accidents.

Lumbering, coal and metal mining cost more lives per working hour than any other industries in the nation. According to the National Safety Council, there are 50.5 disabling injuries for every 1,000,000 man-hours in the coal and metal mines, compared to 14.46 disabling injuries per 1,000,000 man-hours of work in the entire nation.

As late as 1941, Congress passed the National Coal Mine Inspection act empowering annual inspection of mines by the United States Bureau of Mines. However, the coal operators' lobby in Congress succeeded in winning its battle against compulsion. In other words, the operators don't have to carry out Bureau of Mines recommendations. The bureau can only advise.

Larger mines, however, usually do carry out these recommendations, and it is the small mines where most accidents occur.

State Inspectors Lax

Conflict also exists between state and federal inspection, with the operators preferring state inspectors, who are more lax, more politically minded, and sometimes secretely conspiring with the operators.

State laws also vary greatly. And the Bureau of Mines cannot make a flat recommendation contrary to state law. For instance, the big mining states of Pennsylvania, Kentucky and West Virginia have laws to determine, by use of a flame safety lamp, when a mine is gassy. This lamp can pick up deadly methane, the most common mine explosive gas, down to a minimum of around one per cent.

However, the Bureau of Mines insists that a mine is gassy and dangerous if there is as much as one-tenth of one per cent of methane present, and the bureau, not trusting the safety lamp, makes its test by a laboratory analysis which is foolproof.

The day after last Christmas, there was an explosion in the Belva mine near Pineville, Ky. Twenty-six men lost their lives. This mine was not "gassy" under Kentucky law, which meant that men could work in it with open (carbide) lamps. The Bureau of Mines, however, held that it was gassy and suggested the use of closed (electric) lamps. The bureau's tests had shown one-tenth of one per cent of gas, but the mine had been closed for three days over Christmas and the gas had accumulated.

Result: The bodies of twenty men still lie buried in the Belva mine.

Uniform Inspection Act

Unquestionably the miners deserve a uniform National Mine Inspection act giving the federal government full power of enforcement. Also there is a lot of merit to the idea of a welfare fund—but not when controlled by one man, and not when rammed down the throat of the American public at the point of a gun. Nearest thing to a welfare fund in any other industry is the fund administered by the Railroad Retirement Board which was created by an act of Congress.

If there was more leadership in Washington, the ground would have been cut from under John L. Lewis long ago by a move to meet the miners' safety and welfare demands by legislation, instead of allowing the situation to strangle the nation's economy.

Under The Dome

Democratic National Committee Chairman Bob Hannegan tried to submit his resignation to President Truman last weekend, but was turned down cold. Hannegan's wife and doctor are both urging him to resign. However, the president told Hannegan he could not be spared, at least until after the November election . . . President Truman has asked Secretary of the Interior Cap Krug to set up an interdepartmental committee to handle oil problems to be composed of Interior, Navy, War, Treasury, Congress and the State department. This is exactly what Harold Ickes urged at the start of the Pauley fight. If accepted, Ickes wouldn't have raised such a row. Truman, at that time, however, said such a board would be an affront to his pal Pauley.

Members of the "Bring Back Daddy club" organized by wives and mothers of men with children who are still in the service, are scheduled to descend on Washington on Monday, May 13. They have served advance notice they will remain until the release of all fathers in the armed forces is guaranteed by Congress or the army and navy. Any time a group of determined women stage a sit-down lobby in the capitol there should be interesting developments . . . UNRRA Director General Fiorello LaGuardia is preparing to register a stiff protest at the White House against the lady dictator of the State department, Mrs. Ruth B. Shipley, dispenser of passports. LaGuardia complains that Earl Browder, once convicted of passport fraud, had no trouble getting his papers to go to Moscow. Yet several members of UNRRA missions hired to go to Norway, White Russia and China have been refused passports by Lady Dictator Shipley.

Though his Commerce department is in charge of United States foreign trade policy, Secretary Henry Wallace is still being denied a chance to read the report on Russian economy sent the State department by George Kennon, of our Moscow embassy. This report, under lock and key at the White House, has even been shown to Republican Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, but not to the cabinet officer in charge of foreign trade . . . While the Russians beam eleven broadcasts daily to the USA we will have no voice to compete with those of the Kremlin, London, Paris or Madrid— if the action of the House in cutting the State department's international information service is upheld by the Senate. The budget voted by the House is too small, and the State department will probably have to abandon the one effective means of getting the story of America across censorship barriers to the rest of the world.

Diplomatic Chaff

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin has persuaded the United States to loan England twelve transports to move the 200,000 anti-Soviet Polish troops from Italy back to England. Secretary of State James Byrnes has rejected a proposal from Bevin to move these Poles to the United States . . . It was all set for Herbert Hoover to visit Russia when Secretary of State Byrnes intervened. The Russians had given their okay but suddenly Byrnes ca' Hoover urging him not to go.

New Philippine President-elect Manuel Roxas will arrive in Washington about the middle of this month . . . Former Polish Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk has warned the Allies that there can be no free elections in Poland until the Red army gets out. Mikolajczyk also charged that the Red army controls 00,000 acres of Polish farm land, while the Polish people starve . . . The State department is renewing its petition to the Yugoslav government for American flyers to testify at the trial of Gen. Draja Mikhailovich . . . The Russian government has just contributed 30,000 tons of wheat to Czechoslovakia. However, it doesn't want to work through UNRRA in donating wheat, for, in that case, its wheat couldn't be used for propaganda purposes.

Some Wise Words By a Labor Boss

DAVID BECK—who prefers to be known just as Dave Beck—head of the Teamsters' union and practically the whole AF of L in Seattle, recently made a speech at a meeting of the Western Conference of Teamsters, of which he is chairman. He thought so much of it that he has had attractive copies printed and distributed about the country.

Some statements in that speech are worth reading.

"We will not tolerate power-drunk leadership in our Teamster organization," says one.

"We can employ any number of men who know how to call strikes. That does not require either brains or ability.

"We can find plenty of men who are able to throw their members out of work, who would refuse to recognize any argument except their own economic strength, who would crucify both industry and labor, including their own members, to win a selfish victory, regardless of cost.

"We do not want, nor will we tolerate, that kind of leadership.

And:

"We are . . . vitally interested in making certain that from the increasing productivity of labor, the performing of an honest day's work for an honest day's wage, and from the greatest use of the machine in both industry and agriculture, the consumer shall pay the lowest possible price when he buys the product of farm or factory.

"It is only through the perfection of this process that consumer, industry and labor can receive the full benefits of free enterprise and of our American competitive system."

Mr. Beck went on to warn against too much government in business. He warned the members of his organization against unwise buying, which he said contributes to inflation.

And he added:

"Once you sign a contract, observe it to the letter, even though it prove to be a bad bargain."

Dave Beck is a big man in organized labor. Out in Seattle he was not only a powerful labor boss but also a political boss. His resources and influence were such that he was known popularly as the "dictator of Seattle." For years he intimidated the labor groups and the politicians of Seattle — until finally the people voted down his candidate for mayor.

Whatever he has done in the past, and whatever one may think of it, Dave Beck has the reputation in Seattle of living up to his dictum about keeping a contract, once signed, even if it proves a bad bargain. But his present words, as herein noted, indicates that he is a man who has learned something from his experience and has the foresight to apply it to the future.

However Beck arrived at his conclusions and whatever his purpose, these words are words of wisdom and statesmanship. They are words that state the case for genuine labor leadership in an impressive and appealing matter.

We need more enlightened labor leadership of this kind.

Some Things Pearson Has Overlooked

DREW PEARSON, in his Washington Merry-Go-Round, has been stressing the fact that some organizations have been spending considerable money in fighting the OPA. His statements were in the nature of a revelation to which someway there was attached a sense of opprobium.

But, this was not really a revelation. The spending of money by organizations has been freely and frankly admitted by them. Some three weeks ago, for example, Robert R. Wason, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told the Senate Banking committee that the association had lawfully spent $395,850 in one recent campaign against the OPA.

But, Mr. Pearson failed to note that, as Representative Bursell, of Illinois, has pointed out, the OPA has an army of government propagandists costing the taxpayers more than $13,000,000 a year to support such bureaucratic representations. The full force of this army was virtually turned loose to fight the opponents of OPA. It takes considerable money and effort to counter that.

It is only fair to note, also, that opponents of the OPA are not all seeking to destroy it by having price controls ended. Some of them do want that, to be sure, in the sincere belief that it would be the best thing for the country by permitting the system of free competition to operate immediately. But a number of them are seeking only a rule of reason in the operation of price controls whereby production can be stimulated instead of being impeded or stopped.

A Spinet Era Is Burgeoning

IT IS ESTIMATED that 11,000,000 persons in the United States, most of them children, are studying music. The Music Foundation of America says that 8,000,000 play the piano. These presumably play acceptably. How many additional persons merely commit assault and battery on the piano would make another sizable but now neglected statistic.

But these figures do not mean much to Junior, whose fond parents want him to have a musical education. The postwar shortages of pianos, along with all the other things they have the money to buy but can't is Papa's and Mama's worry. Backed-up orders are sufficient to absorb capacity production for the next five years, industry representatives estimate. Everybody seems to want spinets, they report, with only a few grands and practically no uprights in demand.

The American family will pay thirty to sixty per cent more than prewar prices for a new piano, according to a study by the family economics bureau of a large life insurance company. The study finds sixty per cent of the cost of a piano to be wages. Higher prices are expected to have little immediate effect on discouraging demand, and dealers estimate at least ten customers for every instrument to be available this year. Far from rendering the piano obsolete as a medium of musical expression in the home, the radio seems to have made it more popular than ever.

President Truman has asked Secretary of the Interior Cap Krug to set up an interdepartmental committee to handle oil problems to be composed of Interior, Navy, War, Treasury, Congress and the State department. This is exactly what Harold Ickes urged at the start of the Pauley fight. If accepted, Ickes wouldn't have raised such a row. Truman, at that time, however, said such a board would be an affront to his pal Pauley.

Members of the "Bring Back Daddy club" organized by wives and mothers of men with children who are still in the service, are scheduled to descend on Washington on Monday, May 13. They have served advance notice they will remain until the release of all fathers in the armed forces is guaranteed by Congress or the army and navy. Any time a group of determined women stage a sit-down lobby in the capitol there should be interesting developments . . . UNRRA Director General Fiorello LaGuardia is preparing to register a stiff protest at the White House against the lady dictator of the State department, Mrs. Ruth B. Shipley, dispenser of passports. LaGuardia complains that Earl Browder, once convicted of passport fraud, had no trouble getting his papers to go to Moscow. Yet several members of UNRRA missions hired to go to Norway, White Russia and China have been refused passports by Lady Dictator Shipley.

Though his Commerce department is in charge of United States foreign trade policy, Secretary Henry Wallace is still being denied a chance to read the report on Russian economy sent the State department by George Kennon, of our Moscow embassy. This report, under lock and key at the White House, has even been shown to Republican Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, but not to the cabinet officer in charge of foreign trade . . . While the Russians beam eleven broadcasts daily to the USA we will have no voice to compete with those of the Kremlin, London, Paris or Madrid— if the action of the House in cutting the State department's international information service is upheld by the Senate. The budget voted by the House is too small, and the State department will probably have to abandon the one effective means of getting the story of America across censorship barriers to the rest of the world.

Diplomatic Chaff

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin has persuaded the United States to loan England twelve transports to move the 200,000 anti-Soviet Polish troops from Italy back to England. Secretary of State James Byrnes has rejected a proposal from Bevin to move these Poles to the United States . . . . It was all set for Herbert Hoover to visit Russia when Secretary of State Byrnes intervened. The Russians had given their okay but suddenly Byrnes cabled Hoover urging him not to go.

New Philippine President-elect Manuel Roxas will arrive in Washington about the middle of this month . . . Former Polish Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk has warned the Allies that there can be no free elections in Poland until the Red army gets out. Mikolajczyk also charged that the Red army controls 00,000 acres of Polish farm land, while the Polish people starve . . . The State department is renewing its petition to the Yugoslav government for American flyers to testify at the trial of Gen. Draja Mikhailovich . . . The Russian government has just contributed 30,000 tons of wheat to Czechoslovakia. However, it doesn't want to work through UNRRA in donating wheat, for, in that case, its wheat couldn't be used for propaganda purposes.

IT'S 4 to 1 YOU CAN GET A LOAN Here!

THE more times we say "Yes" to requests for loans, the more business we do. And since making personal loans of $10 to $250 or more is our only business — that's mighty important to us. Proof that we do say "Yes": 4 out of 5 who ask for a loan at 'Personal' get it.

1. RIGHT NOW we are making "Tide-over" loans to former war workers waiting to go back at their old plant or to start on a new job.

2. RIGHT NOW we are making loans to finance the purchase of refrigerators, radios, washing machines, etc.

'Personal' makes loans to employed men and women—married or single. You can get cash on your signature alone or on your furniture or auto.

Don't borrow unnecessarily — but if a loan is to your advantage, we'll be glad to say "Yes." The odds are 4 to 1 you'll get it at 'Personal'.

Coal Mine Strike Is Seen Favoring Loan Opponents

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Test votes in the Senate indicate clearly that the loan to Great Britain will pass Congress. Amendments that are tacked on in the course of the measure's progress through the two houses can be ironed out in conference. But the fact is that the vote against demanding permanent possession of bases at present leased to the U. S. by Britain was a true reflection on the Senate's attitude toward the loan itself. A majority favors the idea. There's no question about that now.

The real problem is whether a minority, which is bent on using almost any tactics to defeat the bill of the majority, will succeed presently in sidetracking the bill or in keeping it from ever getting into the conference committee stage.

The coal strike has undoubtedly given aid to the opponents of the British loan who want delay. There are some senators, favorable to the loan, who feel that the country should be protected against further damage to the economic system through the prolongation of the strike.

Voting Date Likely

One thing seems sure—if the loan bill is set aside, it will not be without some agreement as to fixing a time for voting. If that kind of understanding is reached in the Senate, it is probable that some form of anti-strike legislation will then be passed. If the Senate ever acts, the House of Representatives would move quickly to accept the Senate measure.

The truth is the House of Representatives for several years has had a substantial majority in favor of legislation to cure monopolistic practices by labor unions that have closed shops. The Senate has repeatedly blocked action. The miners' union has complete control over the miners of the country and the insistence by the miners' chieftains on an acceptance of one demand before any others will be discussed is, of course, an abuse of the right of collective bargaining. Certainly no such extreme power was ever contemplated by the members of Congress who voted for the Wagner Labor Relations law in the first instance.

Election Year Handicaps

Pressure of Congress to do something about the coal strike's effects on the economic life of the country has been increasing the last twenty-four hours. The people are beginning to wonder how far the situation must drift before the legislators will do something about it.

The difficulty is that, since this is an election year, members do not like to stick their necks out and push for legislation which in a few days might seem to be superfluous. For John L. Lewis is capable of calling off strikes as quickly as he initiates them. He can do an about face rapidly and leave the legislation hanging in the air—but the members of Congress who sponsored it might then feel they had incurred the antagonism of certain labor unions unnecessarily.

Strikes Not Lessened

The curious thing about the present situation, however, is that not a single spokesman or organized labor in the upper levels of the movement has ventured to speak out on the coal strike or its issues. Both the AFL and the CIO leaders apparently approve of the economic disturbance that has been caused and of the widespread suffering that has resulted already from the breakdown of the collective bargaining process which they so frequently extoll.

Before the Wagner law was passed, Congress was assured that, if collective bargaining could only be written into the statutes, that strikes would be eliminated. The record shows that strikes are as severe as they were before 1935, when the law was passed.

In the Senate this week, Senator Barklay the majority leader, asked what strike had ever been precented by the cooling-off provisions of the Smith-Connally law and not a single member present on the floor knew enough about the situation to tell him that throughout the war the law had served as a deterrent because the thirty-day provision did afford time in many cases for the collective bargaining process to function.

A better question might have been whether the Wagner law had prevented serious strikes in the last decade. If the answer is in the negative, then the inference might be drawn that Mr. Barkley's expressed antipathy to legislation about strikes could be construed to mean that he favored a repeal of the Wagner law—which, of course, he doesn't. His question illustrates the lack of realism surrounding the while debate on labor legislation.

Well, Dorothy Lamour was robbed the other day. You all know Dorothy—She's one of the trio in the "Road" pictures—She's the curves—my nose is the steam shovel—and Crosby's the dead end.

The thieves really did a good job of cleaning her out too. They got everything but her sarong. They would have taken that too, only the baby was wearing it for a diaper. The things were taken from the back of her car. That will teach you fellows a lesson—Don't get caught with anything valuable in the back seat of your car—Do your necking in the front seat.

The Baltimore police immediately put out an alarm to pick up all characters who were following Dorothy—But I proved I was in Hollywood at the time.

And the minute word got out that all her sarongs were stolen Paramount's stock dropped fifty percent. But it's a good thing they didn't try to take the things while she was wearing them. They never would have got away with it—She puts up a good fight—believe me, I know.

Of course the truth is they had to take them when she wasn't there. It wouldn't have done the thieves any good to have held her up with a gun—before they could get a chance to fire it at her she'd melt the barrel down.

Frostburg BTU To Give Combined Program Sunday

A program combining Mother's day and Christian Home week will be given at the First English Baptist church, Frostburg, at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning, by the Baptist Training Union, with Mrs. Bessie B. Grim directing.

Opening with the congregation singing, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," the program will include the invocation by the Rev. H. O. Walters; a Scripture reading by Mrs. G. Kear Hosken; welcome by Marjory Hosken; a hymn, "Faith of Our Mothers," by the Boy's Choir; and a recitation "Only One Mother," by Donald Smith.

"Famous Mothers of the Bible and History," will be presented in a tableau with Mrs. Emily Stewart narrator. Sarah the mother of Isaac will be portrayed by Mrs. Margaret Daniels; Hannah, mother of Samuel, by Mrs. Jabez Workman and William Elkins; Jockabed, mother of Moses, Mrs. Evelyn Burkett; Mary mother of Jesus, Dorothy Bittner; Elizabeth, mother of John the Baptist, Dorothy Beall; Lois, grandmother of Timothy, Mrs. Marion Geary; Eunice, mother of Timothy, Mrs. Edna Richardson; Timothy, Norman Geary.

Mary Ball Washington, mother of George Washington, Mrs. Marion Stewart; Nancy Hawks Lincoln, mother of Abe Lincoln, Mrs. Mildred Lewis; Anna Mathilda Whistler, mother of Whistler, Mrs. Ellie B. Thomas; pioneer mother and child, Mrs. H. O. Walters and Sharon Elizabeth Walters; modern American mother and baby, Mrs. Frances Bean Hollida and daughter, Bonita Kay.

There will also be a musical reading, "Mother's Voice" by Miss Nellie Harvey; recitations by Sally Ann Morgan, Sally Stewart, Donna Ramhoff and Shirley Burkett; and vocal solo, "Mother of Mine," by Virginia Lee Rees.

A playlett will also be given. It is entitled, "Appreciating Mother," by Neva Geary, Mary Virginia Weibrecht, Larry Grim, and Mrs. Mary Weibrecht; after which Catherine G. Minnicks will give a musical reading, "Backward Turn Backward, O Time in Your Flight." Betty Bittner and Thelma Harris will make the announcements and take the offering. The program will conclude with a hymn and benediction by the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gunter, Washington street, are visiting in Atlantic City, where the latter is recuperating from a recent operation.

Music Day Program Is Given at State Teachers College

Music day was observed Wednesday at Frostburg State Teachers college, with a special program arranged by Prof. Maurice Matteson and the annual scholarship contest, sponsored by Phi Omicron Delta Sorority.

Mary Frances Comer, soprano, Wood street, Frostburg, won the scholarship and will enter the college in the fall, when she will receive the scholarship. A senior at Beall high school, Frostburg, she was one of the six contestants entering the contest.

Prof. Matteson said last evening that there were five voice contestants and one piano. The winner received a grade of eighty-seven per cent and the lowest eighty-two per cent, showing that the musical preparation in the schools is consistently better, he said. Formerly there was a much wider discrepancy in the marks showing a much greater variation in ability.

Mrs. Henry Swearingen was chairman of the judging committee which included Mrs. Neva M. Loar, Mrs. Monroe MacKenzie, Prof. and Mrs. Matteson.

The afternoon program opened with the Mozart opera, "Bastien and Bastienne;" sung by Miss Jean Weller, Miss Marian Orndorff and Donald Morgan. The ballet consisted of twelve members of the Maryland Singers.

For the past eight years the college has awarded certificates in voice and piano but, Prof. Matteson said, for the first time a certificate in conducting was given yesterday, when Miss Marjory Hinkle, Cumberland, received hers for conducting the incidental music presented by the Maryland Singers, which consisted of the second part of the program. A pupil of Prof. Matteson, Miss Hinkle has completed a four-year course specializing in conducting.

Miss Lillian Compton, president, welcomed the groups invited from the various high schools of the county, guests and contestants, who were entertained by the college at luncheon.

ABL Social Committee To Hold Dance Tonight

The Social committee of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory will entertain with a semi-formal spring dance this evening at Clary Club, with the Modernaires playing from 9 until 1 o'clock.

W. A. Nichols is chairman of arrangements and is being assisted by Betty Flick, Earl Willett, Ruth Vance, Keith Sisk, Emily Freeman and Homer Lowenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whetzel, Pittsburgh, are guests of Mrs. Whetzel's sister, Mrs. Clyde Wilson, Washington street.

East Side P-TA Hears Dr. Hawkins Discuss Cancer

Dr. Arthur Hawkins, local surgeon and authority on prevention and treatment of cancer, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the East Side Parent-Teacher Association. Discussing preventitive methods, Dr. Hawkins stressed that, "eternal vigilance is needed for prevention of cancer."

Speaking of cancer of the face, lip, hand, cheek, tongue, larynax, stomach and breast, he stressed the point that cleaniness is the greatest safeguard against cancer nd that it can be cured if taken in time. He urged that one should constantly be on guard because there is no warning pain accompanying cancer in its early stages. The pain, he said, usually comes in the last stages, when it is too late to cure it.

One good rule is to eat moderately, carefully and above all practice vigilance, for, he said, cancer causes death at about the rate of one every three minutes. A voluntary collection was taken and $25.23 was donated for the cancer clinic. The group voted to have Dr. Hawkins speak separately to the women and men in the near future.

Lee Silcox presided and announced that May dinner has been canceled; he appointed Mrs. John Chisholm and Mrs. Alice Yankie members of the Social committee; and announced the election of officers will be held in June.

The Stewart Studio Band entertained with a program with Shirley Hendrickson as vocalist. William Drew played two numbers on his Hawaiian guitar. Other members of the band were Donna Zembower, Royce Hendrickson, Jean Snyder, Catherine Miller, Kenneth Williams, Ella Mae Marker, accordian; Harold Hardsock, first trumpet; James Close, second trumpet; Ronald Sneathon, alto saxophone; Mary Elizabeth Kammauf, tenor saxophone; Eugene Brant, first clarinet; Janet Wilson, second clarinet; Deloras Ferrone, first marimba; Jean Marker, second marimba, Phyllis Webb, electric guitar, and Donald Bergess, bass violin.

Miss Margaret Beck's fourth grade won the $5 prize for the largest percentage attendance. Refreshments were served by the committee with approximately 300 persons

Newcomers Club Entertains with Party

The recently organized Newcomers Club entertained with a card party, Wednesday evening at Central YMCA. Prizes in bridge were won by Irvan Hall, Mrs. Charles New, S. K. Terry and Mrs. Fred Burton; William Luman, Francis Guy, Mrs. Daniel Mattingly and Mrs. William Luman in 500.

Following play refreshments were served. The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Mrs. H. A. Jamison, Mrs. Dermot Reddy, Mrs. Henry Lowery and Mr. Hall.

English Council Is Discussed

The Fort Hill high school English department entertained the English department of Allegany high school with a tea, preceding a joint meeting to formulate plans to form an English Council, yesterday at the school.

The council will consist of English teachers of the county and later will be affiliated with the National Council of Teachers of English. A planning committee will soon be appointed to acquaint English teachers in the county with the proposed plans.

Special guests were Miss Margaret Thomas, Bruce high, Westernport; Miss Grace Finzel, Beall, Frostburg; Ralph R. Webster, Allegany; Victor D. Heisey, Fort Hill, and Richard T. Rizer, county assistant superintendent.

Guests were received by Miss Nellie Willison, chairman; Mr. Heisey, Mrs. Rachael Dunn, Miss Lillian Boughton and Ralph M. Luman. A crystal bowl of spring flowers and tall tapers centered the tea table where Miss Helen Smith and Miss Esther Holzshu presided. Refreshments were served by Miss Evelyn Miller and Miss Yola Hudson assisted by the girls from the Home Economics department.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Blank, Bowling Green, received a telephone call from their son, Thomas E. Blank, seaman first class, who arrived in San Francisco, after 21 months duty in the Pacific. He will return home the latter part of the month.

Miss Helen L. Kalbaugh, Pittsburgh, formerly of this city, is a patient at Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Holzshu To Begin Leadership Training Course May 29

Plans for the periodic visit of the national field worker, day and established camp, a training course and a party for the Juliette Low representatives were discussed at the meeting of the Girl Scout Leaders Association Wednesday at the little house with Mrs. A. M. Spioch presiding.

Miss Johnston, the field worker from national headquarters, will be here May 21-22. She will hold a forum with the leaders at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening to discuss leadership problems, and will also meet with the council.

Day camp will be held sometime in July at the Kiwanis Sunshine Camp Site; established camp will be at the 4-H Pleasant Valley camp, August 18 through 30.

Mrs. J. Henry Holzshu will conduct a leadership course covering all phases of scouting. There will be four meetings to discuss program planning, child behavior, troop management, fire building, games, participation in group ceremonies, song trailing, outdoor cooking and nature lore. The course will begin May 29, from 7:45 until 10 o'clock at the little house. Other meetings will be June 5 and June 12 at the same time. A cookout is also planned for June 7 from 10 a. m., until 2 p. m.

June 17 was chosen for the party for the Juliette Low representatives, at which time the contributions for the World Friendship fund will be collected. It was also announced that the scouts will take part in the "I Am an American Day parade, May 19 and all are asked to be at the armory at 2 o'clock in uniform.

Concluding the meeting Mrs. Ruth Lee Bowen conducted a class on Arts and Crafts, and demonstrated the various techniques for tracing leaves. The next leaders meeting will be held the third Wednesday instead of May 12, because of the training course, and tentative plans are for a cookout at that time.

Frostburg BTU To Give Combined Program Sunday

A program combining Mother's day and Christian Home week will be given at the First English Baptist church, Frostburg, at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning, by the Baptist Training Union, with Mrs. Bessie B. Grim directing.

Opening with the congregation singing, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," the program will include the invocation by the Rev. H. O. Walters; a Scripture reading by Mrs. G. Kear Hosken; welcome by Marjory Hosken; a hymn, "Faith of Our Mothers," by the Boy's Choir; and a recitation "Only One Mother," by Donald Smith.

"Famous Mothers of the Bible and History," will be presented in a tableau with Mrs. Emily Stewart narrator. Sarah the mother of Isaac will be portrayed by Mrs. Margaret Daniels; Hannah, mother of Samuel, by Mrs. Jabez Workman and William Elkins; Jockabed, mother of Moses, Mrs. Evelyn Burkett; Mary mother of Jesus, Dorothy Bittner; Elizabeth, mother of John the Baptist, Dorothy Beall; Lois, grandmother of Timothy, Mrs. Marion Geary; Eunice, mother of Timothy, Mrs. Edna Richardson; Timothy, Norman Geary.

Mary Ball Washington, mother of George Washington, Mrs. Marion Stewart; Nancy Hawks Lincoln, mother of Abe Lincoln, Mrs. Mildred Lewis; Anna Mathilda Whistler, mother of Whistler, Mrs. Ellie B. Thomas; pioneer mother and child, Mrs. H. O. Walters and Sharon Elizabeth Walters; modern American mother and baby, Mrs. Frances Bean Hollida and daughter, Bonita Kay.

There will also be a musical reading, "Mother's Voice" by Miss Nellie Harvey; recitations by Sally Ann Morgan, Sally Stewart, Donna Ramhoff and Shirley Burkett; and vocal solo, "Mother of Mine," by Virginia Lee Rees.

A playlett will also be given. It is entitled, "Appreciating Mother," by Neva Geary, Mary Virginia Weibrecht, Larry Grim, and Mrs. Mary Weibrecht; after which Catherine G. Minnicks will give a musical reading, "Backward Turn Backward, O Time in Your Flight." Betty Bittner and Thelma Harris will make the announcements and take the offering. The program will conclude with a hymn and benediction by the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gunter, Washington street, are visiting in Atlantic City, where the latter is recuperating from a recent operation.

Music Day Program Is Given at State Teachers College

Music day was observed Wednesday at Frostburg State Teachers college, with a special program arranged by Prof. Maurice Matteson and the annual scholarship contest, sponsored by Phi Omicron Delta Sorority.

Mary Frances Comer, soprano, Wood street, Frostburg, won the scholarship and will enter the college in the fall, when she will receive the scholarship. A senior at Beall high school, Frostburg, she was one of the six contestants entering the contest.

Prof. Matteson said last evening that there were five voice contestants and one piano. The winner received a grade of eighty-seven per cent and the lowest eighty-two per cent, showing that the musical preparation in the schools is consistently better, he said. Formerly there was a much wider discrepancy in the marks showing a much greater variation in ability.

Mrs. Henry Swearingen was chairman of the judging committee which included Mrs. Neva M. Loar, Mrs. Monroe MacKenzie, Prof. and Mrs. Matteson.

The afternoon program opened with the Mozart opera, "Bastien and Bastienne;" sung by Miss Jean Weller, Miss Marian Orndorff and Donald Morgan. The ballet consisted of twelve members of the Maryland Singers.

For the past eight years the college has awarded certificates in voice and piano but, Prof. Matteson said, for the first time a certificate in conducting was given yesterday, when Miss Marjory Hinkle, Cumberland, received hers for conducting the incidental music presented by the Maryland Singers, which consisted of the second part of the program. A pupil of Prof. Matteson, Miss Hinkle has completed a four-year course specializing in conducting.

Miss Lillian Compton, president, welcomed the groups invited from the various high schools of the county, guests and contestants, who were entertained by the college at luncheon.

ABL Social Committee To Hold Dance Tonight

The Social committee of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory will entertain with a semi-formal spring dance this evening at Clary Club, with the Modernaires playing from 9 until 1 o'clock.

W. A. Nichols is chairman of arrangements and is being assisted by Betty Flick, Earl Willett, Ruth Vance, Keith Sisk, Emily Freeman and Homer Lowenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whetzel, Pittsburgh, are guests of Mrs. Whetzel's sister, Mrs. Clyde Wilson, Washington street.

DARE TO FEEL

Dare to feel!

Don't avoid feeling because it may be painful . . . or repress your feelings because you fear "what people may say" . . . or because you think your feelings may not be "nice" . . . or because feeling may force you to take uncomfortable action.

Dare to feel abundantly, taking all impressions in your stride even at the risk of pain, embarrassment or inconvenience.

Few of us have that degree of courage. Most of us avoid unpleasant or challenging emotions—particularly those emotions which expose tendencies in ourselves which we may not wish to acknowledge. We welcome pleasant or romantic feelings. We cherish feelings which help us forget disturbing realities. We cultivate exciting and amusing reactions. But we duck and run if threatened with serious or sad emotions and we loathe feelings which force us to change our viewpoint.

We have, of course, the usual cover-up excuses. We say, "It doesn't do any good to let ourselves get all upset." That's wrong. It does do good. For feeling, whether happy or unhappy, is the source of all human life, the beginning of all progress. Feelings are the means by which we reach out into other lives and comprehend other needs and extend our own horizons.

The person who entertains only pleasing and self centered emotions might as well be a cow or a pig for these brutes also share the same gamut of sensation. They too delight in eating, playing, sleeping. But they cannot project themselves into other lives. Their horizons are no wider than their own hides.

We would have no civilization unless certain brave souls dared beyond their own personal sphere and touched world wide human experience. We would have no pity, no understanding or justice for others unless some valiant spirits were willing to kneel and weep and bleed in life's dark Gethsemane. We would have no great inventions or discoveries, no far flung reforms, no art or engineering unless feeling had first paved the way for action.

Dare to feel! Dare to feel to the full limit of your capacity. And watch your capacity grow with each new venture.

Dare to feel even those emotions which are alien to your training or tradition, which may even shock or trouble you. For you cannot become either wise or tolerant unless you have feelings on all sides of any problem.

Dare to feel! Don't let yourself become a public nuisance while doing so. Don't throw your temperament around and don't lose control of yourself. Use good sense and good taste.

But dare to feel no matter what it costs. For feeling is life. You are only as broad and as deep as your own emotions.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

DICK: "I wonder how the distillers feel about that new movie built around an alcoholic."

OLD JUDGE: "It's funny you asked that, Dick . . . I was just reading a piece about it."

DICK: "What did it say?"

OLD JUDGE: "A very sensible statement. It said the beverage distillers are fully aware of this problem and are cooperating in every way possible to help solve it. The alcoholic is to the beverage distilling industry what the reckless driver is to the automobile industry. There is nothing wrong with the automobile, but in the hands of a man who doesn't know how to drive it or is reckless, it becomes a menace. Likewise, it's not the use but the abuse of alcoholic beverages that causes trouble."

DICK: "Wonder why it is most men can drink moderately and others can't?"

OLD JUDGE: "Intensive research at a great university has shown that most excessive drinkers are really sick people. They are suffering from some physical, social or emotional upset. And great strides have been made in developing clinical methods of helping these unfortunate people."

Hindu Widow Burns On Husband's Pyre

ALWAR, India (AP)—Although religious self-immolation of widows on funeral pyres of their husbands has been forbidden for nearly a century, a 16-year-old widow recently cast herself into the flames consuming the body of her 20-year-old husband and conversed with friends until she lost consciousness.

Mannerheim's Retreat

HELSINKI (AP) — Field Marshal Carl Gustaf Emil Mannerheim, 79, is studying agriculture to take charge of a large estate he has purchased as a retreat following his resignation as president of Finland.

—The average cost of drilling oil wells has increased more than one-third from pre-war levels.

—Australia expects $14,800,000 of German property as reparations.

MILLINERY NOTE

NIFTY BONNET . . . For a romantic lady. Beige lace with matching lace cuffs.

—Brazil has put a special tax on merchandise handled at the port of Santos, to get funds to improve other Brazilian ports.

County Pays $2,250 In Red Fox Bounties

DANVILLE, Ill., (AP)—The red fox business is booming in Vermilion county. Four hundred and fifty were killed in three months. The killers, receiving bounties of $5 per head, collected $2,250. The payoff for the champion hunter, who shot ninety-eight, was $490.

—Brazilianite, a yellow-green mineral recently found in Brazil, is the first mineral with gemlike properties discovered since 1909.

Best Seller Author Plans Historical Novel

LYNCHBURG, Va., (AP) — Ben Ames Williams, author of the best seller, "Leave Her to Heaven," is going to do a histrical novel and has come to Lynchburg to gather material.

Williams, a Mississippi native, is concerned mainly with data on Gen. James Longstreet, CSA, his great-uncle, who will be among the characters in the book.

—United States merchant seamen receive nearly three times the pay of the average of fifteen other lading maritime nations.

Will on Trolley Transfer Is Valid

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 19-word will, written on the back of a street car transfer, was accepted for probate. It read:

"To whom it may concern. I am writing this as a will bequeathing all my possessions to my wife Elsie. (Signed) Edwin Meiser."

—A London site is being sought by the "Save the Children" fund for a memorial to children of all countries killed in the war.

—Food costs are absorbing nearly all mass-buying power in Italy.

Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary Noted By Parsons Couple

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, W. Va., May 9—Mr. and Mrs. William E. Roth, Eglon, observed their sixtieth wedding anniversary at their home Thursday.

The couple were married in 1886 by the Rev. W. Y. Cline. During the last fifty-five years of their married life they have resided at Eglon, where they are active members of the Lutheran church. Mrs. Roth was the former Priscilla M. Wotring, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wotring, Eglon. She was born in Eglon, December 17, 1862, and Mr. Roth was born April 5, 1863.

They are the parents of five living children, Mrs. Ada Markwood and Mrs. Katherine Wiles, Terra Alta; Paul, Eglon; Earl, Horsheshoe Run; and Carl, Kingwood.

Williams Rites Held

Funeral services were conducted at the Minear funeral home in Parsons, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Christena Williams, 65, who died in Tucker county hospital Monday morning. She was born August 22, 1880, a daughter of the late George Kerns, and Columbia White Kerns, Dry Fork.

Besides her mother, she is survived by her husband, J. C. Williams, Parsons; one sister, Mrs. Dessie Roy, Ornfino, Idaho; six brothers, Omar Kerns and Will Kerns, both of Dry Fork; Robert L., Job; Richard, Thomas; Jerry, Morgantown; E. A. Kerns, Medina; three half-sisters, Mrs. Delphia Somerfield, Huntington; Mrs. Virginia Gross, Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Bernie Mole, Elkins; and two half-brothers, Fred Kerns, Job; and Cody Kerns, Elkins.

Interment was in Parsons city cemetery.

Rowland To Head Group

Ralph Rowland, forest ranger of Parsons, was elected as chairman of the Farming for Better Living group in Tucker county at their annual business meeting held in Parsons Tuesday evening.

Other officials named were Gordon Cade, vice-chairman; and County Agent, A. L. Kidd as secretary. Kidd stated that sixty-four have enrolled in the contest for this year, ten more than last year.

May Attend Conference

Jason Wolford, assistant county superintendent of Tucker county schools, has been invited to attend a national conference of the American Country Life Association at Michigan State College, June 11-13.

The theme of the meeting will be "Rural Life in a Changing World." Mr. Wolford will represent rural educators.

Two Fires Reported

Ralph Rowland, forest ranger of Parsons, has announced that two fires burned over forty acres of wood lands and grass with a loss of $400.

More than eighty men were summoned to extinguish the blaze that burned on land owned by the Monongahela Power Company on Route 15, near the mouth of Clover run. The first fire was discovered and reported by a county resident and was due to a bolt of lightening. The other fire was not reported until it had burned more than four hours.

West Virginia Senate Candidate Is Certified By Secretary of State

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 9 (AP)—Secretary of State William S. O'Brien certified to six Eastern panhandle counties today the name of a West Virginia House of Delegates member who through last-minute filing became a Republican candidate for the state Senate from the Sixteenth district.

O'Brien received from Harvey D. Beeler, Berkeley Springs, and Mrs. Ada Steiner, postmaster of the Morgan county town, sworn statements attesting that Beeler's certificate was placed in her hands at 11:30 p. m. May 4, one-half hour before the candidacy deadline.

Certification to the circuit clerks of Berkeley, Hampshire, Hardy, Mineral, Morgan and Jefferson counties was withheld by O'Brien pending receipt of the statements after the envelope containing Beeler's certificate arrived here with a 7 a. m. Monday postmark.

Velma Richmond, Frostburg Girl, To Become Bride

Engagement to Officer in Merchant Marine Is Announced

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, May 9—Mr. and Mrs. John L. Richmond, 290 East Main street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Velma Marie Richmond, to George D. Pfahler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Pfahler, 104 Beachley street, Meyersdale, Pa.

Miss Richmond is a graduate of Beall high school and Frostburg State Teachers' college. While at the latter she was a member of Phi Omicron Delta sorority, the Maryland Singers and the college orchestra, and gave a certificate voice recital under the direction of Prof. Maurice Matteson. She was a member of the faculty of the Cottage City elementary school, Cottage City, Md., and has been employed in the accounting department of the Western Maryland Railway Company at Cumberland for over two years.

Lt. (j.g.) Pfahler is a graduate of Meyersdale high school and has just returned from three and one-half years' active service with the merchant marine. He has served in all theaters of war on troop ships, tankers, and cargo ships as third assistant engineer.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Director Named

The Frostburg Recreation Association has appointed Ray Middleton to serve as director of summer activities being planned for the children of the community. He is a graduate of Beall high school and a veteran of World War II, with a record of combat service in the Okinawa campaign with the navy.

Due to the increased attendance at Frostburg State Teachers' college, the college athletic field will not be available this year, and the executive committee of the association is considering the community park near the swimming pool as the best available site for the summer program.

Letters are being sent to all fraternal and civic groups in the community asking for contributions to carry on the summer program.

The executive committee will meet May 21, when it is expected that a complete report will be submitted on the playground site.

Former Resident Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Boyle, 28 Ralph street, Lowell, Mass., announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Bernard J. McDade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McDade, Baltimore, former residents of Frostburg.

The ceremony was performed April 27 at a nuptial mass celebrated in St. Peter's Catholic church, Lowell. Richard Goldsworthy, Jr., this city, served as best man. A reception, following the ceremony, was held in the Washington room of the Hotel Marlborough.

The bride, a graduate of Lowell high school, was a staff sergeant in the women's reserve of the marine corps and was stationed in Washington when she received her discharge. The bridegroom, widely known in this section, moved to Baltimore several years ago with his parents. He is a veteran of World War II and served overseas for an extended period. The couple are spending their honeymoon in Florida. They will reside in Baltimore.

Mother's Day Banquet Held

The annual Mother's day banquet of the Women's guild of Zion Evangelical and Reformed church was held Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room of the church, with Mrs. Mary Settle presiding.

The principal address was given by the Rev. Walter D. Mehrling, pastor, on the topic "Mothers of the Bible and Mothers of Today." Carlinda Ann Storm, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Storm, offered the prayer of thanksgiving before the banquet, and another 2-year-old girl, Carol Jean Settle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Settle, sang "Some Sunday Morning."

Other features of the program were a musical reading by Mrs. Storm, with Mrs. John Edminston playing the piano accompaniment; and a duet by Mrs. Edminston and Miss Irene Phillips. A floral gift was presented to Mrs. Annie Miller, 76, the oldest mother in attendance.

Miss Blubaugh Dies

Miss Pearl Blubaugh, daughter of Mrs. Mary C. Parks, East Main street, died this morning at Springfield hospital, Sykesville, Md.

Besides her mother, she is slrvived by her stepfather, Edgar Parks, and a half-brother, James Uphold, Frostburg.

The body arrived at the Hafer funeral home here, where services will be conducted Saturday at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of First Methodist church, Cumberland, will officiate. Interment will be in Allegany cemetery.

Brief Items

The membership committee of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, will meet Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the Legion hall, East Main street, to discuss the current Legion campaign to obtain a total of 1,000 members by Memorial day. The present membership of the organization is 930.

The Eva Jeffries Sunday school class of First Methodist church will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Arthur Thomas, Spring street, with Mrs. Rae Pugh and Mrs. Myrtle Sleeman as assistant hostesses.

Midland 4-H Club Marks Mother's Day

MIDLAND, May 9—The Midland 4-H Club held a Mother's day tea Wednesday evening at the Red Men's hall.

Alma Miller presided over the program which consisted of the 4-H pledge led by Betsy Robertson, "Bells of St. Mary's" and "Some Sunday Morning," sung by Irma and Betsy Robertson; tap dance by Kitty Ann Hawkins; skit, "Can I Use Your Phone," Lillian Fleigle; "4-H Facts and Our Accomplisments," Jean Shearer.

A fashion show was held later in the evening. Jo Anne Corrigan exhibited a cloth elephant. An apron was modeled by Margaret Williams. Kitty Ann Hawkins showed a dish towel, her fist 4-H project. Blouses were modeled by Marie Crowe, Patsy Stakem, Freda Houseworth, Betty Miller, Ethel Williams, Jean McFarlane, Sally Kilduff, Irma Robertson and Joanne Eagan. An evening gown was modeled by Lillian Fleigle.

Tables were decorated in green and white with wild flowers in the center. A book mark with a 4-H emblem was given as a favor.

Joseph Samuels, Piedmont, Weds

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, May 9—Mrs. Elsie Witherspoon, Burlington, N. C., and Joseph C. Samuels, 190 West Fairview sereet, Piedmont, W. Va., were married Monday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Methodist church, Cumberland, by the Rev. George E. Baughman. Mr. Samuels operates a cleaning and pressing shop on Third street, Piedmont. They have taken up their residence at Mr. Samuels home.

Rotary Conference Report

Recreational Program

The eight-week recreational program for children of school age of the Tri-Towns will begin about the last week in June and continue to the third week in August. The grounds of the Piedmont and Bruce high schools will be used simultameously. Larry Patterson, director, will select two assistants to supervise the playgrounds.

The amount of the budget set for carrying out the project is $750 and $600 for improving the grounds in the vicinity of Piedmont high school, J. Harold Baker, finance chairman, said.

A tag day will be held Saturday for funds to help carry out the proposed program.

The committee has decided to carry out two other plans to raise funds by sending letters to business firms, organizations and individuals asking for contributions.

Auto Safety Check

A safety check for all motor vehicles will begin May 15 and continue for six weeks, James H. Harrison, chief of police of Piedmont, W. Va., announced.

Velma Richmond, Frostburg Girl, To Become Bride

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, May 9—Mr. and Mrs. John L. Richmond, 290 East Main street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Velma Marie Richmond, to George D. Pfahler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Pfahler, 104 Beachley street, Meyersdale, Pa.

Miss Richmond is a graduate of Beall high school and Frostburg State Teachers' college. While at the latter she was a member of Phi Omicron Delta sorority, the Maryland Singers and the college orchestra, and gave a certificate voice recital under the direction of Prof. Maurice Matteson. She was a member of the faculty of the Cottage City elementary school, Cottage City, Md., and has been employed in the accounting department of the Western Maryland Railway Company at Cumberland for over two years.

Lt. (j.g.) Pfahler is a graduate of Meyersdale high school and has just returned from three and one-half years' active service with the merchant marine. He has served in all theaters of war on troop ships, tankers, and cargo ships as third assistant engineer.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Director Named

The Frostburg Recreation Association has appointed Ray Middleton to serve as director of summer activities being planned for the children of the community. He is a graduate of Beall high school and a veteran of World War II, with a record of combat service in the Okinawa campaign with the navy.

Due to the increased attendance at Frostburg State Teachers' college, the college athletic field will not be available this year, and the executive committee of the association is considering the community park near the swimming pool as the best available site for the summer program.

Letters are being sent to all fraternal and civic groups in the community asking for contributions to carry on the summer program.

The executive committee will meet May 21, when it is expected that a complete report will be submitted on the playground site.

Former Resident Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Boyle, 28 Ralph street, Lowell, Mass., announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Bernard J. McDade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McDade, Baltimore, former residents of Frostburg.

The ceremony was performed April 27 at a nuptial mass celebrated in St. Peter's Catholic church, Lowell. Richard Goldsworthy, Jr., this city, served as best man. A reception, following the ceremony, was held in the Washington room of the Hotel Marlborough.

The bride, a graduate of Lowell high school, was a staff sergeant in the women's reserve of the marine corps and was stationed in Washington when she received her discharge. The bridegroom, widely known in this section, moved to Baltimore several years ago with his parents. He is a veteran of World War II and served overseas for an extended period. The couple are spending their honeymoon in Florida. They will reside in Baltimore.

Mother's Day Banquet Held

The annual Mother's day banquet of the Women's guild of Zion Evangelical and Reformed church was held Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room of the church, with Mrs. Mary Settle presiding.

The principal address was given by the Rev. Walter D. Mehrling, pastor, on the topic "Mothers of the Bible and Mothers of Today." Carlinda Ann Storm, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Storm, offered the prayer of thanksgiving before the banquet, and another 2-year-old girl, Carol Jean Settle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Settle, sang "Some Sunday Morning."

Other features of the program were a musical reading by Mrs. Storm, with Mrs. John Edminston playing the piano accompaniment; and a duet by Mrs. Edminston and Miss Irene Phillips. A floral gift was presented to Mrs. Annie Miller, 76, the oldest mother in attendance.

Miss Blubaugh Dies

Miss Pearl Blubaugh, daughter of Mrs. Mary C. Parks, East Main street, died this morning at Springfield hospital, Sykesville, Md.

Besides her mother, she is survived by her stepfather, Edgar Parks, and a half-brother, James Uphold, Frostburg.

The body arrived at the Hafer funeral home here, where services will be conducted Saturday at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of First Methodist church, Cumberland, will officiate. Interment will be in Allegany cemetery.

Brief Items

The membership committee of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, will meet Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the Legion hall, East Main street, to discuss the current Legion campaign to obtain a total of 1,000 members by Memorial day. The present membership of the organization is 930.

The Eva Jeffries Sunday school class of First Methodist church will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Arthur Thomas, Spring street, with Mrs. Rae Pugh and Mrs. Myrtle Sleeman as assistant hostesses.

Midland 4-H Club Marks Mother's Day

MIDLAND, May 9—The Midland 4-H Club held a Mother's day tea Wednesday evening at the Red Men's hall.

Alma Miller presided over the program which consisted of the 4-H pledge led by Betsy Robertson, "Bells of St. Mary's" and "Some Sunday Morning," sung by Irma and Betsy Robertson; tap dance by Kitty Ann Hawkins; skit, "Can I Use Your Phone," Lillian Fleigle; "4-H Facts and Our Accomplishments," Jean Shearer.

A fashion show was held later in the evening. Jo Anne Corrigan exhibited a cloth elephant. An apron was modeled by Margaret Williams. Kitty Ann Hawkins showed a dish towel, her fist 4-H project. Blouses were modeled by Marie Crowe, Patsy Stakem, Freda Houseworth, Betty Miller, Ethel Williams, Jean McFarlane, Sally Kilduff, Irma Robertson and Joanne Eagan. An evening gown was modeled by Lillian Fleigle.

Tables were decorated in green and white with wild flowers in the center. A book mark with a 4-H emblem was given as a favor.

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, May 9—Mrs. Elsie Witherspoon, Burlington, N. C., and Joseph C. Samuels, 190 West Fairview sereet, Piedmont, W. Va., were married Monday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Methodist church, Cumberland, by the Rev. George E. Baughman. Mr. Samuels operates a cleaning and pressing shop on Third street, Piedmont. They have taken up their residence at Mr. Samuels home.

Rotary Conference Report

Recreational Program

The eight-week recreational program for children of school age of the Tri-Towns will begin about the last week in June and continue to the third week in August. The grounds of the Piedmont and Bruce high schools will be used simultaneously. Larry Patterson, director, will select two assistants to supervise the playgrounds.

The amount of the budget set for carrying out the project is $750 and $600 for improving the grounds in the vicinity of Piedmont high school, J. Harold Baker, finance chairman, said.

A tag day will be held Saturday for funds to help carry out the proposed program.

The committee has decided to carry out two other plans to raise funds by sending letters to business firms, organizations and individuals asking for contributions.

Auto Safety Check

A safety check for all motor vehicles will begin May 15 and continue for six weeks, James H. Harrison, chief of police of Piedmont, W. Va., announced.

MAY QUEEN CANDIDATES

LONACONING, May 9 — A music festival will be held at Central high school Monday, May 13. In connection with the festival crowning of the May queen will take place. The senior class has nominated two girls as queen. They are Martha Lee Staup (left) and Elizabeth Winner (right). Grades 9 to 12 will make the selection by a general election. Each homeroom has elected a girl to serve as representative in the queen's court. They are Eva Lee Park, senior academic; Lois Monahan, senior commercial; Jean Ralston, 11A; Elsie Miller, 11C; Shirley Rowan, 10A; Marion Agnew, 10C; Charlotte Barber, 9A; and Shirley Morton, 9B.

Power Curtailment To Be Discussed

Representatives from all companies generating electric current from coal or steam were scheduled to meet this morning in Baltimore to discuss curtailment of power output due to the coal strike. The Public Service Commission called the meeting on the suggestion of Gov. O'Conor. All companies supplying electric current for Marylanders were asked to send representatives, including the Potomac Edison Company in Allegany and Garrett counties. A representative of the Cumberland office of the Potomac Edison Company said last night that no representative would be sent from Cumberland.

Farmer Is Injured

Roy Hoopengarden, 40-year-old Artemas, Pa., farmer, was treated in Memorial hospital last evening at 6:50 o'clock after, he told attaches, his left hand was caught in a plow as he was at work yesterday evening. Attaches reported that it was necessary to amputate the index finger of the hand.

"It would be tragic if gas plants were forced to shut down."

A reporter asked Small what would happen if seizure fails and the miners refuse to return to their jobs.

"I can't conceive of people striking against the government," Small said.

"I think we would get enough miners back to work."

Pressed for his view of what would happen if they did not go back, Small stated:

"The country then would have to face the issue and congressional action would have to be taken."

In answer to a question Small said he did not care to make any recommendations on the kind of action Congress might take.

Small said he believes every one will agree that maximum production is the only insurance against "skyrocketing prices and inflation."

He proposed a six or eight-month "breathing spell—a holiday" from strikes.

"I certainly hope and pray that labor will agree to such a holiday," Small said. "If labor does agree we won't need any legislation."

The first official indication of the administration's attitude on the coal dispute came at Mr. Truman's news conference when the president was asked to comment on Lewis's demand for a health and welfare fund to be financed by the operators. The chief executive expressed opinion that payments by employers to unions are barred by the Wagner Labor Relations act.

er's business after the company returned to Johnstown, Pa. He estimated that the company supplied about 3,000 loaves of bread a day to families in this area.

John A. Kreiling, vice president of the Community Baking Company, said that bakeries in this area should have the sugar allotment originally made to the Harris-Boyer company to help tide them over the present sugar shortage, which has forced them to cut down on their production of cake and other sweet products to increase their production of bread.

Producing Less Cake

Kreiling said that his company is producing less cake than a year ago, in answer to Driscoll's question as to whether it would be possible to increase bread production by cutting down on other bakery items. Kreiling explained that it is impossible to use cake flour for making bread.

Both Kreiling and Frank E. Smith, president and general manager of the Community Baking Company, pointed out that if cake production is reduced further, more person will be seeking bread.

Smith declared that sugar allotments to local bakeries are based on their 1941 volume of business, and said that bakery's business then was smaller than it is now, because many families went to other cities to work in war plants, and county residents entered the service.

Now they are returning, he pointed out, it is difficult for the bakeries to supply their customers.

Driscoll said that one local baker reported to him yesterday that of the 300 retail bakery outlets in this area, about 200 are out of bread by early afternoon each day.

Regarding the flour shortage, he stated that under a recent order of the department of agriculture, a twenty-five per cent reduction in the use of flour by bakeries was ordered because of the grain shortage.

John L. Ort, owner of the Ort Brothers bakery in Midland, said that a twenty per cent increase in sugar allotments is needed by bakeries in this area, which will not receive any more sugar for baking until the last of June.

Ort estimated that in the area within fifty miles of Cumberland, there are 164,000 persons. On the basis of one loaf of bread daily for three persons, he figured that 50,000 loaves daily are required for this trading area.

helps keep trains on schedule, he explained, conserves coal, and moves more freight, although the loads are lighter.

Since only food stuffs and perishables are to be moved, he said these 2,700 horsepower units are adequate, but when heavier freight is hauled, the 5,400 horsepower units are necessary.

This is one of many steps taken to conserve fuel, and since Diesels burn oil instead of coal, the plan is proving a satisfactory expedient, Longwell said.

The furloughs announced yesterday become effective at the end of each shift which starts to work on Monday, Wyatt said.

Burnwell Firm's

Graves declared last night that the mine will remain closed unless police protection is assured. He said the employes "want to work, but we will not subject them to the treatment John Keister got."

In the meantime, according to Garrett county authorities, four warrants, issued Wednesday in connection with the reported attacks on Keister and Jenkins, have not yet been served.

Reached at his home yesterday, Jenkins said he was at the home of Edward Jenkins when he observed the cavalcade of about fifteen cars and one truck pass on the New Germany road.

Jenkins said he left Edward Jenkins's to drive to his home about a mile away, not knowing the purpose of the cavalcade. He said he started to pass the string of fifteen cars and had passed all but about three of them when he was stopped.

A couple of men jumped out, he said, asking, "Why are you passing these cars?"

Before he could answer, Jenkins said one man opened the door on the driver's side of the machine, another opened the door on the other side and a third stood on a slight bank adjacent.

Hit on Cheek

The man on the driver's side started to hit him on the left cheek, Jenkins, a husky man, related, adding that there was nothing he could do because there were too many against him.

Jenkins said he turned his face in order to take the blows on the side of his head and that the men finally stopped striking him and the cavalcade went on.

He said his mouth was cut, and that his face was swollen yesterday.

Graves reported last night that after the attacks on Keister and Jenkins, the cavalcade continued to the mine and that several of the strikers were given permission to talk to the ten employes working in the deep mine by Robert Ewing, the mine superintendent.

He said about twenty more of the strikers walked to the mine entrance and when the Burnwell miners emerged asked them to stop working. Graves said there was no violence there.

he ran to a nearby stream which runs near the road at this point, and rolled in the stream to extinguish his burning clothing. Then he ran back to the wreck and got Homer H. Mann, who was also afire, and took him to the stream and extinguished the flames

He says he saw Fletcher running along the road toward the cabins, and shortly afterwards the ambulances and police arrived.

In his statement, Price explained that while at the hospital, he told a representative of an insurance company he was not driving the truck at the time of the crash. This, he declared, is an untrue statement, and he made it at a time when he was suffering from shock and did not know why he denied being the driver.

Funeral services were held this week for Fletcher, Mann and Watson, all of whom died in local hospitals as a result of the crash and explosion.

Police said the Buick referred to by Price in his statement was an old 1929 model sedan which had been converted into a truck. Watson was at the wheel of the Buick, which was being towed by a Plymouth sedan, driven by Homer Mann. The pair had stopped to remove or adjust the tow chain when the truck Price was driving crashed against them.

he denied that his wife had anything to do with it. We locked him up."

A few minutes later Mrs. Lougary, accompanied by her two children, Agnes, 8, and Tommy, 4, arrived at headquarters to face George, Ancell and Forman.

George bluntly told her that her husband was charged with the child's death and the woman embraced her children and cried, "What will happen to my children now."

The officers then proceeded to interrogate the woman, point by point, enumerating discrepancies in statements she had made previously. She started to crack up, authorities said.

It was a tawdry story that was unfolded to the officers several hours later, told by the agitated mother in faltering, halting statements.

The mother said she could "never feel the same" about the child when he was returned to her. A handsome boy with blonde hair and blue eyes, he seemed to prefer playing by himself and was obviously unaccustomed to the somewhat more primitive living conditions of his parents.

Whipped with Switch

The mother said she first whipped the child with a switch early in the morning last Wednesday for wetting the bed. After whipping the child, the mother went to the creek to get some water. Upon her return, the child whimpered that he had to go to the toilet.

When he returned from the woods, the mother said she had a fit of insane rage when she observed that he had "dirtied himself" and fell on him, first with the switch she had used originally, and later with "I don't know what else."

(Prosecutor George said she was not certain what instrument was later used but the child's body was a welt of bruises except on the chest and stomach.)

"I went crazy," she told officers. "When I first said it was the child that had 'fits' I should have said it was me. Something came over me. I had a spell."

When she regained her composure, the mother discovered that the child had slipped out of the house and she went in search of him. She found him lying on his stomach along the road, a few hundred yards from their home.

When the child observed his mother standing over him, the mother testified he looked up and said, "Please take me home, mother." They were the last words the child uttered.

Carried Child Home

Mrs. Lougary said she carried the child home and that he died in her arms while she was endeavoring to change his clothing.

Asked why she said originally that the child drowned, Mrs. Lougary said she didn't know. Asked why she was changing his clothes, she said the boy apparently got wet brushing against wet brush and boughs while walking through the woods.

Questioned regarding her husband, she said, "He doesn't know anything about it. I was afraid to tell him."

"It was all rather strange," George said. "Once she had admitted to it, she became very calm and collected — as if a hundred pound pressure had been lifted off her. We released her husband and the first thing he wanted to do was to see his wife. She told him to 'doctor Agnes when he got home because she's coming down with a cold' and mentioned some kind of a salve he would find in a box. She said goodbye to the children but didn't cry. The husband didn't say much and finally led the children away."

Mrs. Lougary waived a preliminary hearing and is being held without bond. She was arrested on a warrant sworn out before Justice A. E. Shaw, Philippi. Her case will be presented to the Barbour county grand jury on May 27

The penalty for murder without mercy in West Virginia is hanging.

Questioned regarding her husband, she said, "He doesn't know anything about it. I was afraid to tell him."

"It was all rather strange," George said. "Once she had admitted to it, she became very calm and collected — as if a hundred pound pressure had been lifted off her. We released her husband and the first thing he wanted to do was to see his wife. She told him to 'doctor Agnes when he got home because she's coming down with a cold' and mentioned some kind of a salve he would find in a box. She said goodbye to the children but didn't cry. The husband didn't say much and finally led the children away."

Mrs. Lougary waived a preliminary hearing and is being held without loud. She was arrested on a warrant sworn out before Justice A. E. Shaw, Philippi. Her case will be presented to the Barbour county grand jury on May 27

The penalty for murder without mercy in West Virginia is hanging.

Three Navy Vets Take Tests To Join V-6 Naval Reserve

Three navy veterans have been sent to Baltimore for physical examinations for enlistment under the V-6 naval reserve program, according to Chief Boatswain's Mate Bradford Smith, local navy recruiter.

Samuel Harley Brown, Ridgeley, W. Va., an ex-chief machinist's mate, re-enlisted as a chief machinist's mate, Harold H. T. McClelland, 913 Harding avenue, an ex-chief motor machinist's mate, re-enlisted as a chief motor machinist's mate, and Wayne Frankin Hoffman, 419 North Mechanic street, an ex-seaman first class, re-enlisted as a seaman first class.

All three men will be on inactive duty with the naval reserve, Smith said, adding that after a naval reserve division is organized here they intend to transfer to the division.

Smith also pointed out that all high school graduates interested in taking examinations for electronic technician's mate in the navy should contact him at the local recruiting office between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

On Watering The Mind

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

God's greatest creation was the mind of man. Then he turned man loose in the world to see what he would do with it. He hasn't done any too well. He has invented means for destroying that mind, for despoiling this beautiful earth, and he has used that mind to take advantage of his brother man.

On the other hand, the mind of man has been used to enrich other minds, and to bring endless benefits to all mankind. The mind of a Franklin, an Edison, a Carlyle, a Thoreau, or a Keats, is a highlight throwing its beams far into the ages. Such minds were watered and enriched every day, never neglected, and guarded and guided with a pride that held them fast to an ever increasing purpose.

The mind is like a garden that has to be watered and enriched constantly, in order to be productive and influential. Great writers and thinkers have always watered and enriched their own minds with the thoughts and meditations of other minds.

Montaigne read largely for pleasure and recreation. He loved "to sip here and sample there; to roam and browse and chew the cud." This attention to his own mind undoubtedly added to the merit of his own thoughts, which were always so personal and simply stated, and so openly and honestly expressed, for no writer ever revealed himself so nakedly as did Montaigne, whose essays and frankness of expression remain among the wonders of literature. It is said that Montaigne "read to be companionable with himself." A good tip for all of us.

The mind should be watered and enriched each day, to keep it healthy, alert, and beautifully active. All efforts toward its improvement should be backed with a purpose.

There is not watering of the mind that is so productive of enrichment, as is good reading. Lord Byron was a tireless reader, "though never seen reading." In his own words, however, he stated: "I read eating, read in bed, read when no one else reads!"

An enriched mind is as worthy of note as the most beautifully cultivated garden. It has, not only beauty, attractiveness, and influential power within it, but its fragrance magnets other minds to its borders, and into its secret vaults of priceless pearls.

On Watering The Mind

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

God's greatest creation was the mind of man. Then he turned man loose in the world to see what he would do with it. He hasn't done any too well. He has invented means for destroying that mind, for despoiling this beautiful earth, and he has used that mind to take advantage of his brother man.

On the other hand, the mind of man has been used to enrich other minds, and to bring endless benefits to all mankind. The mind of a Franklin, an Edison, a Carlyle, a Thoreau, or a Keats, is a highlight throwing its beams far into the ages. Such minds were watered and enriched every day, never neglected, and guarded and guided with a pride that held them fast to an ever increasing purpose.

The mind is like a garden that has to be watered and enriched constantly, in order to be productive and influential. Great writers and thinkers have always watered and enriched their own minds with the thoughts and meditations of other minds.

Montaigne read largely for pleasure and recreation. He loved "to sip here and sample there; to roam and browse and chew the cud." This attention to his own mind undoubtedly added to the merit of his own thoughts, which were always so personal and simply stated, and so openly and honestly expressed, for no writer ever revealed himself so nakedly as did Montaigne, whose essays and frankness of expression remain among the wonders of literature. It is said that Montaigne "read to be companionable with himself." A good tip for all of us.

The mind should be watered and enriched each day, to keep it healthy, alert, and beautifully active. All efforts toward its improvement should be backed with a purpose.

There is not watering of the mind that is so productive of enrichment, as is good reading. Lord Byron was a tireless reader, "though never seen reading." In his own words, however, he stated: "I read eating, read in bed, read when no one else reads!"

An enriched mind is as worthy of note as the most beautifully cultivated garden. It has, not only beauty, attractiveness, and influential power within it, but its fragrance magnets other minds to its borders, and into its secret vaults of priceless pearls.

Four Enlistments In Navy Reported

One veteran and three youths have been accepted for enlistment in the United States Navy, Chief Boatswain's Mate Bradford Smith, local recruiter, announces.

William Foster Ault, 26, brother of Mrs. Evelyn Shreves, 16 Weber street, is an ex-serviceman, having served two years and ten months. He re-enlisted for two years with the rating of ship's serviceman, laundry, second class.

Glen Carl Trenton, 17, son of Mrs. Bessie M. Trenton, Keyser, W. Va., enlisted for two years with the rating of apprentice seaman.

Lloyd William Divelbiss, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Divelbiss, Hyndman, Pa., enlisted for two years, with the rating of apprentice seaman.

John Frederick Gurtler, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Gurtler, 204 Elder street, enlisted for two years with the rating of apprentice seaman.

New African Parks

PRETORIA (AP)—Kenya is planning to establish four national parks. One of them will be about 10,000 square miles in extent — nearly three times the size of the Yellowstone National park and about 2,000 square miles larger than South Africa's Kruger National park which has been visited by many Americans.

Two Ex-Servicemen Sign Up for Army

Two former servicemen have applied for re-enlistment in the army and have gone to Baltimore for final examinations prior to enlistment, according to Capt. N. S. P. Stitt, in charge of army recruiting here.

One of the ex-servicemen is Emory Leroy Wyatt, 37, Keyser, W. Va., who enlisted for three years in the transportation corps for service in the Pacific theater. He was honorably discharged from the service August 7, 1933.

The other is Harry Alvin Chase, 35, 130 Oak street, who enlisted in the army air forces for three years. He previously was discharged from the army September 29, 1945.

—Black marketeers are blamed for a shortage of potatoes in South Africa.

More Men Reported Back From Duty

Sheepshead Bay Victory, New York, yesterday—Pfc. Elzie M. Combs, Augusta, W. Va., and Pfc. Marvin K. Phillips, Parsons, W. Va.

General Pope, San Francisco, Tuesday—First Lt. Herbert E. Smiley, 320 Emily street, city, and First Lt. Verne M. Glasser, Hancock.

New Bern Victory, New York, Monday—T-3 Ray H. Barnes, Fort Ashby, W. Va.; T-5 Jacob R. Herndon and T-4 Willard R. Fulmer, both of Tunnelton, W. Va.; Cpl. Ellsworth O. Warnick, Barton.

Nazis' Net Profit From Executions

TREBLINKA, Poland (AP)—Polish authorities who have been studying how the Nazi masters of a former concentration camp here gassed thousands of persons to death, said this was the Germans' "income":

Twenty-five wagonloads of women's hair, 40,000 gold watches, 248 wagonloads of clothing, and 100 wagonloads of shoes.

Special Stocks Climb in "Thin" Market; Rails, Industrials Waver

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Special stocks continued to climb in today's notably "thin" market while many rails and industrials wavered.

Dealings were slack after a fairly active opening and transfers of 1,070,000 shares compared with 1,210,000 Wednesday.

Prominent forward movers included Pfizer, up six at $79; Gimbels four at $73; Macy three and and three-fourths at $49.87. Paramount Pictures three and one-quarter at $84.75. Eastern Airlines two and one-half at $125, National Distillers two and one-fourth at $80, Douglas Aircraft two at $92. Shamrock Oil one and three-quarters at $30.75 and Greyhound one and five-eighths at $46.50.

Certainteed added a fraction on the first dividend since 1928. United States Rubber finished off one-half at $75.50 despite a lifted quarterly payment. Westinghouse added one at $36.75 and, after the close, it was announced that the strike against this company had been concluded.

Modest improvement was shown for United States Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Electric Power and Light, Santa Fe, Baltimore and Ohio, Montgomery Ward, American Can, Baldwin Locomotive, Anaconda and Kennecott.

Casualties were Chrysler, General Motors, American Telephone, Woolworth, Sears Roebuck, Oliver Corporation, Boeing, United Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, Du Pont, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, Goodrich, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Northern Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio.

In the Curb, Parker Pen was up nine at $64.50 and Heyden Chemical (new) eight and five eighths at $45. Ahead were Central Oil Steel, Cities Service, Franklin Stores, Jeannette Glass and Grocery Store Products. Turnover here was 460,000 shares, the same as yesterday.

Declines in a number of utilities and higher trade rails were registered in the bond market.

Total sales of $3,535,000 compared with $3,910,000 Wednesday.

Treasury issues were quiet and easier. In over-the-counter markets the two and three-quarters of '65-'60 slipped three-eighths to 116 15-32 bid.

Doctor Discusses Drugs in Middle Ear Infections

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Every good remedy may have its drawbacks and dangers, even such wonder drugs as penicillin and the sulfonamides.

Dr. Justo A. Harpmann, of England, is the author of a timely warning against taking too much for granted in their use for the treatment of otitis media, an infection of the middle part of the ear. Not that these drugs will do active harm. Indeed, Dr. Harpman feels that the danger lies in the great good that they apparently accomplish.

That may seem a peculiar and contradictory statement, but read on. A word of explanation will clear it up.

Temporary Relief

It is Dr. Harpman's opinion that the giving of these drugs will not necessarily stop the progress of the infection in the middle ear. They will, however, bring down fever and temporarily reduce the pain even while the infection goes right on working, progressing into the mastoid bone which is back of the ear.

Thus, they may cover up and hide the mastoid infection until it is thoroughly entrenched. When these drugs are used, the patient should be carefully watched by the doctor so that if any signs of mastoid infection do develop, he will be aware of them.

However, these drugs are also useful, according to many physicians, in keeping the mastoid infection from developing and in clearing it up as well, and so, in recent times, operations on the mastoid have become much less frequent.

Middle-Ear Infection

When middle-ear infections occur, ear drops will in some instances help to give relief from pain. These drops should be warm before they are put into the ear canal. Dr. Harpman does not favor the use of phenol in glycerin as he thinks it may cause some inflammation in the external ear canal. Glycerin alone may be helpful. If the sulfonamide drugs or penicillin do not check the infection, and the inflammation of the ear continues, it may be necessary to have the ear drum cut open so that the infected material may drain out.

According to Dr. Harpman, this operation on the ear drum should be performed if there is severe and continued earache, if examination of the ear drum shows it is bulging, if there is pain and tenderness back of the ear over the mastoid with high temperature, loss of hearing, or vomiting and diarrhea in infants.

Of course, it is preferable to cut the ear-drum open, rathea than to have it break open, as in the latter instance a large opening in the drum will occur leading to some decrease of hearing, which usually, however, is not permanent.

Earache always calls for careful examination by the physician. He will decide what condition is present and what treatment should be employed.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Fort Hill Tests Pace Setting AHS Ball Team Today

Judy and Weinbach Will Twirl; LaSalle Tops Berkeley, 15-5

Sid "Lefty" Weinbach and Paul Judy have been nominated by Coaches Hubert Radcliffe and John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh to work on the firing line today when Allegany and Fort Hill clash in the initial game of their annual series in the Tri-State Conference at 4 p. m., on the Fort Hill field.

Allegany leads the five-team conference with three wins and no losses while the Sentinels are tied with LaSalle and Hyndman for third place, each team having won two games and lost a like number.

Othie Dyer and Herb Bailey will umpire at the plate and bases, respectively.

Coach Radcliffe announced last evening that he is making one change in his lineup for this game. Roy Perrell, a pitcher, will play second base in place of Milton Wertz, who is sidelined with a leg injury. No changes are planned by Coach Cavanaugh.

In other conference tilts listed for today Hyndman will invade Frostburg to play Beall high school at 3:30 p. m. and LaSalle will journey to Paw Paw for its third game in as many days.

At 2 p. m., in Frostburg, California, Pa., Teachers will cross bats with Frostburg State Teachers while at Moorefield, W. Va., Coach Johnny Paugh's undefeated Yellow Jackets will be striving for their ninth straight triumph of the season at the expense of Franklin high school.

LASALLE IS WINNER OVER BERKELEY, 15-5

Coach George Geatz's LaSalle high school aggregation turned in its second win in as many days by trouncing Berkeley Springs, W. Va., high school yesterday at Community Park by the score of 15 to 5.

The game was featured by Jim Delaney's relief pitching and the clouting of Jack Steiner, who helped himself to two triples, a single and base on balls for a perfect day at the plate.

Woods started on the peak for the Explorers but was yanked in favor of Pat "Lefty" Creegan, hero of Wednesday's game with Masontown, in the first frame after the Berkeley team had jumped on him for three hits and two runs. Creegan sailed along nicely until the third when he became as wild as the proverbial March hare, hitting two batters with pitched balls and walking two, all in successive order.

With three runs over the platter, Berkeley leading 5-4, and the bases loaded, Jim Delaney stopped the visitors in their tracks, yielding but one hit and no runs during the last 4 1-3 innings he worked. He received credit for the win when the Explorers tied the score at 5-all in the third, added three more tallies in the fourth and finished off with a seven-run splurge in the sixth.

LaSalle got 14 hits, many of which were of the infield variety, and received seven bases on balls. Berkeley Springs obtained six hits and five free tickets in addition to two hit batsmen. The box:

New York Homers Sink Pittsburgh

Clouts by Graham, Mize Help Bill Voiselle Win, 6 to 1

PITTSBURGH, May 9. (AP)—Johnny Mize and Jack Graham belted home runs today to help Bill Voiselle record his second victory as the New York Giants defeated Pittsburgh, 6-1.

Voiselle scattered seven hits and was in serious trouble only in the first inning when the Pirates bunched a walk and two hits for their run.

Mize tied the score in the third with his fifth circuit blast and Graham iced the decision in the fifth with a two-run homer. Box:

Louise Suggs Loses

DALLAS, May 9 (AP) — Louise Suggs, whose sparkling play had brought a new course record and made her a long favorite, was upset today by Margaret Gunther of Memphis to insure a new champion in women's Southern golf.

Miss Gunther eliminated the Lithia Springs, Ga., star 2 and 1 and tomorrow moves into the semi-finals against Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta who had defeated Mrs. Bettye Mims White, of Dallas 6 and 5.

Starr Whips Lima

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 9 (AP)—Maxie Starr, 144½, of Baltimore, outclassed Lucio Lima, 142, of Long Island City, N. Y., to gain a 10-round decision tonight in a main bout at the Casino.

The first four rounds were even, but Starr pulled ahead in the fifth and peppered Lima almost at will through the last six chapters.

Boston Red Sox Defeat Chicago White Sox, 7-5

Winners Increase Lead over New York to 4 1-2 Games

BOSTON, May 9 (AP)—Boston's red hot Red Sox today won their fourteenth consecutive game, defeating the Chicago White Sox 7-5 to increase their American League lead to four and one-half games over the New York Yankees.

The Bostonians, outhit 15-11 by the White Sox, open a weekend series with the Yankees in New York tomorrow.

In their 14 games streak, the Sox took every game played against the western clubs, three from Detroit, two from Cleveland, three from St. Louis and two from Chicago.

Their other four victories included one over the Yanks and three over the Athletics.

Caseys Capture League Opener

Outdoor Club, Woodmen, Moose and K. of P. Bag Victories

Rallying for four runs in the first inning and six tallies in the sixth frame, the Knights of Columbus, defending champions, inaugurated their 1946 season in the Rocking Chair Softball League by defeating the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce yesterday on Fort Hill field by the score of 10 to 4.

"Bud" Scaletta limited the Jaycees to six hits, including a pair of triples by Dave Kauffman, while his mates solved the offerings of Gehringer for eight blows. "Bud" Blough belted a homer and single while Norman Gerdeman lashed out two one-base hits for Manager Jim Browning's outfit.

Van Johnson's home run in the fourth inning broke a 2-2 deadlock and gave the Cumberland Outdoor Club a 3 to 2 decision over the Texcel Club at Taylor field. Jim McNabb, Outdoor first baseman, provided the fielding feature by turning in a nice catch. Bill Deremer obtained Texcel's only extra base hit of the World.

The Woodmen nosed out the B.P.O. Elks at Campobello by the score of 4 to 3, winning the game in the sixth inning when Gerald Athey walked, pilfered second and third and raced home on Vernon Wharton's single. Jimmy Wilkinson pounded a home run over the left field fence in the third inning. Charley True made two of the Woodmen's seven hits.

Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose, opened the season with an 8 to 1 triumph over Potomac Edison on the Rolling Mill field. Robinette and Blanchard sparked the Moose 12-hit attack with three and two hits, one of the latter's wallops being a homer in the seventh inning. Russ Minnicks, Moose twirler, gave up seven hits, two of which were credit to Fraley.

The Knights of Pythias won via the forfeit route at East Side when Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion, was unable to field a team. The scores:

Fort Hill Tests Pace Setting AHS Ball Team Today

Judy and Weinbach Will Twirl; LaSalle Tops Berkeley, 15-5

Sid "Lefty" Weinbach and Paul Judy have been nominated by Coaches Hubert Radcliffe and John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh to work on the firing line today when Allegany and Fort Hill clash in the initial game of their annual series in the Tri-State Conference at 4 p. m., on the Fort Hill field.

Allegany leads the five-team conference with three wins and no losses while the Sentinels are tied with LaSalle and Hyndman for third place, each team having won two games and lost a like number.

Coach Radcliffe announced last evening that he is making one change in his lineup for this game. Roy Perrell, a pitcher, will play second base in place of Milton Wertz, who is sidelined with a leg injury. No changes are planned by Coach Cavanaugh.

In other conference tilts listed for today Hyndman will invade Frostburg to play Beall high school at 3:30 p. m. and LaSalle will journey to Paw Paw for its third game in as many days.

At 2 p. m., in Frostburg, California, Pa., Teachers will cross bats with Frostburg State Teachers while at Moorefield, W. Va., Coach Johnny Paugh's undefeated Yellow Jackets will be striving for their ninth straight triumph of the season at the expense of Franklin high school.

LASALLE IS WINNER OVER BERKELEY, 15-5

Coach George Geatz's LaSalle high school aggregation turned in its second win in as many days by trouncing Berkeley Springs, W. Va., high school yesterday at Community Park by the score of 15 to 5.

The game was featured by Jim Delaney's relief pitching and the clouting of Jack Steiner, who helped himself to two triples, a single and base on balls for a perfect day at the plate.

Woods started on the peak for the Explorers but was yanked in favor of Pat "Lefty" Creegan, hero of Wednesday's game with Masontown, in the first frame after the Berkeley team had jumped on him for three hits and two runs. Creegan sailed along nicely until the third when he became as wild as the proverbial March hare, hitting two batters with pitched balls and walking two, all in successive order.

With three runs over the platter, Berkeley leading 5-4, and the bases loaded, Jim Delaney stopped the visitors in their tracks, yielding but one hit and no runs during the last 4 1-3 innings he worked. He received credit for the win when the Explorers tied the score at 5-all in the third, added three more tallies in the fourth and finished off with a seven-run splurge in the sixth.

LaSalle got 14 hits, many of which were of the infield variety, and received seven bases on balls. Berkeley Springs obtained six hits and five free tickets in addition to two hit batsmen. The box:

New York Homers Sink Pittsburgh

Clouts by Graham, Mize Help Bill Voiselle Win, 6 to 1

PITTSBURGH, May 9. (AP)—Johnny Mize and Jack Graham belted home runs today to help Bill Voiselle record his second victory as the New York Giants defeated Pittsburgh, 6-1.

Voiselle scattered seven hits and was in serious trouble only in the first inning when the Pirates bunched a walk and two hits for their run.

Mize tied the score in the third with his fifth circuit blast and Graham iced the decision in the fifth with a two-run homer. Box:

Louise Suggs Loses

DALLAS, May 9 (AP) — Louise Suggs, whose sparkling play had brought a new course record and made her a long favorite, was upset today by Margaret Gunther of Memphis to insure a new champion in women's Southern golf.

Miss Gunther eliminated the Lithia Springs, Ga., star 2 and 1 and tomorrow moves into the semi-finals against Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta who had defeated Mrs. Bettye Mims White, of Dallas 6 and 5.

Starr Whips Lima

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 9 (AP)—Maxie Starr, 144½, of Baltimore, outclassed Lucio Lima, 142, of Long Island City, N. Y., to gain a 10-round decision tonight in a main bout at the Casino.

The first four rounds were even, but Starr pulled ahead in the fifth and peppered Lima almost at will through the last six chapters.

Boston Red Sox Defeat Chicago White Sox, 7-5

Winners Increase Lead over New York to 4 1-2 Games

BOSTON, May 9 (AP)—Boston's red hot Red Sox today won their fourteenth consecutive game, defeating the Chicago White Sox 7-5 to increase their American League lead to four and one-half games over the New York Yankees.

The Bostonians, outhit 15-11 by the White Sox, open a weekend series with the Yankees in New York tomorrow.

In their 14 games streak, the Sox took every game played against the western clubs, three from Detroit, two from Cleveland, three from St. Louis and two from Chicago.

Their other four victories included one over the Yanks and three over the Athletics.

Outdoor Club, Woodmen, Moose and K. of P. Bag Victories

Rallying for four runs in the first inning and six tallies in the sixth frame, the Knights of Columbus, defending champions, inaugurated their 1946 season in the Rocking Chair Softball League by defeating the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce yesterday on Fort Hill field by the score of 10 to 4.

"Bud" Scaletta limited the Jaycees to six hits, including a pair of triples by Dave Kauffman, while his mates solved the offerings of Gehringer for eight blows. "Bud" Blough belted a homer and single while Norman Gerdeman lashed out two one-base hits for Manager Jim Browning's outfit.

Van Johnson's home run in the fourth inning broke a 2-2 deadlock and gave the Cumberland Outdoor Club a 3 to 2 decision over the Texcel Club at Taylor field. Jim McNabb, Outdoor first baseman, provided the fielding feature by turning in a nice catch. Bill Deremer obtained Texcel's only extra base hit of the World.

The Woodmen nosed out the B.P.O. Elks at Campobello by the score of 4 to 3, winning the game in the sixth inning when Gerald Athey walked, pilfered second and third and raced home on Vernon Wharton's single. Jimmy Wilkinson pounded a home run over the left field fence in the third inning. Charley True made two of the Woodmen's seven hits.

Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose, opened the season with an 8 to 1 triumph over Potomac Edison on the Rolling Mill field. Robinette and Blanchard sparked the Moose 12-hit attack with three and two hits, one of the latter's wallops being a homer in the seventh inning. Russ Minnicks, Moose twirler, gave up seven hits, two of which were credit to Fraley.

The Knights of Pythias won via the forfeit route at East Side when Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion, was unable to field a team. The scores:

Two New Shows Will Be Offered By Radio Chain

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—A couple new shows make their network bows Friday night.

That on CBS at 6:30 will be Tommy Riggs and his voice-created Betty, who are taking over for the summer for Ginny Simms. The announcement didn't say how long they would be around.

The other is MBS, something in the order of a singing detective to occupy the time at 7:30 formerly used by Ted Cott's "Think You Know Music" quiz. The new detective yarn, with music, is called "A Voice in the Night," with Carl Brisson playing the lead. He will have at least two songs per broadcast in between the sleuthing from an amateur standpoint.

As a prelude to its Saturday broadcast of the Pimlico, NBC will have Bill Stern at the Pimlico race track, Baltimore, at 4:45 p. m. so that he can tell about the running of the Dixie Handicap.

Heavyweights will be the fighters performing as the ABC microphone gets in its weekly fight broadcast from 9 o'clock. In person they are Johnny Colan, of New York, and Johnny Thomas of Florida.

Rep. B. Carroll Reece, new chairman of the Republican National Committee, will be the answering guest for "Meet the Press" of MBS at 9:30.

In the NBC roster of guests will be George Jessel, of the comics, as an expert on racing equines for the Bill Stern sports interview at 9:30. . . . Also earlier at 7 Vivian della Chiesa, soprano, will sing in the Paul Lavalle melody on NBC.

A special program "Command Assembly," presented in co-operation with the Famine Emergency committee and the Red Cross is announced for 2 p. m. by CBS and MBS. Included will be Helen Hayes and her daughter and Ireene Wicker.

The Radio Clock

FRIDAY, MAY 10

Changes in programs as listed are due to corrections by networks made too late to incorporate.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS NOTE — All times PM eastern standard.

To change to eastern daylight, add one hour; central daylight same as eastern standard.

Helps build up resistance against MONTHLY
FEMALE PAIN
When taken regularly!
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does more than relieve monthly pain when due to functional periodic disturbances. It also relieves accompanying weak, tired, nervous, jittery feelings — of such nature. Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such monthly distress. Pinkham's Compound is worth trying!

Two New Shows Will Be Offered By Radio Chain

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—A couple new shows make their network bows Friday night.

That on CBS at 5:30 will be Tommy Riggs and his voice-created Betty, who are taking over for the summer for Ginny Simms. The announcement didn't say how long they would be around.

The other is MBS, something in the order of a singing detective to occupy the time at 7:30 formerly used by Ted Cott's "Think You Know Music" quiz. The new detective yarn, with music, is called "A Voice in the Night," with Carl Brisson playing the lead. He will have at least two songs per broadcast in between the sleuthing from an amateur standpoint.

As a prelude to its Saturday broadcast of the Pimlico, NBC will have Bill Stern at the Pimlico race track, Baltimore, at 4:45 p. m. so that he can tell about the running of the Dixie Handicap.

Heavyweights will be the fighters performing as the ABC microphone gets in its weekly fight broadcast from 9 o'clock. In person they are Johnny Colan, of New York, and Johnny Thomas of Florida.

Rep. B. Carroll Reece, new chairman of the Republican National Committee, will be the answering guest for "Meet the Press" of MBS at 9:30.

In the NBC roster of guests will be George Jessel, of the comics, as an expert on racing equines for the Bill Stern sports interview at 9:30. . . . Also earlier at 7 Vivian della Chiesa, soprano, will sing in the Paul Lavalle melody on NBC.

A special program "Command Assembly," presented in co-operation with the Famine Emergency committee and the Red Cross is announced for 2 p. m. by CBS and MBS. Included will be Helen Hayes and her daughter and Ireene Wicker.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Cecil Leonard Porter, who gave his life on Luzon one year ago today, May 10, 1945.

When the evening shades are falling
And we're sitting all alone,
In our hearts there comes a longing,
If only you could come home.

Our family circle is broken,
The voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our hearts
That never can be filled.

The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought the end so near,
Only those who lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.

Oft and oft our thoughts do wander
To the grave so far away,
Where they laid our dearest loved one
Just one year ago today.

Sadly missed by his Mother and Brothers.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Cecil Leonard Porter, who gave his life on Luzon one year ago today, May 10, 1945.

When the evening shades are falling
And we're sitting all alone,
In our hearts there comes a longing,
If only you could come home.

Our family circle is broken,
The voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our hearts
That never can be filled.

The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought the end so near,
Only those who lost can tell

Oft and oft our thoughts do wander
To the grave so far away,
Where they laid our dearest loved one
Just one year ago today.

Mother and Brothers.

Card of Thanks

We are taking this means to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and following the death of Mrs. Mary Mitchell, Lonaconing. We wish to especially thank the Rev. John E. Stacks, pastor of the Methodist church, who conducted the funeral. Also those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.
Robert Mitchell and Family of Lonaconing.
5-10-1t-N

We are taking this method to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and bereavement of Mrs. Mary Shrout, Paxton street, Piedmont, W. Va. Also those who sent floral offerings and donated the use of their automobiles for the funeral.
Harrison A. Shrout and Daughters.

1,500 B. & O. Men Face Furlough Here Monday

Fuel Shortage and Embargo Cuts Work at Roundhouse, Bolt and Forge and Back Shops

Upwards of 1,500 maintenance, production and mechanical department employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company here will be furloughed Monday, and the bolt and forge shops, back shops, roundhouse, and mechanical departments will be practically reduced to a standstill, H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland division, said late last night.

Notices have been posted informing railroad men of the curtailment in operations and of the furlough. The reason, according to Wyatt, is the reduction ordered by the federal government due to the shut-down of coal mines and the resulting fuel shortage.

There is no indication when furloughed workers will be recalled since United Mine Workers officials and coal operators are deadlocked with no immediate settlement of the coal strike evident.

The force at the Cumberland roundhouse will be reduced on Monday to about 195 men, according to W. H. Longwell, division master mechanic. Longwell said last night that about 700 men are normally employed, but some were furloughed several days ago. He explained that this latest curtailment in operations affects about 600 mechanical department men along the Cumberland division.

Keep Only Skeleton Crews

At the backshops, Wyatt explained, where A. H. Bennett is superintendent, there are about 550 to 600 men normally employed. This force will be reduced to about 125 men who will remain to finish up work now underway and to maintain the plant. The shop will be practically shut down.

Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the bolt and forge shops, stated 329 men are listed for furlough Monday, leaving only about 125 men to do necessary work on air brakes and maintain the plant.

Other furloughs in smaller departments have also been ordered, it was indicated, and there will be curtailment among transportation employes, although this plan has not been worked out.

Keeping Ready To Roll

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad here has been doing everything possible to conserve fuel, and at the same time is keeping its equipment in shape to roll immediately when the "squeeze" is ended, Wyatt said last night.

This is the only reason it is possible to keep men working at all in some departments, he explained. With operations reduced in face of the fuel shortage, and reductions in use of trains, fewer persons are needed for operation. However, he said, such work as can be continued is to be completed, and equipment in use is being kept servicable for high speed operation when coal starts to move from mines to industry, railroads and consumers.

Diesels Do Double Duty

He explained the railroad has three large Diesel engines of four units each, used normally for freight hauling between Willard, Ohio, Cumberland and Philadelphia, Pa. Three more similar engines are used between Washington, Indiana and Cumberland.

These six Diesels have been split in half, making twelve two-unit Diesels, which will double the number of trains they can move. This

Textile Workers Empower Strike On Wage Demand

Members of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, at meetings Wednesday evening and yesterday morning empowered the union's negotiating committee and executive board to call a strike to enforce the union's demand for a flat eight cent wage increase for the 8,500 odd union members employed at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America, union officials reported yesterday.

Wage negotiations will be resumed this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Celanese plant and will be in charge of James A. Holden, federal conciliator, who has assisted in the settlement of most of the wage disputes in this area in recent years.

Reject Wage Offer

William Boyd Coleman, union president, yesterday reported that the membership of the union voted unanimously to reject a wage increase on a percentage basis at the two meetings.

The union officials said the union is seeking a flat eight cent wage boost for all employes but that the company offer was for increases on a percentage basis.

The recent company offer, union officials added, was widened over a five per cent increase offered several weeks ago and rejected by the union, but the new offer was turned down as a matter of policy.

No date may be set for the strike, however, prior to two general membership meetings scheduled May 15 and 16 to hear complete reports on the final negotiations May 14 and 15 which will be attended by Wesley Cook, New York, assistant director of the rayon division of the union.

The union also reported yesterday that 1,000 workers in the warp knitting, dyehouse, and cafeteria, departments, and janitors, sweepers and washroom attendants, who were excluded in the first offer of a five per cent wage increase by the company, were included in the new company offer.

Woman Is Charged With Obtaining Two Allotments

U. S. District Court in Baltimore Acts in Stierstorfer Case

Mrs. Mary Lee Stierstorfer, 28, North Mechanic street, was charged in United States District Court in Baltimore yesterday with unlawfully obtaining servicemen's allotments from two servicemen, one her present husband and the other a former husband.

According to federal authorities here, the young woman was also known as Mary Lee Poling, divorced wife of Russell L. Poling, also of this city.

According to criminal informations filed in the Baltimore court, Mrs. Stierstorfer is charged in one count with unlawfully obtaining $930 between October 1942 and September 1943, while posing as the wife of Stierstorfer and the mother of his child. United States attorneys said she married Stierstorfer last September.

A second count charges her with unlawfully obtaining $50 a month for three months as the wife of Russell L. Poling, from whom she had been divorced earlier.

Federal authorities said she married Poling in 1935 and separated from him several years later.

According to the charges, she did not marry Stierstorfer until after he returned from oveseas.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stierstorfer were questioned by the FBI and other federal authorities several months ago, and were arraigned before United States Commissioner Wilbur V. Wilson. No information was released at the time on the case, until it could be reviewed by United States officials in Baltimore. Commissioner Wilson released them under bond of $500 at the time, pending action by the federal grand jury.

Victim of Accident Is in Critical Condition

Charles Harbert, 28, Hyndman, injured early yesterday morning when the car in which he was riding crashed against an embankment and overturned two miles south of Hyndman, was reported in "critical" condition last night at Allegany hospital.

Harbert was admitted to the hospital at 1 a. m. yesterday with a possible broken back, a fractured left arm and facial lacerations. An occupant of Harbert's car, Russell Smeak, 20, Hyndman, received bruises of the neck and face lacerations. He was admitted to Memorial hospital where his condition was reported as "good."

The two men were en route to Hyndman from Cumberland when the accident occurred shortly after midnight. State police at Bedford, Pa., are investigating the wreck.

K of C Will Convene Here This Weekend

The forty-eighth annual convention of the Maryland State Council of the Knights of Columbus will be held here Saturday and Sunday with headquarters in the Algonquin hotel. More than 130 delegates and visitors are expected with Cumberland Council No. 586 acting as host organization for the fourth time in its history.

The Rev. William F. Culhane, vice president of Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, will give the principal address at a banquet to be held tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. in the Queen City hotel. William C. Walsh, former attorney general, will be toastmaster.

Charges Are Dropped

Price Is Accused Of Manslaughter In Fatal Crash

Lone Survivor of Four Men Is Released under Bond of $500

Carl Wilson Price, 33, Little Orleans, the only survivor of an accident east of here Friday night in which three men were fatally burned when a gasoline tank exploded, was arraigned in trial magistrate's court yesterday on a charge of manslaughter by automobile and released under bonod of $500 for the October term of circuit court.

Price was released from Allegany hospital late Wednesday afternoon, and when he appeared in court yesterday wore heavy bandages over his right hand and arm and about his face and head.

Prior to his arraignment in court, Price was questioned by State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris, and made a signed statement regarding details of the fatal crash.

Unloaded Pulp Wood

He said he has been residing at the home of Philip Fletcher and family at Little Orleans. On Friday, he was taking a load of pulp wood to Hancock to unload, and Fletcher, who was not busy that day, accompanied him to Hancock where a sister resides. After leaving Fletcher at his sister's home, Price proceeded to unload the pulp wood, went uptown and got a haircut and then picked up Fletcher and started home.

The pair stopped, according to the statement, at Hixon's on Sideling mountain where Price says he consumed two of three bottles of beer. He said he believed Fletcher did not drink any beer.

They proceeded toward home, with Price driving the truck, he said, and about 100 feet west of Belle Grove cabins the accident occurred. At this point, Price said in his statement, the road is straight and fairly flat. However, a light rain was falling and just before his truck crashed against the Buick car owned by Ezra James Watson, 77, Little Orleans, Price claims a car, going eastward, approached his truck, blinding him with bright headlights. He did not see the Buick alongside the road until just an instant before the crash, he stated.

Price says he applied his brakes and slowed the truck from about thirty miles per hour to about twenty miles per hour before it struck the rear end of the Buick. At the same instant of the crash, he explained, there was a terrific explosion. Flaming gasoline was showered over Fletcher throungh the truck's windshield which was shattered by the crash. Some of the flaming fuel splashed over Price's right side, face and right hand and arm", as evidenced by his burns, he declared.

In his statement he revealed how

Dr. Harold McNally To Be Instructor At Columbia

Dr. Harold C. McNally, director of veterans' education for the board of education, will go to New York city June 15 to become assistant professor of education in the Department of Education Administration at Columbia university.

Dr. McNally, who lives on Windsor road, the Dingle, with his wife and daughter, first came to Cumberland in 1940 as director of special education. He left in 1943 to enter the navy and saw three years of service in the Pacific as a combat intelligence officer. Returning the first part of this year, Dr. McNally was put in charge of veterans education.

He received his AB, MS and PhD degrees at Columbia university, had three years of work in Philadelphia and also attended Temple and Chicago university, completing a total of seven and a half years of college work.

Originally from Philadelphia, since living in Cumberland, Dr. McNally has interested himself in a number of pursuits other than his educational work. He instituted the reading program in the high schools, was Boy Scout commissioner prior to the war, was a member of the Allegany County Co-ordinating Council and more recently has become affiliated with Theatregate, the little theatre movement recently launched by Erica Donovan.

County's Veteran Training Program Is Termed Outstanding in State

Glenn D. Brown Also Praises Adult Education Plan Here

Following a two-day inspection tour in Allegany county, Glenn D. Brown, assistant director of vocational education and supervisor of industrial education for the state board of education, told the News yesterday that the adult education and veteran training programs in the county are "outstanding in the state."

Brown declared there was nothing to compare with the local program in other counties in the state and said the directors of educational policy in Allegany county have discovered that what were considered war emergency needs are actually continuing needs and referred specifically to the work in food processing and preservation, farm machinery instruction, and the recently launched school for veterans.

School "Meets the Bill"

"It may be that other educators have also discovered that emergency needs during the war are actually continuing needs but it is significent that Allegany county is actually the only county in the state that has done anything about it," Brown said.

Speaking of the trades school headed by R. N. Alexander under the sponsorship of the school board, Brown said the instructors are well qualified and that the school is "meeting the bill." He said he saw no reason why veterans from other counties could not be sent here for instruction providing present facilities could be expanded.

Superintendent Charles L. Kopp said yesterday that the former NYA building used as headquarters for the school could well be expanded provided funds were so that the interests of other veterans could be met. The combined schools, the trade school and the ICS night school, now have a total of 185 students.

Equipment Is Scarce

Alexander said yesterday the school will soon go over the 100 mark providing necessary equipment, mainly tools and electrical equipment, is secured. Electrical equipment at present is especially hard to get, he said.

Speaking of the program as a whole, Brown said the scope and diversity of the undertaking astonished him and said the county is obviously making better use of available funds than other localities.

"There has been careful planning here," Brown said. "The program is well conceived with relationship to the community needs and the whole community pattern."

ATTACKED BY STRIKERS— Ray Glenwood Jenkins, 28, a farmer on the New Germany road, is pictured above at the spot where he said he was attacked by men in a cavalcade of 150 striking miners who were en route to the Burnwell Coal Company mine Wednesday. A World War II veteran, Jenkins was inducted into the armed forces June 18, 1941, and served in the Seven Hundred and Thirty-fifth aircraft warning battallion of the United States Signal Corps. He was discharged last September after serving in Alaska and the Aleutians. Jenkins said he was returning to his farm and was attacked after almost passing a string of fifteen cars carrying the striking miners.

Burnwell Firm's Garrett Mine Is Still Shut Down

No Arrests Reported in Attacks on Two Men by Striking Miners

The Burnwell Coal Company mine on New Germany road in Garrett county, closed Wednesday after a band of 150 striking miners from other parts of the country approached it, remained closed yesterday, but company officials said last night they will continue their efforts today to obtain police protection so that it can be reopened.

J. Fred Graves, president of the company, said he was not successful yesterday in contacting Neal C. Fraley, state's attorney for Garrett county, who was away from Oakland.

Graves said, however, that he will try to meet with Fraley today and that he expects to confer this morning with William C. Walsh, company attorney, about obtaining police protection.

John Keister, vice president and manager of the mining company, was dragged from his car and beaten by the mob of miners Wednesday as he was driving on the New Germany road from the mine to his home just outside of Grantsville, according to information Keister gave The Cumberland News Wednesday night.

Discharged Veteran Attacked

DAV Convention Opens Tonight; Parade Tomorrow

While the convention formally opens tomorrow at 10 a. m. at Fort Cumberland hotel, an executive committee meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the hotel and registrations wil lbegin.

David S. McMillan, commander of Fort Washington Post No. 2, DAV, the host organization, has extended invitations to a number of local and state officials to participate.

Dow V. Walker, Newport, Ore., national commander, and Vivian Corbly, Cincinnati, O., national adjutant, will be here for the meeting tonight and will remain throughout the two-day celebration. Adolph C. Winkler, state commander, said meetings are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

With Thomas F. Conlon as marshall, the parade Saturday night will form at the Maryland State Armory, South Centre street, and will be made up of five divisions. The route of march will be from Centre to Bedford street, up Baltimore street to George street, thence to the armory.

Local, state and national officials will review the marchers from a reviewing stand at city hall. Mayor Thomas S. Post and members of the council have been invited to the reviewing stand.

Plans for the inauguration of Ladies Auxiliary to the local DAV post will be launched during the convention by Mabel Howard, national executive committeewoman; and Thelma Feighner, national employment chairman of the organization.

In the absence of an organized ladies auxiliary, four women have been named to the role of hostesses to the more than 200 delegates expected to attend the three-day event. They are Mrs. Ethel Leonard; Miss Gloria Sweitzer and Miss Mary A. England, all members of the auxiliary unit of Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Miss Helen V. Kerr, who was recently discharged from service in the auxiliary branch of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Members of Fort Washington Chapter have been instructed to assemble at the State Armory at 7 p. m. Saturday to form ranks for the parade which will be followed by a banquet at Central Y.M.C.A. for convention delegates and distinguished guests.

OPA Will Report To Local Bakers On Survey Results

County Bakery Operators Confer with Sugar Rationing Officer

Following a conference of representatives of county bakeries yesterday afternoon in the office of Mayor Thomas S. Post, Edward J. Driscoll, diestrict OPA sugar rationing officer, said that he will make a report to Leo H. McCormick, state OPA director, on the bread situation here, and that bakers will be advised as soon as possible on any action to be taken as a result of his findings.

Driscoll was accompanied here from Baltimore by Herbert W. Rutherford, ration currency control officer. Both representatives visited various bakeries in this area yesterday morning to study the situation at first hand.

Problems confronting local bakeries as outlined at the conference are as follows:

1. Insufficient supplies of flour, sugar and sugar substitutes to spply all of their customers with bread and rolls.

Expect Transient Trade

2 Increased numbers of potential customers, caused by the return of veterans from service; the return to Cumberland of families who moved away to work in war plants in other cities during the war; and the expectation of greater transient trade here, especially during the summer months, when tourists and vacationists will be coming through Cumberland and may stop for several days.

3. The withdrawal from this area last fall of the Harris-Boyer Baking Company, a retail firm which made door-to-door deliveries to families both in Cumberland and in neighboring sections.

Mayor J. Milton McIntyre of Westernport, manafer on McIntyre's bakery here, pointed out that other bakeries had to absorb Harris-Boy-

100 Eagle Scouts Will Be Honored At Event Today

One hundred Eagle scouts of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be guests of honor at 6:15 o'clock this evening at a leaders appreciation banquet and Eagle Scout parade at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, according to Kenneth E. Jackson, scout executive.

Since August, 1926, exactly 100 boys have attained the rank of Eagle Scout in this area, Jackson stated. The one hundredth Eagle is James Jack, of Troop No. 62, Westernport. He attained the rating March 7 of this year.

The first Eagle Scouts in this area were commissioned at Oakland, August 26, 1926, about a year before the local council was organized. These boys, now middle-aged men, are George Altstetter, McClelland Dixon, Guy Gregg and James A. Lee, all attaining the rating on that date. They were members of Troop No. 1, Oakland. Four days later, Thomas I. Gonder received his Eagle rating in the same troop. On September 21, 1926, Kenneth Stahl, another Troop No. 1 member, was advanced and two days later Robert Stemple became the eighth Eagle member of the original troop. Bernard Gonder, of Oakland, became an Eagle August 26, 1927.

The first Eagle scout commissioned in Cumberland was Hugh MacMillan, a member of Troop No. 13, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church.

Cumberland has a total of thirty-seven Eagle Scouts of the 100 in the council. Westernport has seventeen; Oakland, sixteen; Keyser, W. Va., fourteen; Frostburg, seven; Piedmont, W. Va., four; Romney, W. Va., two; Luke, two; and Friendsville, one.

At the banquet tonight the Rev. Lionel Cromwell, pastor of the James Methodist church, Keyser, W. Va., will give the invocation.

Dr. Frank U. Davis, council president, will give the address of welcome. Jackson will outline the program for scouting in months to come.

Authorities Say Youths Admit Series of Baltimore Robberies

The trail of a scrap of paper found in a topcoat at the scene of an attempted robbery here in December, 1945, led last evening to the clearing by the Cumberland Police department of the theft of $3,600 from the Flurshutz furniture store here and admissions of guilt by the Baltimore youths to the robbery of at least five Baltimore establishments, police said.

The youths, who were arrested here Wednesday night, were identified by Detective Lt. R. Emmet Flynn as David Turner, 18, 629 Calvert street, Baltimore, and Joseph Deetz, 22, 825 Jackson street, Baltimore. They will be questioned today at the state's attorney's office concerning the furniture store robbery which police said was one of the largest robberies ever reported in this city.

Lt. Flynn said that when Turner was questioned last evening concerning the Flurshutz robbery here in April, he admitted, in a signed statement, that he and Deetz left Baltimore by train April 1 and came to this city.

Turner told police he and Deetz went to the home of the latter's father on 208 Frederick street the night of April 13 and stayed there until early Sunday morning.

Rob Flurshutz Store

Police quoted Turner as saying that at 3:30 a. m., April 14, they went to the rear of the Flurshutz store, squeezed between the shutters and entered the building through an open window.

Turner related, Lt. Flynn said, that he and Deetz first went to the second floor of the building but "could find nothing" and then noticed that the safe at the rear of the first floor was open.

In his statement, Turner related that he and Deetz took the money out of the safe and added that he got only $6 from a box in the vault. He added, police said, that he did not know until they were on the train riding to Baltimore that Deetz had secured $3,600 as his share of the loot. Turner added that Deetz gave him $1,800 as his share.

Police said Deetz had $118 in his possession when he was arrested at the home of his father on Frederick street by Lt. Flynn, Detective Thomas J. See and Officers J. Carl Stouffer and John W. Snyder.

Spent Loot "Foolishly"

Part of the loot, however, was represented by a 1941 Buick sedan they were driving when apprehended here. Turner told police he had spent $700 and Deetz $600 for a Studebaker car they purchased in Baltimore April 15.

The first car, police said, was sold in Warren, Ohio, and replaced by the Studebaker which they bought there on April 25. The car was heavily loaded with luggage and included a complete set of burglar's tools.

Although the car was searched carefully police were unable to find any weapons the pair might have used.

Turner admitted, upon questioning, that he and Deetz entered the Western Union office here on the night of December 10, 1945, after cutting tar paper off the roof of the building and then crawling through a ventilator.

Were Scared Away

Lt. Flynn quoted Turner as saying that while they were in the act of breaking the safe at the rear of the building the janitor entered and scared them away. The youths fled by way of the front door but left behind a topcoat.

Turner's name, Lt. Flynn said, was written upon a piece of paper found in one of the pockets of the garment. Police said both concurred in the story of the Western Union job.

This, Assistant Chief of Police John J. Treiber said, started us on the trail which led to the arrest of Turner and Deetz for the Flurshutz robbery here.

Turner told police he and Deetz also robbed the Acme market, the Metropolitan and Linden theaters, had twice robbed the Arcade bowling alley and the Public Service store, all of Baltimore, and had looted a Baltimore novelty store they could not identify.

Turner added that they had broken into the Walbrook theater in Baltimore but had been scared away

Three Ex-Servicemen To Take Tests For High School Equivalence Papers

Certificates Will Be Given if Examinations Are Passed Successfully

Three former servicemen including an infantry captain and sergeant will be among those who will start a solid two-day schedule of examinations for high school equivalence certificates at the administration building of the board of education this morning.

According to Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools, who will administer the tests, the exams are "plenty tough" and most comprehensive — covering all subjects taught in a four-year high school course including English literature, English usage, mathematics, science and social studies. The exams, one after the other, will be given from 9 a. m., to 4 p. m., both today and tomorrow under the auspices of the state board of education. If passed successfully, equivalence certificates are issued which have the same status with college entrance boards as diplomas from accredited high schools.

Former Captain in Group

Included in today's group who will "sweat out" the tests will be Earl W. Hymes, 28, LaVale, a spinner at Celanese, who served as an operations and training staff captain with the Ninety-eighth infantry division. Prior to the war he attended Allegany high school for two years.

Another applicant for a certificate will be William A. Bender, 12 Smith street, a former sergeant in the United States Army, who attended Allegany high school prior to the war. Another former soldier scheduled for the exams is Robert Joseph Malamphy, Allegany Grove, who attended Allegany high.

Asked how former soldiers generally made out on the equivalence tests, Rizer said many of them hit the mathematics and science subjects like a D-Day landing but do less well with English and word usage."

Rizer cited the case of one Cumberland veteran who made ninety-nine per cent in science, ninety-eight per cent in mathematics, just passed English literature and failed English usage.

Outstanding in Science

"This chap worked with radar and radio in the army and he knew his math and science cold," Rizer said. "But he was less proficient in such subjects as literature and he completely failed English usage. He knew how to use words and sentences correctly but he didn't know why he used them that way. But this man's score in math and science was outstanding in the whole country."

Others scheduled to start taking the tests this morning are Royce Russell Johnson, Cumberland, who attended Fort Hill for two years, and Eugene Howard Herman, 6 Altamont terrace.

Retail Clerks Say They Will Picket Peskin's Store Today

Five picketing permits were issued yesterday afternoon for the use of members of Local 654, Retail Clerks Protective Association, in picketing Peskin's Shoe Store and William R. McGinnis, international representative, said the union would begin to picket the store as soon as permits are issued.

The union official said members of the union employed at the store are striking in protest of the discharge of four persons. Two of the employes, he added, were let out last week, another this week and the fourth was given notice as of Saturday.

Morton W. Peskin, store manager, last evening declared the store would operate in spite of the threatened picketing and said one of the clerks was discharged for insulting a customer while drunk. The other clerks, he added, were hired only for the Easter season and are no longer needed.

The store manager added that the clerk had been discharged previously for the same cause some time ago and that C. E. Stutzman, president of Allegany Trades Council, approved the discharge.

Boy Legislators Will Leave Today For Annapolis

Fourteen Hi-Y Delegates of Cumberland Area To Attend Sessions

Fourteen boy delegates will leave Cumberland by train and car early this morning for Annapolis, where they will attend a two-day "model legislature" sponsored by the Maryland YMCA youth and government program through Hi-Y clubs, according to Oscar I. Bergstrom, associate general secretary of Central YMCA.

Bergstrom will be the adult leader accompanying delegates representing the Fort Hill and Allegany Hi-Y organizations. They are William Linn, Robert Brotemarkle, Donald Screen and Lawrence Dickerhoff, president of the Fort Hill group; and Welch Hardman, president of the Allegany Hi-Y, William Robertson, and Gilbert Storey.

Other Cumberland boys in Bergstrom's group will be Robert Floyd and Stanley Bishop, representing the Rec club, and Charles Bujac, representing the Victory room club of Central YMCA.

Attended Training Session

Larry A. Patterson, science teacher at Bruce high school, Westernport, will be the adult leader in charge of the four boys attending the model legislature from the Bruce Hi-Y. They are Robert Roberts, John Kelley, Leo DiGiola, and David McIntyre.

The boys attended a pre-leigslative training session at the University of Maryland in March. Since that time they have been preparing bills for introduction at the two-day session today and tomorrow in Annapolis. Of the ninety bills to be introduced by the delegates from Hi-Y groups in the state, about ten have been prepared by local Hi-Y clubs, Bergstrom said.

Gov. Herbert R. O'Conor will speak at the general session opening the legislature at 3 p. m. today, and the boy governor, Leroy A. Rector, Baltimore, will be officially received. Approximately 159 boys will take part.

Rittase To Be Speaker At Camera Club Banquet

W. M. Rittase, well known Philadelphia photographer, will be guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Cumberland Camera Club May 20 at the Clary club.

Rittase will also judge the club's monthly black and white contest and will give a critique of the month's entries in terms of improving the work of the various members.

It was announced last night, that forty reservations have already been made for the club's annual banquet and that 8 p. m. today will be the deadline for making reservations. Members and others anxious to attend the affair should either make their reservations at Harvey's Jewelry store or call 3901-M.

Mother Charged With Murdering 6-year-old Son

Mrs. John Lougary Says She Beat Child in Fit of Insane Rage

By JAMES B. CRAIG

A sobbing, hysterical mother who screamed "Oh my God, what have I done," yesterday cracked under police pressure and admitted to having beaten her 6-year-old son a few minutes before he died last Wednesday a few hundred yards from the school bus in which the family lives near Independence.

Mrs. John Lougary, 26, her hair disheveled and her eyes red from crying, confessed to beating her son, Wesley Leroy Lougary, in a fit of insane rage because the child "dirtied himself." She told officers she lost all control of herself and rained blow after blow on her son, first with a switch "and I don't know with what else."

Following the confession, Mrs. Lougary, who is five months with child, was formally charged with first degree murder by Prosecutor William T. George Jr., Barbour county, and she was being held in the jail at Philippi tonight although George intimated that he would remove her to Fairmont or the Taylor county jail.

Feeling Running High

"Feeling is running pretty high down here," George admitted today. "You remember, the dead child was taken from his parents when he was 2½ because they chained him up in an attic. Folks haven't forgotten that. They keep coming here to the jail and staring and just a few minutes ago I sent Forman and Ancell (Sheriff J. N. Forman and Sgt. H. D. Ancell of the state police) to Independence to kind of quiet folks down up there. Oh, I'm not anticipating any trouble. The Taylor county jail is better than ours anyway, for a woman at least. And at Fairmont she would have the use of the hospital, of course."

Prosecutor George, a kindly, humane individual who said he didn't much relish the task he faces, said he realized the matter was placed squarely in his lap Saturday when an inquest jury ruled that the child met death by violence at the hands of a party or parties unknown.

"We were pretty sure what we had to do," the prosecutor said, "so today we had the father come in although we were quite certain he didn't have anything to do with it."

John Lougary, a tall, somber man who was described as "quiet and steady" by his neighbors, denied knowing anything about the matter and obviously was grieving over the child's untimely end.

"When we showed him the photographs of the child's bruised and beaten body a great look of surprise came over his face and he seemed to be startled," George said. "He hadn't seen those pictures before. But after that he became very quiet and said very little.

Jailed Lougary

"It was really a bluff, but we told him we would have to charge him with murder," George said. "All he said was that he did not do it and

Mrs. Daisy Bohrer Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Daisy Bohrer, 65, wife of Heward Bohrer, Route 2, Baltimore Pike, died yesterday afternoon at 1:55 o'clock in Allegany hospital where she was admitted April 23.

She was a native of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., but had been a resident of this city for forty-six years.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles Moses, this city, and Mrs. Sarah Smith, Bean's Cove, Pa.; one son, Boyd F. Bohrer, this city; a sister, Mrs. Floyd Dailey, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., and four grandchildren.

The body is at the home of her son, Boyd Bohrer, 227 Arch street. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Assembly of God church, North Cumberland, by the pastor, the Rev. J. L. Stewart. Interment will be in Rose Hill cemetery.

WILLIAM KELLY RITES

Funeral services for William A. Kelly, 49, 108 Columbia street, who died Monday in Allegany hospital, were conducted yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic church. The Rev. Thomas A. Hardesty, assistant pastor, was the celebrant of the requiem mass and interment was in the church cemetery.

Pallbearers were John Hager, George Kastner, Gilbert and James Markwood, William E. Jenkins and Charles Poland.

McCLEAVE RITES

Funeral services for R. Hugh McCleave, 83, 404 Decatur street, a Cumberland attorney for fifty years, who died Wednesday in Memorial hospital, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Kight funeral home.

The Rev. Louis W. Ewald, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal church, will officiate and interment will be in Rose Hill cemetery.

MRS. FULLER RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Rosa L. Fuller, 76, widow of Howard M. Fuller, former city clerk and register of wills of Allegany county, who died Tuesday evening at her home, 53 Greene street, will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the George funeral home.

The Rev. Dr. Walter M. Michael, pastor of Centre Street Methodist church will officiate and interment will be in Rose Hill cemetery.

WALTER DENT RICHTER

LONACONING, May 9 — Walter Dent Richter, 77, a retired carpenter, died today at 12:15 a. m. at his home, Scotch hill, after a short illness.

A native of Newburg, W. Va., Mr. Richter was a son of the late Frederick and Elizabeth Hunt Richter. He had been a resident of Lonaconing for sixty-two years. His wife,

1,500 B. & O. Men Face Furlough Here Monday

Fuel Shortage and Embargo Cuts Work at Roundhouse, Bolt and Forge and Back Shops

Upwards of 1,500 maintenance, production and mechanical department employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company here will be furloughed Monday, and the bolt and forge shops, back shops, roundhouse, and mechanical departments will be practically reduced to a standstill, H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland division, said late last night.

Notices have been posted informing railroad men of the curtailment in operations and of the furlough. The reason, according to Wyatt, is the reduction ordered by the federal government due to the shut-down of coal mines and the resulting fuel shortage.

There is no indication when furloughed workers will be recalled since United Mine Workers officials and coal operators are deadlocked with no immediate settlement of the coal strike evident.

The force at the Cumberland roundhouse will be reduced on Monday to about 195 men, according to W. H. Longwell, division master mechanic. Longwell said last night that about 700 men are normally employed, but some were furloughed several days ago. He explained that this latest curtailment in operations affects about 600 mechanical department men along the Cumberland division.

Keep Only Skeleton Crews

At the backshops, Wyatt explained, where A. H. Bennett is superintendent, there are about 550 to 600 men normally employed. This force will be reduced to about 125 men who will remain to finish up work now underway and to maintain the plant. The shop will be practically shut down.

Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the bolt and forge shops, stated 329 men are listed for furlough Monday, leaving only about 125 men to do necessary work on air brakes and maintain the plant.

Other furloughs in smaller departments have also been ordered, it was indicated, and there will be curtailment among transportation employes, although this plan has not been worked out.

Under the Office of Defense Transportation order reducing passenger traffic and placing an embargo on freight of various types, drastic curtailment of railroad operations became effective at midnight last night.

Keeping Ready To Roll

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad here has been doing everything possible to conserve fuel, and at the same time is keeping its equipment in shape to roll immediately when the "squeeze" is ended, Wyatt said last night.

This is the only reason it is possible to keep men working at all in some departments, he explained. With operations reduced in face of the fuel shortage, and reductions in use of trains, fewer persons are needed for operation. However, he said, such work as can be continued is to be completed, and equipment in use is being kept servicable for high speed operation when coal starts to move from mines to industry, railroads and consumers.

Unless some settlement looms in the coal strike situation, further reduction about May 15, is anticipated, it is claimed.

Diesels Do Double Duty

He explained the railroad has three large Diesel engines of four units each, used normally for freight hauling between Willard, Ohio, Cumberland and Philadelphia, Pa. Three more similar engines are used between Washington, Indiana and Cumberland.

These six Diesels have been split in half, making twelve two-unit Diesels, which will double the number of trains they can move. This

Textile Workers Empower Strike On Wage Demand

Members of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, at meetings Wednesday evening and yesterday morning empowered the union's negotiating committee and executive board to call a strike to enforce the union's demand for a flat eight cent wage increase for the 8,500 odd union members employed at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America, union officials reported yesterday.

Wage negotiations will be resumed this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Celanese plant and will be in charge of James A. Holden, federal conciliator, who has assisted in the settlement of most of the wage disputes in this area in recent years.

Reject Wage Offer

William Boyd Coleman, union president, yesterday reported that the membership of the union voted unanimously to reject a wage increase on a percentage basis at the two meetings.

The union officials said the union is seeking a flat eight cent wage boost for all employes but that the company offer was for increases on a percentage basis.

The recent company offer, union officials added, was widened over a five per cent increase offered several weeks ago and rejected by the union, but the new offer was turned down as a matter of policy.

No date may be set for the strike, however, prior to two general membership meetings scheduled May 15 and 16 to hear complete reports on the final negotiations May 14 and 15 which will be attended by Wesley Cook, New York, assistant director of the rayon division of the union.

The union also reported yesterday that 1,000 workers in the warp knitting, dyehouse, and cafeteria departments, and janitors, sweepers and washroom attendants, who were excluded in the first offer of a five per cent wage increase by the company, were included in the new company offer.

Woman Is Charged With Obtaining Two Allotments

U. S. District Court in Baltimore Acts in Stierstorfer Case

Mrs. Mary Lee Stierstorfer, 26, North Mechanic street, was charged in United States District Court in Baltimore yesterday with unlawfully obtaining servicemen's allotments from two servicemen, one her present husband and the other a former husband.

According to federal authorities here, the young woman was also known as Mary Lee Poling, divorced wife of Russell L. Poling, also of this city.

Her present husband, Homer Harry Stierstorfer, a local bus driver, faces a criminal charge of aiding and abetting his wife in obtaining the allotment, federal authorities said.

According to criminal informations filed in the Baltimore court, Mrs. Stierstorfer is charged in one count with unlawfully obtaining $930 between October 1942 and September 1943, while posing as the wife of Stierstorfer and the mother of his child. United States attorneys said she married Stierstorfer last September.

A second count charges her with unlawfully obtaining $50 a month for three months as the wife of Russell L. Poling, from whom she had been divorced earlier.

Federal authorities said she married Poling in 1935 and separated from him several years later.

According to the charges, she did not marry Stierstorfer until after he returned from oveseas.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stierstorfer were questioned by the FBI and other federal authorities several months ago, and were arraigned before United States Commissioner Wilbur V. Wilson. No information was released at the time on the case, until it could be reviewed by United States officials in Baltimore. Commissioner Wilson released them under bond of $500 at the time, pending action by the federal grand jury.

Victim of Accident Is in Critical Condition

Charles Harbert, 28, Hyndman, injured early yesterday morning when the car in which he was riding crashed against an embankment and overturned two miles south of Hyndman, was reported in "critical" condition last night at Allegany hospital.

Harbert was admitted to the hospital at 1 a. m. yesterday with a possible broken back, a fractured left arm and facial lacerations. An occupant of Harbert's car, Russell Smeak, 20, Hyndman, received bruises of the neck and face lacerations. He was admitted to Memorial hospital where his condition was reported as "good."

The two men were en route to Hyndman from Cumberland when the accident occurred shortly after midnight. State police at Bedford, Pa., are investigating the wreck.

K of C Will Convene Here This Weekend

The forty-eighth annual convention of the Maryland State Council of the Knights of Columbus will be held here Saturday and Sunday with headquarters in the Algonquin hotel. More than 130 delegates and visitors are expected with Cumberland Council No. 586 acting as host organization for the fourth time in its history.

The Rev. William F. Culhane, vice president of Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, will give the principal address at a banquet to be held tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. in the Queen City hotel. William C. Walsh, former attorney general, will be toastmaster.

Charges Are Dropped

County's Veteran Training Program Is Termed Outstanding in State

Glenn D. Brown Also Praises Adult Education Plan Here

Following a two-day inspection tour in Allegany county, Glenn D. Brown, assistant director of vocational education and supervisor of industrial education for the state board of education, told the News yesterday that the adult education and veteran training programs in the county are "outstanding in the state."

Brown declared there was nothing to compare with the local program in other counties in the state and said the directors of educational policy in Allegany county have discovered that what were considered war emergency needs are actually continuing needs and referred specifically to the work in food processing and preservation, farm machinery instruction, and the recently launched school for veterans.

School "Meets the Bill"

"It may be that other educators have also discovered that emergency needs during the war are actually continuing needs but it is significent that Allegany county is actually the only county in the state that has done anything about it," Brown said.

Speaking of the trades school headed by R. N. Alexander under the sponsorship of the school board, Brown said the instructors are well qualified and that the school is "meeting the bill." He said he saw no reason why veterans from other counties could not be sent here for instruction providing present facilities could be expanded.

Superintendent Charles L. Kopp said yesterday that the former NYA building used as headquarters for the school could well be expanded provided funds were so that the interests of other veterans could be met. The combined schools, the trade school and the ICS night school, now have a total of 185 students.

Equipment Is Scarce

Alexander said yesterday the school will soon go over the 100 mark providing necessary equipment, mainly tools and electrical equipment, is secured. Electrical equipment at present is especially hard to get, he said.

Speaking of the program as a whole, Brown said the scope and diversity of the undertaking astonished him and said the county is obviously making better use of available funds than other localities.

"There has been careful planning here," Brown said. "The program is well conceived with relationship to the community needs and the whole community pattern."

Price Is Accused Of Manslaughter In Fatal Crash

Lone Survivor of Four Men Is Released under Bond of $500

Carl Wilson Price, 33, Little Orleans, the only survivor of an accident east of here Friday night in which three men were fatally burned when a gasoline tank exploded, was arraigned in trial magistrate's court yesterday on a charge of manslaughter by automobile and released under bonod of $500 for the October term of circuit court.

Price was released from Allegany hospital late Wednesday afternoon, and when he appeared in court yesterday wore heavy bandages over his right hand and arm and about his face and head.

Prior to his arraignment in court, Price was questioned by State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris, and made a signed statement regarding details of the fatal crash.

Unloaded Pulp Wood

He said he has been residing at the home of Philip Fletcher and family at Little Orleans. On Friday, he was taking a load of pulp wood to Hancock to unload, and Fletcher, who was not busy that day, accompanied him to Hancock where a sister resides. After leaving Fletcher at his sister's home, Price proceeded to unload the pulp wood, went uptown and got a haircut and then picked up Fletcher and started home.

The pair stopped, according to the statement, at Hixon's on Sideling mountain where Price says he consumed two of three bottles of beer. He said he believed Fletcher did not drink any beer.

They proceeded toward home, with Price driving the truck, he said, and about 100 feet west of Belle Grove cabins the accident occurred. At this point, Price said in his statement, the road is straight and fairly flat. However, a light rain was falling and just before his truck crashed against the Buick car owned by Ezra James Watson, 77, Little Orleans, Price claims a car, going eastward, approached his truck, blinding him with bright headlights. He did not see the Buick alongside the road until just an instant before the crash, he stated.

Price says he applied his brakes and slowed the truck from about thirty miles per hour to about twenty miles per hour before it struck the rear end of the Buick. At the same instant of the crash, he explained, there was a terrific explosion. Flaming gasoline was showered over Fletcher throungh the truck's windshield which was shattered by the crash. Some of the flaming fuel splashed over Price's right side, face and right hand and arm*, as evidenced by his burns, he declared.

In his statement he revealed how

Dr. Harold McNally To Be Instructor At Columbia

Dr. Harold C. McNally, director of veterans' education for the board of education, will go to New York city June 15 to become assistant professor of education in the Department of Education Administration at Columbia university.

Dr. McNally, who lives on Windsor road, the Dingle, with his wife and daughter, first came to Cumberland in 1940 as director of special education. He left in 1943 to enter the navy and saw three years of service in the Pacific as a combat intelligence officer. Returning the first part of this year, Dr. McNally was put in charge of veterans education.

He received his AB, MS and PhD degrees at Columbia university, had three years of work in Philadelphia and also attended Temple and Chicago university, completing a total of seven and a half years of college work.

Originally from Philadelphia, since living in Cumberland, Dr. McNally has interested himself in a number of pursuits other than his educational work. He instituted the reading program in the high schools, was Boy Scout commissioner prior to the war, was a member of the Allegany County Co-ordinating Council and more recently has become affiliated with Theatregate, the little theatre movement recently launched by Erica Donovan.

ATTACKED BY STRIKERS— Ray Glenwood Jenkins, 28, a farmer on the New Germany road, is pictured above at the spot where he said he was attacked by men in a cavalcade of 150 striking miners who were en route to the Burnwell Coal Company mine Wednesday. A World War II veteran, Jenkins was inducted into the armed forces June 18, 1941, and served in the Seven Hundred and Thirty-fifth aircraft warning battallion of the United States Signal Corps. He was discharged last September after serving in Alaska and the Aleutians. Jenkins said he was returning to his farm and was attacked after almost passing a string of fifteen cars carrying the striking miners.

Burnwell Firm's Garrett Mine Is Still Shut Down

No Arrests Reported in Attacks on Two Men by Striking Miners

The Burnwell Coal Company mine on New Germany road in Garrett county, closed Wednesday after a band of 150 striking miners from other parts of the country approached it, remained closed yesterday, but company officials said last night they will continue their efforts today to obtain police protection so that it can be reopened.

J. Fred Graves, president of the company, said he was not successful yesterday in contacting Neal C. Fraley, state's attorney for Garrett county, who was away from Oakland.

Graves said, however, that he will try to meet with Fraley today and that he expects to confer this morning with William C. Walsh, company attorney, about obtaining police protection.

John Keister, vice president and manager of the mining company, was dragged from his car and beaten by the mob of miners Wednesday as he was driving on the New Germany road from the mine to his home just outside of Grantsville, according to information Keister gave The Cumberland News Wednesday night.

Discharged Veteran Attacked

DAV Convention Opens Tonight; Parade Tomorrow

The Disabled American Veterans of Maryland will open their state convention here tonight, and will hold a street parade in the downtown section tomorrow evening at 7:15 o'clock.

While the convention formally opens tomorrow at 10 a. m. at Fort Cumberland hotel, an executive committee meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the hotel and registrations wil ibegin.

David S. McMillan, commander of Fort Washington Post No. 2, DAV, the host organization, has extended invitations to a number of local and state officials to participate.

Dow V. Walker, Newport, Ore., national commander, and Vivian Corbly, Cincinnati, O., national adjutant, will be here for the meeting tonight and will remain throughout the two-day celebration. Adolph C. Winkler, state commander, said meetings are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

With Thomas F. Conlon as marshall, the parade Saturday night will form at the Maryland State Armory, South Centre street, and will be made up of five divisions. The route of march will be from Centre to Bedford street, up Baltimore street to George street, thence to the armory.

Local, state and national officials will review the marchers from a reviewing stand at city hall. Mayor Thomas S. Post and members of the council have been invited to the reviewing stand.

Plans for the inauguration of Ladies Auxiliary to the local DAV post will be launched during the convention by Mabel Howard, national executive committeewoman; and Thelma Feighner, national employment chairman of the organization.

In the absence of an organized ladies auxiliary, four women have been named to the role of hostesses to the more than 200 delegates expected to attend the three-day event. They are Mrs. Ethel Leonard; Miss Gloria Sweitzer and Miss Mary A. England, all members of the auxiliary unit of Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Miss Helen V. Kerr, who was recently discharged from service in the auxiliary branch of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Members of Fort Washington Chapter have been instructed to assemble at the State Armory at 7 p. m. Saturday to form ranks for the parade which will be followed by a banquet at Central Y.M.C.A. for convention delegates and distinguished guests.

OPA Will Report To Local Bakers On Survey Results

County Bakery Operators Confer with Sugar Rationing Officer

Following a conference of representatives of county bakeries yesterday afternoon in the office of Mayor Thomas S. Post, Edward J. Driscoll, diestrict OPA sugar rationing officer, said that he will make a report to Leo H. McCormick, state OPA director, on the bread situation here, and that bakers will be advised as soon as possible on any action to be taken as a result of his findings.

Driscoll was accompanied here from Baltimore by Herbert W. Rutherford, ration currency control officer. Both representatives visited various bakeries in this area yesterday morning to study the situation at first hand.

Problems confronting local bakeries as outlined at the conference are as follows:

1. Insufficient supplies of flour, sugar and sugar substitutes to spply all of their customers with bread and rolls.

Expect Transient Trade

2. Increased numbers of potential customers, caused by the return of veterans from service; the return to Cumberland of families who moved away to work in war plants in other cities during the war; and the expectation of greater transient trade here, especially during the summer months, when tourists and vacationists will be coming through Cumberland and may stop for several days.

3. The withdrawal from this area last fall of the Harris-Boyer Baking Company, a retail firm which made door-to-door deliveries to families both in Cumberland and in neighboring sections.

Mayor J. Milton McIntyre of Westernport, manafer on McIntyre's bakery here, pointed out that other bakeries had to absorb Harris-Boy-

100 Eagle Scouts Will Be Honored At Event Today

One hundred Eagle scouts of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be guests of honor at 6:15 o'clock this evening at a leaders appreciation banquet and Eagle Scout parade at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, according to Kenneth E. Jackson, scout executive.

Since August, 1926, exactly 100 boys have attained the rank of Eagle Scout in this area, Jackson stated. The one hundredth Eagle is James Jack, of Troop No. 62, Westernport. He attained the rating March 7 of this year.

The first Eagle Scouts in this area were commissioned at Oakland, August 26, 1926, about a year before the local council was organized. These boys, now middle-aged men, are George Altstetter, McClelland Dixon, Guy Gregg and James A. Lee, all attaining the rating on that date. They were members of Troop No. 1, Oakland. Four days later, Thomas I. Gonder received his Eagle rating in the same troop. On September 21, 1926, Kenneth Stahl, another Troop No. 1 member, was advanced and two days later Robert Stemple became the eighth Eagle member of the original troop. Bernard Gonder, of Oakland, became an Eagle August 26, 1927.

The first Eagle scout commissioned in Cumberland was Hugh MacMillan, a member of Troop No. 13, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church.

Cumberland has a total of thirty-seven Eagle Scouts of the 100 in the council. Westernport has seventeen; Oakland, sixteen; Keyser, W. Va., fourteen; Frostburg, seven; Piedmont, W. Va., four; Romney, W. Va., two; Luke, two; and Friendsville, one.

At the banquet tonight the Rev. Lionel Cromwell, pastor of the James Methodist church, Keyser, W. Va., will give the invocation.

Dr. Frank U. Davis, council president, will give the address of welcome. Jackson will outline the program for scouting in months to come.

Dr. John L. Dunkle, Frostburg, will conduct the Eagle Scout ceremony and present awards.

Authorities Say Youths Admit Series of Baltimore Robberies

The trail of a scrap of paper found in a topcoat at the scene of an attempted robbery here in December, 1945, led last evening to the clearing by the Cumberland Police department of the theft of $3,600 from the Flurshutz furniture store here and admissions of guilt by the Baltimore youths to the robbery of at least five Baltimore establishments, police said.

The youths, who were arrested here Wednesday night, were identified by Detective Lt. R. Emmet Flynn as David Turner, 18, 629 Calvert street, Baltimore, and Joseph Deetz, 22, 825 Jackson street, Baltimore. They will be questioned today at the state's attorney's office concerning the furniture store robbery which police said was one of the largest robberies ever reported in this city.

Lt. Flynn said that when Turner was questioned last evening concerning the Flurshutz robbery here in April, he admitted, in a signed statement, that he and Deetz left Baltimore by train April 1 and came to this city.

Turner told police he and Deetz went to the home of the latter's father on 208 Frederick street the night of April 13 and stayed there until early Sunday morning.

Rob Flurshutz Store

Police quoted Turner as saying that at 3:30 a. m., April 14, they went to the rear of the Flurshutz store, squeezed between the shutters and entered the building through an open window.

Turner related, Lt. Flynn said, that he and Deetz first went to the second floor of the building but "could find nothing" and then noticed that the safe at the rear of the first floor was open.

In his statement, Turner related that he and Deetz took the money out of the safe and added that he got only $6 from a box in the vault. He added, police said, that he did not know until they were on the train riding to Baltimore that Deetz had secured $3,600 as his share of the loot. Turner added that Deetz gave him $1,800 as his share.

Police said Deetz had $118 in his possession when he was arrested at the home of his father on Frederick street by Lt. Flynn, Detective Thomas J. See and Officers J. Carl Stouffer and John W. Snyder.

Spent Loot "Foolishly"

Part of the loot, however, was represented by a 1941 Buick sedan they were driving when apprehended here. Turner told police he had spent $700 and Deetz $600 for a Studebaker car they purchased in Baltimore April 15.

The first car, police said, was sold in Warren, Ohio, and replaced by the Studebaker which they bought there on April 25. The car was heavily loaded with luggage and included a complete set of burglar's tools.

Although the car was searched carefully police were unable to find any weapons the pair might have used.

Turner admitted, upon questioning, that he and Deetz entered the Western Union office here on the night of December 10, 1945, after cutting tar paper off the roof of the building and then crawling through a ventilator.

Were Scared Away

Lt. Flynn quoted Turner as saying that while they were in the act of breaking the safe at the rear of the building the janitor entered and scared them away. The youths fled by way of the front door but left behind a topcoat.

Turner's name, Lt. Flynn said, was written upon a piece of paper found in one of the pockets of the garment. Police said both concurred in the story of the Western Union job.

This, Assistant Chief of Police John J. Treiber said, started us on the trail which led to the arrest of Turner and Deetz for the Flurshutz robbery here.

Turner told police he and Deetz also robbed the Acme market, the Metropolitan and Linden theaters, had twice robbed the Arcade bowling alley and the Public Service store, all of Baltimore, and had looted a Baltimore novelty store they could not identify.

Turner added that they had broken into the Walbrook theater in Baltimore but had been scared away

Three Ex-Servicemen To Take Tests For High School Equivalence Papers

Certificates Will Be Given if Examinations Are Passed Successfully

Three former servicemen including an infantry captain and sergeant will be among those who will start a solid two-day schedule of examinations for high school equivalence certificates at the administration building of the board of education this morning.

According to Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools, who will administer the tests, the exams are "plenty tough" and most comprehensive — covering all subjects taught in a four-year high school course including English literature, English usage, mathematics, science and social studies. The exams, one after the other, will be given from 9 a. m., to 4 p. m., both today and tomorrow under the auspices of the state board of education. If passed successfully, equivalence certificates are issued which have the same status with college entrance boards as diplomas from accredited high schools.

Former Captain in Group

Included in today's group who will "sweat out" the tests will be Earl W. Hymes, 28, LaVale, a spinner at Celanese, who served as an operations and training staff captain with the Ninety-eighth infantry division. Prior to the war he attended Allegany high school for two years.

Another applicant for a certificate will be William A. Bender, 12 Smith street, a former sergeant in the United States Army, who attended Allegany high school prior to the war. Another former soldier scheduled for the exams is Robert Joseph Malamphy, Allegany Grove, who attended Allegany high.

Asked how former soldiers generally made out on the equivalence tests, Rizer said many of them hit the mathematics and science subjects like a D-Day landing but do less well with English and word usage."

Rizer cited the case of one Cumberland veteran who made ninety-nine per cent in science, ninety-eight per cent in mathematics, just passed English literature and failed English usage.

Outstanding in Science

"This chap worked with radar and radio in the army and he knew his math and science cold," Rizer said. "But he was less proficient in such subjects as literature and he completely failed English usage. He knew how to use words and sentences correctly but he didn't know why he used them that way. But this man's score in math and science was outstanding in the whole country."

Others scheduled to start taking the tests this morning are Royce Russell Johnson, Cumberland, who attended Fort Hill for two years, and Eugene Howard Herman, 6 Altamont terrace.

Retail Clerks Say They Will Picket Peskin's Store Today

Five picketing permits were issued yesterday afternoon for the use of members of Local 654, Retail Clerks Protective Association, in picketing Peskin's Shoe Store and William R. McGinnis, international representative, said the union would begin to picket the store as soon as permits are issued.

The union official said members of the union employed at the store are striking in protest of the discharge of four persons. Two of the employes, he added, were let out last week, another this week and the fourth was given notice as of Saturday.

Morton W. Peskin, store manager, last evening declared the store would operate in spite of the threatened picketing and said one of the clerks was discharged for insulting a customer while drunk. The other clerks, he added, were hired only for the Easter season and are no longer needed.

The store manager added that the clerk had been discharged previously for the same cause some time ago and that C. E. Stutzman, president of Allegany Trades Council, approved the discharge.

Boy Legislators Will Leave Today For Annapolis

Fourteen Hi-Y Delegates of Cumberland Area To Attend Sessions

Fourteen boy delegates will leave Cumberland by train and car early this morning for Annapolis, where they will attend a two-day "model legislature" sponsored by the Maryland YMCA youth and government program through Hi-Y clubs, according to Oscar I. Bergstrom, associate general secretary of Central YMCA.

Bergstrom will be the adult leader accompanying delegates representing the Fort Hill and Allegany Hi-Y organizations. They are William Linn, Robert Brotemarkle, Donald Screen and Lawrence Dickerhoff, president of the Fort Hill group; and Welch Hardman, president of the Allegany Hi-Y, William Robertson, and Gilbert Storey.

Other Cumberland boys in Bergstrom's group will be Robert Floyd and Stanley Bishop, representing the Rec club, and Charles Bujac, representing the Victory room club of Central YMCA.

Attended Training Session

Larry A. Patterson, science teacher at Bruce high school, Westernport, will be the adult leader in charge of the four boys attending the model legislature from the Bruce Hi-Y. They are Robert Roberts, John Kelley, Leo DiGiola, and David McIntyre.

The boys attended a pre-leigslative training session at the University of Maryland in March. Since that time they have been preparing bills for introduction at the two-day session today and tomorrow in Annapolis. Of the ninety bills to be introduced by the delegates from Hi-Y groups in the state, about ten have been prepared by local Hi-Y clubs, Bergstrom said.

Gov. Herbert R. O'Conor will speak at the general session opening the legislature at 3 p. m. today, and the boy governor, Leroy A. Rector, Baltimore, will be officially received. Approximately 159 boys will take part.

Rittase To Be Speaker At Camera Club Banquet

W. M. Rittase, well known Philadelphia photographer, will be guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Cumberland Camera Club May 20 at the Clary club.

Rittase will also judge the club's monthly black and white contest and will give a critique of the month's entries in terms of improving the work of the various members.

It was announced last night, that forty reservations have already been made for the club's annual banquet and that 8 p. m. today will be the deadline for making reservations. Members and others anxious to attend the affair should either make their reservations at Harvey's jewelry store or call 3901-M.

Mother Charged With Murdering 6-year-old Son

Mrs. John Lougary Says She Beat Child in Fit of Insane Rage

By JAMES B. CRAIG

A sobbing, hysterical mother who screamed "Oh my God, what have I done," yesterday cracked under police pressure and admitted to having beaten her 6-year-old son a few minutes before he died last Wednesday a few hundred yards from the school bus in which the family lives near Independence.

Mrs. John Lougary, 26, her hair disheveled and her eyes red from crying, confessed to beating her son, Wesley Leroy Lougary, in a fit of insane rage because the child "dirtied himself." She told officers she lost all control of herself and rained blow after blow on her son, first with a switch "and I don't know with what else."

Following the confession, Mrs. Lougary, who is five months with child, was formally charged with first degree murder by Prosecutor William T. George Jr., Barbour county, and she was being held in the jail at Philippi tonight although George intimated that he would remove her to Fairmont or the Taylor county jail.

Feeling Running High

"Feeling is running pretty high down here," George admitted today. "You remember, the dead child was taken from his parents when he was 2½ because they chained him up in an attic. Folks haven't forgotten that. They keep coming here to the jail and staring and just a few minutes ago I sent Forman and Ancell (Sheriff J. N. Forman and Sgt. H. D. Ancell of the state police) to Independence to kind of quiet folks down up there. Oh, I'm not anticipating any trouble. The Taylor county jail is better than ours anyway, for a woman at least. And at Fairmont she would have the use of the hospital, of course."

Prosecutor George, a kindly, humane individual who said he didn't much relish the task he faces, said he realized the matter was placed squarely in his lap Saturday when an inquest jury ruled that the child met death by violence at the hands of a party or parties unknown.

"We were pretty sure what we had to do," the prosecutor said, "so today we had the father come in although we were quite certain he didn't have anything to do with it."

John Lougary, a tall, somber man who was described as "quiet and steady" by his neighbors, denied knowing anything about the matter and obviously was grieving over the child's untimely end.

"When we showed him the photographs of the child's bruised and beaten body a great look of surprise came over his face and he seemed to be startled," George said. "He hadn't seen those pictures before. But after that he became very quiet and said very little.

Jailed Lougary

"It was really a bluff, but we told him we would have to charge him with murder," George said. "All he said was that he did not do it and
